Man Shovels Snow, Dies Of Over-Exertion

Schools In Hancock Open Wednesday; All Others Resume

An East Liverpool man died apparently of over-exertion shoveling snow Monday as a fatality from the weekend storm. Meanwhile, all Tri-State District schools but Hancock County's resumed today with roads cleared for school buses.

Services will be held Thursday for Walter W. Russell, 1528 Lisbon St., who was declared dead on arrival at City Hospital Monday afternoon at 12:25 after he was stricken while shoveling snow. He was 60.

Operator of a Lisbon St. confectionery for the past 2 years, he was employed previously at the Globe Brick Co. for 15 years.

Mr. Russell was born here June 6, 1899, a son of William E. and Mary Balmert Russell, and spent his lifetime in the city.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Doris Ann Russell; a son, William J. Russell of East Liverpool; three daughters, Mrs. Betty Davis and Mrs. Norma Jean Ollis of East Liverpool and Mrs. Juanita Miller of VanWert, and six grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Thursday morning at 10:30 at the Martin Funeral Home by Fr. Anthony Esposito of the St. Aloysius Catholic Church. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery. Friends may call Wednesday at the funeral home.

The Tri-State District was nearly back to normal after the foot-deep fall that came without warning Saturday night in a joker "valentine" of the weatherman but the cleanup may be retarded as occasional light snow is forecast for tonight.

Beaver County Staff Not To Get Pay Raises

BEAVER — County Commissioners Gordon Camp and James Ross and Controller James Tress agreed Monday there will be no general pay increase for county employes.

Despite an austerity program, however, observers said it appears the real estate millage will be increased by 2 or 2½ mills from the present 9-mill rate.

Observers said 1 mill will be needed to meet state-mandated increases in pay for jurors, tax collectors, assessors and county officials along with higher mileage rates.

The additional 1½ mills will be needed for the county home and hospital.

Although no general increases will be given, commissioners said it will be necessary to rectify some inequities in the salaries of registered nurses at the county home and hospital to meet outside competition.

Commissioners also agreed there will be no major capital improvements this year.

Fund To Fight Gas Rate Hike Gets Approval

Council gave informal approval Monday night to Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper's request that it provide approximately $960 as East Liverpool's share of a "war chest" being raised by 8 riverfront communities to fight a rate increase sought by the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Profits Up For Gas Company's 'Parent'

NEW YORK, (AP) — Columbia Gas System, Inc. today reported profit advanced to $40,377,000, or $1.42 a share, last year. In 1958, the natural gas holding company netted $38,087,000, or $1.14 a share on fewer outstanding shares.

Columbia's gross revenue last year reached a record $465,071,000, up from the $425,780,000 collected in 1958. Natural gas sales rose to a record of almost 736 billion cubic feet from 699 billion.

The company has budgeted about $100 million for new construction this year. Last year, it spent $97 million.

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. and the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. are affiliates of Columbia Gas.

Cooper explained to Council the decision to raise approximately $4,000 was reached at a meeting of city solicitors of the 8 communities last Thursday in Steubenville. Each city or village will contribute on the basis of 4 cents per capita to provide a fund with which experts can be hired to lead the fight before the Public Utilities Commission, Cooper said.

Steubenville, as the largest of the 8 communities, will pay the biggest share of the cost — approximately $1,200 to $1,300, the solicitor said. Each community's contribution will be based on the 1950 federal census, he explained.

Cooper said the request for $960 is a tentative figure, explaining: "We may need more and we may need less."

The utility filed its request Jan. 4, asking new rates that would mean boosts of approximately 16 per cent for customers who heat their homes with gas. The firm serves about 43,000 customers in the 5-county Steubenville District, including 11,000 in East Liverpool and Wellsville.

Other communities joining in the protest are Wellsville, Bellaire, Martins Ferry, Mingo Junction, Toronto and Yorkville.

After hearing the solicitor's request, Council gave informal approval and indicated East Liverpool's share of the "war chest" probably will be provided in the annual appropriation ordinance.

"We need a specialist to help present our case to the PUCO," Cooper told Council. "The gas company has a multitude of experts to help argue its case."

Miss Tregoff Denies Part In Finch Murder

'Absolutely Not,' Model Testifies As She Takes Stand

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pretty Carole Tregoff has testified she did not kill or plan to kill Barbara Jean Finch.

The 23-year-old ex-model and Dr. R. Bernard Finch are charged with murder and conspiracy in the shooting of his wife.

Making her first appearance on the witness stand Monday, Miss Tregoff was asked by her attorney, Robert A. Neeb Jr.:

"Did you on or about July 18, 1959, kill Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch?"

Her voice low, she replied: "Absolutely not."

Neeb asked her eleven questions concerning the main part of the state's case against her: That she and the doctor tried to hire an underworld character to kill Mrs. Finch, and, when this failed, they went from Las Vegas, Nev., where she was staying, to the Finch home in West Covina, a Los Angeles suburb, to kill the woman.

Miss Tregoff denied all the state's allegations.

In prosecution cross-examination, Carole testified she and the doctor tried to talk to his wife about a divorce, but that Mrs. Finch refused to discuss it.

"What happened next?" the prosecutor asked.

"The next thing that happened, she had a gun."

"How long after she said she didn't want to talk to you was it before you saw this gun?"

Tears came to Carole's eyes.

"Just in time for her to turn around, take the gun out of the car and turn around," she replied.

Then Miss Tregoff cried.

Chief Asks Authority For 5th 'Meter Maid'

Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi asked Council Monday night to consider appointing a fifth "Meter Maid" to assure that parking regulations can be checked consistently.

More than 100 meters have been added to the system in recent months — an increase from 475 to more than 600, the chief said in a letter to Council. The "Meter Maid" force was established about three years ago.

Of the four women parking meter attendants, three now are on duty on the streets and one remains in the office at City Hall to receive penalties and answer complaints, the chief said. But because the women are on a 40-hour week, not more than 2 ever are available for outside duty, he added.

Council referred the request to its finance committee.

Argentina Insists Still Chasing Sub

Public Offers Many Theories; Growing Belief It Escaped

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine navy insisted today it is still chasing a submarine in the Golfo Nuevo. A skeptical public came up with a multitude of theories in the absence of a capture and there was growing belief the sub had escaped.

Speculation varied widely as to the identity of the phantom visitor pursued in the 40-by-20-mile gulf on the south Argentine coast for 18 days. Here are a few guesses voiced by the man in the street:

1. A Soviet sub scouting Argentine naval bases in case of war with the United States and a need to invade South America. Argentina maintains a base at Puerto Madryn, at the head of the gulf.

2. A U.S. sub trying to impress Argentina she is defenseless against underwater attack and should sign a mutual defense pact with the United States.

3. A smuggling ring's craft transporting American cigarettes, whisky and ball point pens.

4. The sub is carrying high Nazis—perhaps Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun—who have been hiding on a desert island since World War II.

5. A Soviet sub landing agents to assassinate President Eisenhower on his coming trip to Argentina.

The navy still insisted there was a strange submarine in the gulf 650 miles southwest of Buenos Aires and claimed its ships and planes were continuing the campaign to bring the intruder to the surface.

Two days ago the Navy Ministry promised the phantom sub would be captured or sunk "within a matter of hours." Monday defense minister Justo Villar admitted it was possible the intruder had slipped out of the gulf despite a navy blockade patrol across the 10-mile-wide mouth.

A feeling began to spread that there may never have been a submarine there in the first place.

Freak Mishap Damages Auto

Car Goes Over Curb When Rig Hits Door

A parked auto was shoved onto the sidewalk on Market St. near 5th St. Thursday at 5:15 p. m. when an open door was caught by one of the rear wheels of a passing tractor-trailer rig, police reported.

Ralph A. Morgan of Maine Blvd., owner of the 1955 sedan, told police he got into his car on the east side of the street and was closing the door when it was caught by one of the wheels of a northbound tractor-trailer owned by the Davis Trucking Co. of Newell, which was beginning to move again after halting for the traffic light at 5th and Market Sts.

The door was pulled out of position and the car was shoved onto the sidewalk, police said. The left front door and the right front fender of the auto were damaged. There was no damage to the big rig, which was operated by George Barton, 34, of 681 Spring Grove Ave., officers said.

A skid on slippery pavement was blamed for another mishap Monday at 3:56 p. m. at E. 3rd and College Sts.

The crash involved a 1954 sedan driven by William R. Metts, 26, of 229-A Washington St., Newell, and a 1951 coupe operated by Walter W. Kelly, 58, of 411 Jefferson St., Newell, police said.

Metts was westbound on E. 3rd and Kelly was headed south on College when his car skidded into the Metts auto, police said. Kelly told police he was unable to halt because the College St. grade was

Keating Captains GOP Move

Parties Jockey For Edge In Senate 'Rights' Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — With both parties jockeying for political advantage, Republicans sought today to force President Eisenhower's civil rights program out of the Democratic-controlled Senate Judiciary Committee.

This move, captained by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), was clearly marked for failure. But it promised to call at least fleeting attention to GOP support for the passage of legislation to protect the rights of minorities.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas stole the show Monday with a characteristically neat parliamentary maneuver that caught the Senate by surprise.

Johnson got unanimous approval to bring up a harmless looking bill to authorize the Stella, Mo., country school to use quarters in Ft. Crowder rent free.

Then he announced this unrelated maesure would become the vehicle for civil rights amendments — a procedure necessary to raise the civil rights issue because the Judiciary Committee has not acted on a bill.

Advance speculation had centered on another House-passed bill as the vehicle. The surprise switch deprived Southern opponents of a chance to filibuster any motion to bring up a bill. Then the battle was on.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), leading the Southern opposition, said he was surprised and chagrined at Johnson's choice. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), a civil rights supporter, said the maneuver smacked of subterfuge. He contended civil rights should be considered in a separate measure.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, supporting Johnson's move, said civil rights is an issue "with which we have to come to grips."

Slot Machine Owners Stay On 'Hot Seat'

It'll Take 3 Weeks To Decide Whether U.S. Will Prosecute

Thirty Northern Panhandle location owners whose slot and pinball machines were seized by raiding Internal Revenue Service agents last month may learn within three weeks whether or not they face criminal charges.

An IRS official in Wheeling said Monday that reports suggesting whether criminal action is recommended should be ready for IRS agents in Parkersburg within that time.

Upon review by Parkersburg agents and Charles E. Maerker, chief of the IRS Intelligence Division in West Virginia, the reports will be forwarded to the regional commissioner in Cincinnati with their recommendations.

The regional commissioner will then list his recommendations and submit them to the regional counsel. The reports will utimately be sent to the U. S. attorney for the Northern District of West Virginia, who will make the final decision.

The IRS plans to advertise in Wheeling area newspaper, probably within a week, notifying loca-

Grand Jury Resumes Wheeling Vice Quiz

WHEELING — Reports of widespread vice in Wheeling and Ohio County were scheduled to be aired again today by the Grand Jury. It was a resumption of hearings on the matter, two of which were held last week.

There were four special witnesses scheduled to go before the panel. One is Harry Hamm, editor of the evening Wheeling News-Register. The other three are Sheriff Warren Pugh, Wheeling City Manager James C. Boyd and Police Chief M. A. Baumann.

The News-Register has been a leader in citing alleged law violations. An organized blast from several Wheeling pulpits led to a cleanup crusade and several ministers have testified.

Situation Unchanged As Queen Awaits Baby

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II, awaiting the birth of her third child, must wait a while longer. Three of her doctors visited her today and found the royal situation unchanged.

The physicians — Lord Evans, Sir John Weir, and obstetrician John H. Peel—slipped into Buckingham Palace through a back door for the examination of their 33-year-old patient. Just as silently, they slipped out.

When the time comes for action they will take with them a fourth, Dr. Vernon Hall, anesthetist. Guessing is that this will be any time from Wednesday to Saturday.

Woman Fined In City's Drive On Old Tickets

Mrs. Mary Metz of Dairy Rd., one of the operators of the Metz Fur Co. on W. 5th St., was fined $11 and $6 costs today in Municipal Court as "Meter Maids" opened a drive to hale before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff the motorists who ignored parking tickets issued in 1959.

Warrants will be prepared for about 18 others who did not settle for the tickets at the time they were issued and ignored summonses which were mailed to them recently, warning they would be haled into court if the fines were not paid, the "Meter Maid" office said. Data already has been given to the court for preparation of warrants against five others.

Mrs. Metz, served with a warrant yesterday, appeared in court in mid-morning after a mixup in her scheduled appearance time. Police said she was cited to appear at 9, the usual criminal court time, but she did not appear. Judge Chertoff told police they should have required Mrs. Metz to post a $75 bond — approximately $5 for each of the old tickets she allegedly held — and instructed officers to require bonds in the future in such cases.

Mrs. Metz was charged specifically with parking Jan. 22 in W. Drury Ln. between Market St. and Peach Alley, a prohibited zone. A "Meter Maid" notation at the bottom of the affidavit said she had been issued 13 other tickets which were unpaid.

Woman Dies From Burns

Invalid Claimed In Midland Home Fire

A Midland invalid died early this morning at Rochester General Hospital from burns received 12 hours earlier in a fire at her home.

Mrs. Mary Gray, 48, of 463 Wood Lane Alley suffered burns over 75 per cent of her body, Midland firemen said.

She was rushed to the hospital Monday afternoon but died at 3 a. m. today. Hospital officials said she had extensive second and third degree burns.

Firemen said Mrs. Gray, who was partially paralyzed and a mute, was sitting in a chair near a window.

They theorized that she was smoking a cigarette and it either dropped into the chair and clothing or into a waste basket nearby. Her husband, Claude Gray, was at work at the Presentation Catholic Church.

Neighbors spotted smoke and called police and firemen at 3:20 p. m.

Mrs. Gray had lived in the Midland area for many years and formerly resided in Industry Township.

Her husband is her only survivor.

City To Clean Snow Without Extra Expense

Mayor Tells Council He Hopes To Avoid Hiring Equipment

The city hopes to complete the job of removing the weekend's snow without hiring heavy equipment and operators, which would deplete street department funds heavily, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet told Council Monday night.

With both street and incinerator department crews at work on snow cleanup — a total of about 49 men — the administration hopes traffic and parking will be back to near normal within a few days, the mayor said.

"We're hoping, too, for an assist from mother nature—some warmer temperatures to help melt the snow," Goodballet said. However, if there is a new accumulation of deep snow on top of the present 12-inch fall, the city may be forced to hire extra equipment as an emergency measure, he added. Occasional light snow is forecast tonight.

Street department crews went to work at 11 last night in the business district, continuing the snow removal job that has gone on with few interruptions since Saturday at 6 p. m., the mayor said. The incinerator crew, pressed into service to help in the emergency, was to report for duty this morning for work on secondary streets, Goodballet said.

Six city trucks, a highlift, a grader and a crew of 20 to 25 men were at work today clearing away snow from the center of the business district.

The scraper was used to shove the snow from the curb toward the center of the street, then the highlift and the shovel crews loaded it onto trucks. By mid-morning, snow had been cleared from E. 6th St. between Jackson St. and Washington St. and Washington St. between E. 6th St. and E. 5th St. The crew was at work on E. 5th St. near the Diamond, moving westward.

The snow also had been removed from the two city-operated metered parking lots on W. 6th St. near City Hall. Shovel crews were at work in alleys in the

Salineville District Road Will Be Improved

Widening and resurfacing of Route 644 for 5 miles between Salineville and Summitville at a cost of some $135,000 is slated as part of the 1960 road program of Division 11, Ohio Highway Department.

About 68 miles of roadway are included in the proposed program for the division, which includes Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison, Belmont, Tuscarawas and Holmes Counties.

Total cost will be about $964,000, with the state providing $952,000 and the remainder by the municipalities affected.

The department also plans further work after the extent of the damage caused by spring thaws to highways is determined.

Exceeds '59 Program By $1 Billion

President Appeals To Legislators To Avoid Drastic Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $4,175,000,000 in new foreign aid funds to safeguard the free world against the "enormous power bloc of Communist imperialism."

The mutual security program is essential to world progress in freedom, he said in a special message to Congress.

The sum, nearly a billion dollars more than Congress voted last year, would be split up in this way: Two billion dollars for weapons aid to allies and $2,175,000,000 for economic and technical assistance.

In appealing to the legislators to avoid drastic cuts in the program, Eisenhower mentioned his 11-nation December goodwill tour to Asia, the Middle East and Europe.

"My recent travels impressed upon me even more strongly the fact that free men everywhere look to us, not with envy or malice but with hope and confidence that we will in the future, as in the past, be in the vanguard of those who believe in and will defend the right of the individual to enjoy the fruits of his labor in peace and in freedom," he said.

Eisenhower said that without the billions in foreign aid voted by Congress in the past 14 years, "the map of the world would be vastly different today because of communism's continuing threat."

The Soviet Union expressed an interest in measures to reduce the dangers of war during the past year, Eisenhower said.

"While its recent deportment and pronouncements suggest the possible opening of a somewhat less strained period in our relationships, the menace of Communist imperialism nevertheless still remains," he added.

The military power of the Soviet Union continues to grow. Increasingly important to free-world interests is the rate of growth of both military and economic power in Communist China.

"Evidence that this enormous bloc remains dedicated to the extension of Communist control over all people everywhere is found in Tibet, the Taiwan Straits, in Laos and along the Indian border."

Nixon Enters Primary Race In Wisconsin

MARINETTE, Wis. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will enter the Wisconsin presidential preference primary April 5, Harvey V. Higley of Marinette announced today.

Nixon wrote a letter to Higley, chairman of the Wisconsin Committee for Nixon for President. The vice president visited the state a week ago.

"I appreciate the generous sentiments which you expressed in your letter requesting consent for your committee to enter my name in the Wisconsin presidential primary, and I am pleased to accede to your request," Nixon wrote.

"It is my hope that your committee and members of both political parties will make an aggressive effort to get out a maximum vote among all the citizenry in both your primary and the general election."

Nixon is the third major candidate and the first Republican to enter the primary. Democratic hopefuls, Sens. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), entered last month.

Wisconsin voters will elect 31 delegates to the National Democratic Convention, while the state will send 30 delegates to the Republican National Convention.

A parked auto was shoved onto the sidewalk on Market St. near 5th St. Thursday at 5:15 p. m. when an open door was caught by one of the rear wheels of a passing tractor-trailer rig, police reported.

Ralph A. Morgan of Maine Blvd., owner of the 1955 sedan, told police he got into his car on the east side of the street and was closing the door when it was caught by one of the wheels of a northbound tractor-trailer owned by the Davis Trucking Co. of Newell, which was beginning to move again after halting for the traffic light at 5th and Market Sts.

The door was pulled out of position and the car was shoved onto the sidewalk, police said. The left front door and the right front fender of the auto were damaged. There was no damage to the big rig, which was operated by George Barton, 34, of 681 Spring Grove Ave., officers said.

A skid on slippery pavement was blamed for another mishap Monday at 3:56 p. m. at E. 3rd and College Sts.

The crash involved a 1954 sedan driven by William R. Metts, 26, of 229-A Washington St., Newell, and a 1951 coupe operated by Walter W. Kelly, 58, of 411 Jefferson St., Newell, police said.

Metts was westbound on E. 3rd and Kelly was headed south on College when his car skidded into the Metts auto, police said. Kelly told police he was unable to halt because the College St. grade was

Keating Captains GOP Move

Parties Jockey For Edge In Senate 'Rights' Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — With both parties jockeying for political advantage, Republicans sought today to force President Eisenhower's civil rights program out of the Democratic-controlled Senate Judiciary Committee.

This move, captained by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), was clearly marked for failure. But it promised to call at least fleeting attention to GOP support for the passage of legislation to protect the rights of minorities.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas stole the show Monday with a characteristically neat parliamentary maneuver that caught the Senate by surprise.

Johnson got unanimous approval to bring up a harmless looking bill to authorize the Stella, Mo., country school to use quarters in Ft. Crowder rent free.

Then he announced this unrelated maesure would become the vehicle for civil rights amendments — a procedure necessary to raise the civil rights issue because the Judiciary Committee has not acted on a bill.

Advance speculation had centered on another House-passed bill as the vehicle. The surprise switch deprived Southern opponents of a chance to filibuster any motion to bring up a bill. Then the battle was on.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), leading the Southern opposition, said he was surprised and chagrined at Johnson's choice. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), a civil rights supporter, said the maneuver smacked of subterfuge. He contended civil rights should be considered in a separate measure.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, supporting Johnson's move, said civil rights is an issue "with which we have to come to grips."

Slot Machine Owners Stay On 'Hot Seat'

It'll Take 3 Weeks To Decide Whether U.S. Will Prosecute

Thirty Northern Panhandle location owners whose slot and pinball machines were seized by raiding Internal Revenue Service agents last month may learn within three weeks whether or not they face criminal charges.

An IRS official in Wheeling said Monday that reports suggesting whether criminal action is recommended should be ready for IRS agents in Parkersburg within that time.

Upon review by Parkersburg agents and Charles E. Maerker, chief of the IRS Intelligence Division in West Virginia, the reports will be forwarded to the regional commissioner in Cincinnati with their recommendations.

The regional commissioner will then list his recommendations and submit them to the regional counsel. The reports will utimately be sent to the U. S. attorney for the Northern District of West Virginia, who will make the final decision.

The IRS plans to advertise in Wheeling area newspaper, probably within a week, notifying loca-

Grand Jury Resumes Wheeling Vice Quiz

WHEELING — Reports of widespread vice in Wheeling and Ohio County were scheduled to be aired again today by the Grand Jury. It was a resumption of hearings on the matter, two of which were held last week.

There were four special witnesses scheduled to go before the panel. One is Harry Hamm, editor of the evening Wheeling News-Register. The other three are Sheriff Warren Pugh, Wheeling City Manager James C. Boyd and Police Chief M. A. Baumann.

The News-Register has been a leader in citing alleged law violations. An organized blast from several Wheeling pulpits led to a cleanup crusade and several ministers have testified.

Situation Unchanged As Queen Awaits Baby

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II, awaiting the birth of her third child, must wait a while longer. Three of her doctors visited her today and found the royal situation unchanged.

The physicians — Lord Evans, Sir John Weir, and obstetrician John H. Peel—slipped into Buckingham Palace through a back door for the examination of their 33-year-old patient. Just as silently, they slipped out.

When the time comes for action they will take with them a fourth, Dr. Vernon Hall, anesthetist. Guessing is that this will be any time from Wednesday to Saturday.

Woman Fined In City's Drive On Old Tickets

Mrs. Mary Metz of Dairy Rd., one of the operators of the Metz Fur Co. on W. 5th St., was fined $11 and $6 costs today in Municipal Court as "Meter Maids" opened a drive to hale before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff the motorists who ignored parking tickets issued in 1959.

Warrants will be prepared for about 18 others who did not settle for the tickets at the time they were issued and ignored summonses which were mailed to them recently, warning they would be haled into court if the fines were not paid, the "Meter Maid" office said. Data already has been given to the court for preparation of warrants against five others.

Mrs. Metz, served with a warrant yesterday, appeared in court in mid-morning after a mixup in her scheduled appearance time. Police said she was cited to appear at 9, the usual criminal court time, but she did not appear. Judge Chertoff told police they should have required Mrs. Metz to post a $75 bond — approximately $5 for each of the old tickets she allegedly held — and instructed officers to require bonds in the future in such cases.

Mrs. Metz was charged specifically with parking Jan. 22 in W. Drury Ln. between Market St. and Peach Alley, a prohibited zone. A "Meter Maid" notation at the bottom of the affidavit said she had been issued 13 other tickets which were unpaid.

Woman Dies From Burns

Invalid Claimed In Midland Home Fire

A Midland invalid died early this morning at Rochester General Hospital from burns received 12 hours earlier in a fire at her home.

Mrs. Mary Gray, 48, of 463 Wood Lane Alley suffered burns over 75 per cent of her body, Midland firemen said.

She was rushed to the hospital Monday afternoon but died at 3 a. m. today. Hospital officials said she had extensive second and third degree burns.

Firemen said Mrs. Gray, who was partially paralyzed and a mute, was sitting in a chair near a window.

They theorized that she was smoking a cigarette and it either dropped into the chair and clothing or into a waste basket nearby. Her husband, Claude Gray, was at work at the Presentation Catholic Church.

Neighbors spotted smoke and called police and firemen at 3:20 p. m.

Mrs. Gray had lived in the Midland area for many years and formerly resided in Industry Township.

Her husband is her only survivor.

Mayor Tells Council He Hopes To Avoid Hiring Equipment

The city hopes to complete the job of removing the weekend's snow without hiring heavy equipment and operators, which would deplete street department funds heavily, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet told Council Monday night.

With both street and incinerator department crews at work on snow cleanup — a total of about 49 men — the administration hopes traffic and parking will be back to near normal within a few days, the mayor said.

"We're hoping, too, for an assist from mother nature—some warmer temperatures to help melt the snow," Goodballet said. However, if there is a new accumulation of deep snow on top of the present 12-inch fall, the city may be forced to hire extra equipment as an emergency measure, he added. Occasional light snow is forecast tonight.

Street department crews went to work at 11 last night in the business district, continuing the snow removal job that has gone on with few interruptions since Saturday at 6 p. m., the mayor said. The incinerator crew, pressed into service to help in the emergency, was to report for duty this morning for work on secondary streets, Goodballet said.

Six city trucks, a highlift, a grader and a crew of 20 to 25 men were at work today clearing away snow from the center of the business district.

The scraper was used to shove the snow from the curb toward the center of the street, then the highlift and the shovel crews loaded it onto trucks. By mid-morning, snow had been cleared from E. 6th St. between Jackson St. and Washington St. and Washington St. between E. 6th St. and E. 5th St. The crew was at work on E. 5th St. near the Diamond, moving westward.

The snow also had been removed from the two city-operated metered parking lots on W. 6th St. near City Hall. Shovel crews were at work in alleys in the

Salineville District Road Will Be Improved

Widening and resurfacing of Route 644 for 5 miles between Salineville and Summitville at a cost of some $135,000 is slated as part of the 1960 road program of Division 11, Ohio Highway Department.

About 68 miles of roadway are included in the proposed program for the division, which includes Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison, Belmont, Tuscarawas and Holmes Counties.

Total cost will be about $964,000, with the state providing $952,000 and the remainder by the municipalities affected.

The department also plans further work after the extent of the damage caused by spring thaws to highways is determined.

Exceeds '59 Program By $1 Billion

President Appeals To Legislators To Avoid Drastic Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $4,175,000,000 in new foreign aid funds to safeguard the free world against the "enormous power bloc of Communist imperialism."

The mutual security program is essential to world progress in freedom, he said in a special message to Congress.

The sum, nearly a billion dollars more than Congress voted last year, would be split up in this way: Two billion dollars for weapons aid to allies and $2,175,000,000 for economic and technical assistance.

In appealing to the legislators to avoid drastic cuts in the program, Eisenhower mentioned his 11-nation December goodwill tour to Asia, the Middle East and Europe.

"My recent travels impressed upon me even more strongly the fact that free men everywhere look to us, not with envy or malice but with hope and confidence that we will in the future, as in the past, be in the vanguard of those who believe in and will defend the right of the individual to enjoy the fruits of his labor in peace and in freedom," he said.

Eisenhower said that without the billions in foreign aid voted by Congress in the past 14 years, "the map of the world would be vastly different today because of communism's continuing threat."

The Soviet Union expressed an interest in measures to reduce the dangers of war during the past year, Eisenhower said.

"While its recent deportment and pronouncements suggest the possible opening of a somewhat less strained period in our relationships, the menace of Communist imperialism nevertheless still remains," he added.

The military power of the Soviet Union continues to grow. Increasingly important to free-world interests is the rate of growth of both military and economic power in Communist China.

"Evidence that this enormous bloc remains dedicated to the extension of Communist control over all people everywhere is found in Tibet, the Taiwan Straits, in Laos and along the Indian border."

Nixon Enters Primary Race In Wisconsin

MARINETTE, Wis. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will enter the Wisconsin presidential preference primary April 5, Harvey V. Higley of Marinette announced today.

Nixon wrote a letter to Higley, chairman of the Wisconsin Committee for Nixon for President. The vice president visited the state a week ago.

"I appreciate the generous sentiments which you expressed in your letter requesting consent for your committee to enter my name in the Wisconsin presidential primary, and I am pleased to accede to your request," Nixon wrote.

"It is my hope that your committee and members of both political parties will make an aggressive effort to get out a maximum vote among all the citizenry in both your primary and the general election."

Nixon is the third major candidate and the first Republican to enter the primary. Democratic hopefuls, Sens. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), entered last month.

Wisconsin voters will elect 31 delegates to the National Democratic Convention, while the state will send 30 delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Council Clears Legislation

City Pledges Blacktop Aid

Legislation pledging the city's co-operation in a $13,000 State Highway Department project for blacktop resurfacing of E. 3rd St. between Market St. and the Chester Bridge was given unanimous approval by Council Monday night.

The state requires enactment of the legislation before it will proceed with plans for such a project inside a city. East Liverpool was scheduled to pay $4,000 as its share of the work, but Mayor Bert H. Goodballet advised Council Feb. 1 county commissioners have agreed to assume 50 per cent of the cost, reducing the local government's share to $2,000.

THE WORK WILL stretch thirty-seven hundredths of a mile, the legislation revealed. Plans for the project were announced several weeks ago. The work is part of the Highway Department's program for this summer. In similar projects, the state resurfaced Pennsylvania Ave. and the "Hill Rd." within the last few years.

In other business, Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver told Council the city has agreed to property-owners' request to erect a stout barricade in the 1200 block of Dresden Ave. to prevent future damage to homes from autos that leave the street.

Rails for the new fence already have been ordered by the street department, the director said. The request for the fence was made to Council Feb. 1 by James S. Martin, 1294 Dresden Ave., and James W. Boyle, 1292 Dresden. Their homes and the property of Mrs. Helen Buckley, 1296 Dresden Ave., were hit Jan. 17 by the speeding car of an 18-year-old Industry youth who was being pursued by a deputy sheriff.

THE REQUEST for the fence was approved after an inspection of the site by the director and the street committee of Council.

A motion of Councilman Donald S. Hancock was approved to refer to Council as a whole the question of future disposition of a 30-x-100-foot lot at Pennsylvania Ave. and Park Way, now under lease to Mrs. Ida Graham of Grove City, Pa., and occupied partly as the site of a Petrosol Service Station.

When Mayor Goodballet notified Council Feb. 1 that Mrs. Graham's lease expires this fall, the disposition of the property was referred to the ordinance committee.

Copenhaver and the street committee were asked to investigate a request from the Woodbing Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. for re-establishment of two 15-minute parking meter spaces in front of its plant at 112 W. 4th St. to aid its customers, "cut down double parking and aid the flow of traffic."

APPROXIMATELY two years ago, two 15-minute meters were removed because the former administration could not find any authority for them in the city ordinances, Council was told in a letter from James Walker, manager. After some discussion, the administration established a "truck loading zone," but it is of little benefit to the laundry's customers, Walker's letter said.

The finance committee was given a letter from the Board of Thompson Park Commissioners asking funds to pay $270 due the county for road blacktopping work done in the park last year. A total of $1,270 was owed originally, but the city paid only $1,000, leaving the $270 balance, Council was told.

Council approved legislation designating the First National Bank and the Potters Bank & Trust Co. as "official depositories" of city funds. State law requires Council to name every two years the financial institutions in which the city will bank its active funds.

COUNCIL APPROVED a report of Councilman Robert B. Laughlin, claims committee chairman, rejecting a $500 bill against the city filed by Mrs. Bertha Wood, 515 Jefferson St., who alleged she was injured Nov. 19 in a fall at Peach Alley and W. 5th St.

Council President Charles N. Edwards announced two changes in committee assignments that he said were necessitated because of conflict in work schedules. Hancock was shifted from the claims committee to the street committee and Clifford Cooper was moved from the street committee to the claims committee.

The street committee and the director were given a request from Councilman Donald E. Smith for erection of a streetlight on Dodge St.

Councilman Clinton R. Seevers was excused. The meeting opened with invocation by the Rev. Ralph Page, district superintendent of the Free Methodist Church.

East Palestine Council Cuts Appropriation

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night approved a 1960 appropriation about $7,000 less than last year and authorized a long-range survey for the sewage plant, heard suggestions for a similar survey for the light plant and received a request from city employes for a pay increase.

Safety-Service Director George McGuckin presented to Council a written request, signed by "most city workers," for wage and salary boosts. It was turned over to the finance committee without disclosure of the amount sought.

Last April, hourly workers were given an increase of around 12 cents while salary employes received about a $25 a month boost.

Council authorized preparation of legislation approving a $2,750 survey of the sewage disposal plant by the Floyd E. Browne Associates, a Marion engineering concern. The survey would project the city's needs 25 years and would serve as the basis for improvements and additions at the plant.

Two other engineering firm representatives at last night's meeting urged Council to authorize a similar survey for the municipal power plant. One agent said the cost would be about $5,500 while the other made no estimate.

General needs at the plant include a new boiler and additional pumping equipment which would cost some $200,000. In April the final payment will be made on a $350,000 turbine purchased in 1955. There is $100,000 left in the light plant fund, apart from this final payment.

The $479,690 appropriation for the year — down from the $486,880 appropriation of 1959 when only $474,232 was spent — includes expenditures of $272,000 for the light plant. The largest expenditure at the plant is $80,000 for coal.

In the appropriation, the biggest increase is the allotment for councilmen's salaries, boosted last year, while the biggest decrease is in funds alloted for the City Park program.

Pilot, Housewife Killed As Plane Rams Into House

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — A Navy jet crashed into a house Monday killing both the pilot and the wife of a Hungarian freedom fighter. The woman, standing at her kitchen sink, was decapitated.

Lt. Gordon N. Blake, 36, had radioed seconds before the crash that the engine of his A4D was vibrating as he approached Moffett Naval Air Station on a training flight.

It plunged into a subdivision five miles from the field and just blocks from his own home, crashing in flames into the house of Margaret Halmi, 44.

Her husband, Dezso Halmi, was called from his work as an electronics engineer at Palo Alto and found her body in the wreckage.

Their sons, George, 20, and David, 16, were in class at Mountain View Union High School. Halmi brought his family here three years ago.

Blake, a graduate of the University of South Carolina, was attached to Attack Squadron 153.

Kaiser Executives Given Promotions

E. Walter Adams has been appointed manager of operations in eastern area plants of Kaiser Refractories & Chemicals Division, and Carey E. Lindsay has been named production manager for the facilities, according to an announcement by J. F. Knight, manager of operations.

Adams has been serving as plant manager of the company's basic refractories plant at Columbiana, a position he has held since the plant was built in 1955. A graduate of Colorado School of Mines at Golden, Adams has been employed by the Kaiser organization since 1941, serving in a variety of production capacities.

Lindsay formerly was general superintendent of the clay and silica refractories plants at Niles; Frostburg, Md., and Van Dyke, Pa., of the Mexico Refractories Company, an organization he has served since 1939, when he graduated from Ohio State University as a ceramic engineer. Mexico Refractories merged with Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. in May 1959 and now is a part of Kaiser Refractories & Chemicals. Previously Lindsay had been general superintendent of the Refractories Works at Mexico, Mo.

Both Adams and Lindsay will make their headquarters at Columbiana.

Church Sweeper Thief Given 30 Days In Jail

A West End man, who admitted the theft of a sweeper from a church, was sentenced to 30 days in the Columbiana County Jail at a hearing Monday before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Melvin Millward, 419 W. 8th St., drew the term after pleading guilty to stealing the appliance valued at $46.25 Feb. 4 from the First United Presbyterian Church.

During the hearing, Millward, who had been employed at the church part-time, said he sold the sweeper in Wellsville and was going to use the money for a down payment on a car so he could look for a job.

Millward told the judge he was married and the father of two children but further questioning brought out that he is separated from his family.

He was arrested Saturday night at W. 9th and Chestnut Sts. by Lt. Thomas A. Walker and Patrolman Richard Higgins.

Contempt Hearing Set

CLEVELAND (AP)—A contempt charge against the Cleveland Plain Dealer will be heard next Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge Charles W. White. The charge resulted from publication of a report of grand jury indictments before the indictments were returned last July 24. Trial was concluded Friday on a similar charge against the Cleveland Press.

Reach Agreement

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A federal mediator reported a tentative agreement was reached Monday night to end a five-week-old strike against Dayton Rubber Co. here. Some 1,200 employes have been idle. United Rubber Workers Local 178 will take a ratification vote on the new contract Wednesday.

In the appropriation, the biggest increase is the allotment for councilmen's salaries, boosted last year, while the biggest decrease is in funds alloted for the City Park program.

Pilot, Housewife Killed As Plane Rams Into House

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — A Navy jet crashed into a house Monday killing both the pilot and the wife of a Hungarian freedom fighter. The woman, standing at her kitchen sink, was decapitated.

Lt. Gordon N. Blake, 36, had radioed seconds before the crash that the engine of his A4D was vibrating as he approached Moffett Naval Air Station on a training flight.

It plunged into a subdivision five miles from the field and just blocks from his own home, crashing in flames into the house of Margaret Halmi, 44.

Her husband, Dezso Halmi, was called from his work as an electronics engineer at Palo Alto and found her body in the wreckage.

Their sons, George, 20, and David, 16, were in class at Mountain View Union High School. Halmi brought his family here three years ago.

Blake, a graduate of the University of South Carolina, was attached to Attack Squadron 153.

Kaiser Executives Given Promotions

E. Walter Adams has been appointed manager of operations in eastern area plants of Kaiser Refractories & Chemicals Division, and Carey E. Lindsay has been named production manager for the facilities, according to an announcement by J. F. Knight, manager of operations.

Adams has been serving as plant manager of the company's basic refractories plant at Columbiana, a position he has held since the plant was built in 1955. A graduate of Colorado School of Mines at Golden, Adams has been employed by the Kaiser organization since 1941, serving in a variety of production capacities.

Lindsay formerly was general superintendent of the clay and silica refractories plants at Niles; Frostburg, Md., and Van Dyke, Pa., of the Mexico Refractories Company, an organization he has served since 1939, when he graduated from Ohio State University as a ceramic engineer. Mexico Refractories merged with Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. in May 1959 and now is a part of Kaiser Refractories & Chemicals. Previously Lindsay had been general superintendent of the Refractories Works at Mexico, Mo.

Both Adams and Lindsay will make their headquarters at Columbiana.

Church Sweeper Thief Given 30 Days In Jail

A West End man, who admitted the theft of a sweeper from a church, was sentenced to 30 days in the Columbiana County Jail at a hearing Monday before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Melvin Millward, 419 W. 8th St., drew the term after pleading guilty to stealing the appliance valued at $46.25 Feb. 4 from the First United Presbyterian Church.

During the hearing, Millward, who had been employed at the church part-time, said he sold the sweeper in Wellsville and was going to use the money for a down payment on a car so he could look for a job.

Millward told the judge he was married and the father of two children but further questioning brought out that he is separated from his family.

Contempt Hearing Set

CLEVELAND (AP)—A contempt charge against the Cleveland Plain Dealer will be heard next Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge Charles W. White. The charge resulted from publication of a report of grand jury indictments before the indictments were returned last July 24. Trial was concluded Friday on a similar charge against the Cleveland Press.

Reach Agreement

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A federal mediator reported a tentative agreement was reached Monday night to end a five-week-old strike against Dayton Rubber Co. here. Some 1,200 employes have been idle. United Rubber Workers Local 178 will take a ratification vote on the new contract Wednesday.

Occupants Unhurt In 2 Head-On Crashes

No one was injured in two head-on crashes reported Monday by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

A car driven by George H. Benton, 63, of East Palestine was following a lane through a thick snowdrift on Route 170 south of Negley when rammed by an oncoming auto driven by Richard Schukert, 31, of Negley R. D. 1 yesterday morning.

Schukert, rounding a curve, was unable to halt in time, officers said. The fronts of the two autos were demolished, according to the patrol. The mishap occurred 2.7 miles south of Negley.

James Raneri, 18, of Columbiana was cited for driving left of center after his car collided with an oncoming auto on Route 344 about seven-tenths of a mile southwest of Leetonia.

Raneri rounded a curve on the wrong side, officers reported, and crashed into an auto operated by George Turney, 26, of Lisbon R. D. 5. The front ends of the cars were damaged badly, the patrol said.

Ronald Milhoan, 27, of Lisbon R. D. 3 was cited after his car collided on Route 30 near Rock Camp with one operated by Emma C. Walker, 53, of Lisbon R. D. 3.

The woman was making a left turn when Milhoan, following, attempted to pass on the right to avoid a crash, but his car hit the side of the other. He was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Palestine Autoist Thrown Out In Crash

EAST PALESTINE — Raymond Bacon, about 60, of the East Palestine-New Waterford Rd. was injured late this morning when thrown from his auto in a two-car mishap on Park Ave. at the entrance to the pottery.

Bacon was taken to a physician's office for treatment. The name of the other driver, who apparently was unhurt, was not available immediately.

tion owners that the machines may be recovered if "illegal seizure can be proved."

The devices will be destroyed by the Alcohol and Tobacco Division if the location owners cannot prove any illegal procedure on the part of the IRS.

If the government agency proves "wilfulness" on the owner's part in failing to obtain a $250 federal tax stamp for the machines, the owners may face prosecution.

Agents confiscated 68 of the gaming devices in raids Jan. 28 in Hancock, Ohio and Brooke Counties. Thirty-six were impounded from Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton locations.

Suitless Suit

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — John H. Head says he caught a cold, and it's all the fault of a cleaning shop. He filed a $500 damage suit, claiming he caught the cold when he scampered home without his suit —which he said the cleaners lost while he waited in a booth.

cal schools with bus drivers reporting no difficulty on rural roads except for some outlying areas where pupils were able to walk to the nearby secondary roads for transportation.

Southern Local's 1,100 pupils also returned today, with bus drivers having no serious trouble on their routes.

Classes also resumed this morning at all Wellsville public schools and the Immaculate Conception Parochial Schcol.

The remainder of Columbiana County schools that closed yesterday had resumed classes this morning, as none had reported otherwise at the county superintendent's office in Lisbon.

Roads within the jurisdiction of the County Highway Department were in good shape.

City and South Side Schools also resumed this morning and authorities said they had no report of transportation difficulties.

Hancock County youngsters today enjoyed snow holiday dividend," not having to return to classes.

The drifting snow, which choked rural highways in the county, forced postponment again today of classes in Chester, Newell, New Cumberland, Pughtown and Weirton .They will resume Wednesday.

The weatherman co - operated with sunny skies and gave an opportunity for workers of the Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Highway Commission to open the drifted rural roads in Hancock County. Classes will probably resume Wednesday.

Trucks and snowplows from the Pughtown garage and a Weirton construction firm worked from yesterday morning until midnight clearing away the drifts on secondary highways. The cleanup is to be completed today.

Stanton Local in Irondale and Hammondsville also resumed.

Firemen were called to the Golding Building at E. 5th and Washington Sts. at 7:30 p. m. Monday to knock down some icicles. Firemen also warned pedestrians to be alert for icicles which might fall from other buildings.

There was a slight melting of the snow Monday afternoon when the sun came out briefly and temperatures rose to 35 degrees. But the overnight low was a sub-freezing 23 degrees. Today's high range will be 35 to 40 and tonight's low will be 25 to 30.

Freezing at night and slight moderation during the daytime will tend to slow the melting of the snow, thus avoiding a quick runoff that might create high water on the Ohio River.

Sunny skies this morning and a mounting mercury helped speed up the melting. The mercury was at 36 at noon.

The heavy snow was general over the entire watershed of the Ohio River. Heavy snows in the past, when followed by rain or mild periods, have created flood conditions.

Skies were mostly cloudy over Ohio Monday night and early morning temperatures ranged from 11 at Zanesville and Marietta to 33 at Toledo.

Light snow flurries were reported early this morning in Cincinnati.

Southwest winds today will lift temperatures slightly above Monday's level, but light snow flurries will occur over the state. Afternoon temperatures will be in the 30s.

Colder air will spread across the state Wednesday afternoon, shifting the wind to northwest and bringing snow flurries to the northern counties.

Some West Virginia Schools Re-Opened

By The Associated Press

It was back to classes today for thousands of West Virginia school pupils who received an unexpected holiday the first of the week because of wintery weather. But to hundreds of other students, there still was no school today.

Snow-clogged secondary roads were the major reasons given for the secondstraight day of school closures in such counties as Mason, Lincoln, Wood, Jackson, Marshall and Hancock. Also shutdown were a portion of schools in Putnam County.

Schools re-opening for the first time this week today included those in Kanawha, Upshur, Raleigh, Preston, Brooke, Ohio, Wetzel, Wyoming, Cabell, Wayne, Fayette, Summers, Mingo and Logan counties.

TV Star Admits Size Has Aided His Career

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dan Blocker admits his size has aided his stage career.

"It was a springboard, but it wouldn't last if you couldn't act," says the 6-feet-4, 300-pound television actor.

He began acting while attending Sul Ross State College in Texas.

"They asked me to do a nonspeaking part in 'Arsenic and Old Lace'," he says. "They needed someone strong enough to carry the bodies out of the basement."

As a schoolteacher after graduation from college, his pupils paid attention.

But attentive youngsters were not enough to make Blocker forget his $2,900 per year teaching salary. His work, which includes a starring role on western-style TV series "Bonanza," earns him $40,000 a year.

Robber Tells Druggist To Fill 'Prescription'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The "prescription" wasn't in the traditional Latin but druggist Thomas H. Garnett got the message.

A man handed him a note which read "This is a stickup." "Now," said the robber, "fill that prescription."

Garnett handed over the money in a cash register and presumably the patient felt better immediately.

morning, Mrs. Metz told the judge she was not given a specific appearance time, so did not report at 9. She told the judge she had permission from the former administration to park a station wagon in the area of her store when it was used for business.

"Meter Maids" said some of the tickets were issued for an auto in addition to the station wagon. The judge decreed the $17 penalty and said it would cover all the outstanding tickets, but he told Mrs. Metz she must make other arrangements about parking her cars.

Open Manholes Cause Trouble In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Charles J. Brill, 31, fell into an open manhole as he prepared to get into his automobile.

He walked to a police station and was taken to a hospital for treatment of injured hips.

Patrolman John Smith went out to investigate and fell into another manhole. He was taken to a hospital for x-rays.

Someone had removed the heavy lids and tossed them over a nearby fence, police later found out, without falling into any more holes.

Detectives Were Happy To See This Motorist

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Detectives William Schendel and Joseph Miszewski were happy to see the motorist who ran into their squad car.

The driver was Raymond Howard, 44, for whom the two detectives had been looking for almost two months on a theft charge.

Nobody Enters Rudy's Car When Dog's Inside

DEFIANCE, Ohio — Nobody gets in Rudy Camp's car when his 2-year-old terrier Ike is inside. Nobody.

Camp learned this painfully while the car — dog inside — was on a service station hoist. The keys were inside and Camp couldn't get in the locked car. When he tried to pry open the ventilator window, his dog snarled.

Camp finally had to call for his wife, who brought a spare set of keys.

Grave Experience

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Thieves entered the offices of a cemetery after prying open a heavy door. They battered a safe, finally knocking off the knob and handle; tried to peel the steel front off the safe, then left empty handed. The office manager said the only thing in the safe was a record of people bured in the cemetery.

Improving Ohio Liquor Control

Gov. DiSalle's plan to transform the state liquor enforcement division into a smaller but better-trained unit has centered public attention on the policing aspect of liquor control.

But there is another phase of the administration's revision of the liquor control setup that, if carried through, would have a far deeper and longer-range effect.

It is the effort to give the Department of Liquor Control more authority to regulate the liquor industry in Ohio for the benefit of both the state's communities and the respectable segment which makes up the vast majority of the liquor industry.

It is best illustrated by the adoption of new regulations barring the sale of liquor permits by one private holder to another under the guise of real estate transactions and giving the department more leeway in refusing permits to undesirable establishments.

ONE OF THE PROBLEMS of the state's liquor regulatory efforts has been the existence of the Board of Liquor Control as a separate entity which frequently, if unwittingly, has worked at cross purposes with the department.

Several things were responsible for this. The board held broad administrative powers that logically belonged to the liquor director, the chief administrative officer of the department and a member of the governor's administrative team. If personality conflicts arose or opposing motivations developed, the board could seriously hamstring the department's work by refusing to approve stronger regulations necessary to meet certain situations.

Although the board frequently must make decisions according to rules of evidence, there was no legal requirement that any of its members be lawyers. In contrast, the man generally considered to be the most informed on the Ohio liquor laws is the counsel before the board for many permit holders and the chief lobbyist for most of the industry's trade groups.

Although the board members were supposed to devote full time to other jobs, their pay was so unrealistically low that gradually more and more of them were permitted to maintain outside interests, because that was the only way to attract people even remotely competent.

And the public often was confused about the responsibility for liquor control because the formal names of the department and the board are almost identical.

GOV. DiSALLE launched his campaign of revision shortly after taking office by submitting to the Legislature a bill to strip the board of its administrative powers, making it solely an appellate body with a different name.

The proposal was too sweeping for many legislators and for the liquor lobbies, so it gradually was watered down. As finally passed, however, it did do two basic things. It gave the department full administrative authority over the operation of the state liquor stores and it raised board members' salaries to more realistic levels, with the added stipulation that the chairman of the board be an attorney.

These changes, along with the natural expiration of some terms on the board, have enabled Gov. DiSalle to change the complexion of the board to reflect to a greater degree his view of a cooperative relationship between the board and the department. This is certainly one of the reasons for the two new regulations cited above, which had to be approved by the board.

INNUMERABLE instances could be cited to show what a difference this can make, but one that comes to mind is the case of a bar in another city which had been a nuisance to local authorities for a long time.

A year ago, the department refused to renew its permit because of complaints by local police. The board, on appeal by the owner of the place, overruled the department and renewed the permit on the ground that insufficient evidence had been furnished against the bar.

Under the department's new regulation, it is unlikely that would happen now.

The new liquor enforcement setup should improve the state's ability to crack down on those operators who persist in violating the law.

Let's Not Shrug Off Payolitics

There is this nagging thought about the bright opportunists who now are being badgered in Washington for making hay while the sun was shining in the recording business:

Who are all those people without blame who are casting stones at them?

Can it really be that these stone-casters are able to whip their arms into throwing shape without a twinge of remorse and doubt?

It was a dubious thing these opportunists did when they made their hay. They should have asked their congressman first.

The payola boys, who took money simply to play bad records over and over again to stimulate an artificial demand for them and money for their producers, let the public down. They deserve no sympathy.

Those who did it as "consultants" being paid for their professional advice should have ferreted out everybody who later might frown upon them and asked for permission to make a few easy dollars by exploiting their potentialities as "experts." Doesn't everybody do it if he gets a chance?

They particularly should have sought clearance from those pillars of moral virtue, the politicians—and especially the politicians who go to Washington on the federal payroll, where good things abound, including tax-free allowances and a nip of nepotism now and then.

They should have made sure in advance there was no substantial difference between playing a recording that might be a haymaker and making a speech in Dubuque that might win a thousand farm votes.

They should have nailed down tight for their future protection the proposition that it is no worse for a disc jockey to curry favor with his associates than for a politician to roll a log or scratch a back.

Then everybody could have been in clover ad infinitum. What was good enough for politicians was good enough for everybody.

The haymaking could have gone on and on and on.

Payola would have been as decent a word as payolitics, which would have been its twin. Payola and payolitics—both as blameless as philanthropy, itself.

Helping Hands

Despite the many trials and tribulations that result, unusual weather — like the weekend snowstorm — brings out the better side of mankind.

Throughout East Liverpool and other district communities there were countless acts of kindness as the heavy drifts made neighbors more neighborly.

There were those who cleared not only their own walk, but that of the fellow next door as well; there were those who willingly had a helping hand for stranded motorists; there were those more than happy to furnish a ride for others in need; there was a sharing of a loaf of bread, of milk and other household necessities as impassable roads prevented a trip to the store.

There were other warm-hearted incidents too numerous to mention. The time-honored expression about an "ill wind" applied without question to the weekend snow.

A Friendly Cold War

Herter Clarifies USSR 'Union' Stand

By Victor Riesel

I have just received a letter from the State Department. It is authorized by Secretary of State Christian Herter, though it is written by one of his top aides, Frederick Merrill, director of the East-West Contacts Staff. It makes news because it puts the U. S. on record for the first time with a public statement that our government does not believe there are legitimate trade unions in the Soviet Union.

Victor Riesel

The letter asserts that the U.S. thinks that the "so-called Soviet trade unions . . . are not independent of the Soviet state."

This missive was the reply to a query I put to the secretary of state after the recent signing of the famous cultural exchange pact.

THE INTERNATIONAL agreement included a clause which said that the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. would encourage "exchanges . . . of delegations representing organizations devoted to friendship and cultural ties, labor, trade union, youth and other non-governmental organizations in the Soviet Union and the U.S. . . ."

There were sharp protests across the U.S. Our unions are free. There was resentment against the State Department for apparently likening American unions to the Russian labor divisions of the Communist nations. The State Department letter to me explained that this had to be done.

"This reference to trade union exchanges was accepted by our negotiators to meet a negotiating problem, with the inclusion of reservations designed to preserve existing U.S. government policy in this field," Mr. Merrill wrote.

"I can assure you that the language of this paragraph (in the agreement) does not reflect any change in the U.S policy or any recognition of the bona fides of the so-called Soviet trade unions.

"The specific reference to trade unions does not mean that the government of the U.S. has found any reason to change its decision that Soviet labor organizations are not independent of the Soviet state.

"I hope that the foregoing will reassure you on this matter. The government is not committed to encourage any exchanges in the labor field in the absence of a specific subsequent agreement and we made this quite clear to the Soviet government at the time of the negotiations.

"In any event our government would not agree to changes in the labor field without the concurrence of the mainstream of the U.S. labor movement."

THERE CAN BE no doubt of the dramatic difference between the Soviet labor organizations and the American unions. There was a one-day strike, for example, by the Plumbers Union last Wednesday. Had a similar stoppage occurred in the Soviet Union there would have been some dead Russian labor leaders.

That plumbers' strike of ours was called at the Oak Ridge atomic energy installation. It shut down all construction work there.

The one-day walkout was in protest against a sprinkler company. The firm was installing the anti-fire water jets in the K plants where uranium is separated into fissionable and non-explosive material for bombs and other important defense equipment.

The strike also checked work on a new and mighty important reactor. The Plumbers Union picketed in protest against the AEC's use of the company. The corporation had failed to make payments to the union welfare fund some time ago. Thus it was placed on the Plumbers' non-union list.

THERE HAVE BEEN other such quickie strikes at vital installations. Recently the Iron Workers Union struck at Cape Canaveral.

They went out because of a ruling that an obsolete missile tower would be demolished. The Iron Workers wanted the tower to be "dismantled." Why? Because non-skilled, "common" laborers are used for demolition. Higher paid skilled workers are used in dismantling.

All the government wanted to do was to tear the thing down. But pickets kept at least 600 men out.

There was really no permanent injury to our defense program. But costs rolled up — and who can assess what final delay there is if you total many such walkouts.

It couldn't happen in the U.S.S.R. Here it is our way of life. That's the difference between free men and Soviet workers.

Legislative Hypocrisy

By Raymond Moley

The first bit of wisdom a novice learns in Washington is the ancient art of legislative buck-passing.

The Senate or the House will pass a bill known to be doomed in the other house. Or both houses will pass a bill to put the President "on the spot" and which after a veto cannot be passed.

The legislators thus serve their political interests. They do not vote their convictions and they betray their trust to the people who elected them.

One of the worst examples of this in recent years was the Senate's passing of a bill for aid to school construction and teachers' salaries.

Everyone in the Senate knew that the House would not accept such a bill and that, if it did, a presidential veto was certain.

In fact, a House committee has already prepared a bill for submission which greatly reduces the Senate figure for school construction. House leaders are inalterably opposed to the Senate plan to supplement teachers' salaries.

FORTY-FOUR SENATORS participated in this hypocrisy and 35 voted their convictions.

Both the school construction and the teachers' salary aspects of the bill can be proved to be wholly unnecessary. But since it will be a long time before the issue is resolved in the House and, if anything is passed, a long time before the President Would act, I shall refer here only to a few of the valid arguments against generalized federal aid for school construction.

Any ordinary mortal reading the debates on "classroom shortages" in connection with the bill passed by the Senate will end in a welter of confusion.

Ever since President Truman called for a "school facilities survey" in 1951 this numbers game has been going on with the most fantastic variations.

The Truman survey virtually asked school authorities in the states to put their needs as high as possible, and they certainly responded with energy. By the time the "survey" was available, the Eisenhower administration was in office and the confusion began.

Commissioner of Education Brownell said in October 1954 that the "shortage" was 370,000 classrooms. Sen. Lister Hill upped this three months later to 600,000.

President Eisenhower in February said "over 300,000." Then, after the utter unreliability of the "survey" was demonstrated, the embarrassed administration decided on its own survey and came up with lower figures.

THE ANNUAL REPORTS of "shortages" from the states show how unreliable they are. Alabama, Sen. Hill's state, in 1954 reported 17,750 rooms in use. In 1956 it reported only 13,240 available. Its report in 1959 showed 22,000 in use and a great reduction of the shortage.

Projections of future needs have proved equally absurd in the light of years.

In 1955 the secretary of the California Teachers' Association testified before a House committee that California would need "something over a billion dollars" in school building by 1960 and that the state could not afford that much.

But the records show that between 1955 and 1960 the state has spent $2,100,000,000 on public school construction.

This does not take into account the sums spent on private and parochial schools.

Upon this sort of guesswork the Senate has made the great gesture of an intent to spend $1,800,000,000 in two years. Such irresponsible voting of taxpayers' money deserves stronger words of condemnation than any family newspaper would print.

One of the reasons why certain usually sound Republican senators voted for the monstrous bill and why Republican leaders in the House feel that some bill for school construction must be passed is that statements by Secretary Flemming and reports from his U.S. Office of Education have indicated a difference between those reports and the President's new proposal.

They have been embarrassed on the floor by citations of these eminations by the proponents of school aid.

It would seem to be time for the President to get some of his official family into a White House classroom and establish some discipline.

Reds Turn To Worry

By David Lawrence

U. S. Has Vast Missile Strength Potential

Maybe the Soviets ought to be worried about the "gap" question. For it begins to look now as if the United States is not only the strongest military power in the world today but, if the Soviets do get their 300 missiles into the operational stage by the end of 1962, the United States will have by that time, too, more than 500 effective missiles equipped with nuclear bombs and able to reach all targets inside Russia.

David Lawrence

Since many of these American missiles would be fired from movable bases, it is not going to be possible for the Soviets to prevent the deterrent power of the United States and its allies from becoming effective even if they try a surprise attack.

These conclusions can be drawn from the impressive testimony, just made public, given last week before congressional committees by Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations.

The Soviets are reported to have planned to operate 150 intercontinental missiles and 150 intermediate missiles by the end of 1962.

The first group could supposedly destroy bases in this country and the others could be aimed at allied bases overseas.

ADM. BURKE says that it has been found difficult to get even one missile fired at a specific time and that to fire 150 or 200 simultaneously to arrive at all targets coincidentally is impracticable.

So the potential enemy has to worry about the retaliatory power that may be directed against it in the lag between firings of its own missiles.

First, there's the Polaris missile developed by the United States. No equivalent is possessed by the Soviets. The Polaris will be ready for use this autumn.

It can be fired now from submarines and later it could be fired from cruisers. It can be carried on fleets of fast-moving merchant ships.

One submarine armed with Polaris missiles, according to a statement by the secretary of defense last year, carries as much destructive power as all the conventional bombs dropped by both sides during World War II.

"We have tested this missile," says Adm. Burke. "We have fired this missile from various types of launchers from under water, so that we know what it will do. We have tested the tubes. We have tested the warheard. We have tested all the components.

"We anticipate no difficulty whatever. It is just a question of putting the systems together now, which will take a couple more months . . . . this missile—warhead — will be many times the size of the bomb dropped on Hiroshima."

The admiral revealed that there will be a total of 32 operational Polaris missiles by the end of this year and 80 at the end of next year and 128 by the end of 1962.

NOW, THESE POLARIS missiles are relatively cheap. They cost only $1½ million dollars apiece. They can be deployed far and wide—an arsenal that could be kept moving all the time.

But while all the Polaris missiles planned for submaries are to be operational by 1962—that is, about 128 in all — to this strength must be added the Atlas long-range missiles that the United States has already in operation and the Titan long-range missiles which are about a year away.

The present production plan calls for 270 of these long-range missiles by the end of 1962.

Then there are the Thor and Jupiter intermediate - range missiles —to be based in Western Europe. The first of these are already in place in Great Britain.

Soon there will be more squadrons in position in Italy and Turkey — all capable of reaching any vital target in th European area of the Soviet Union.

Adding the 128 Polaris missiles to these 390 land-based missiles makes a grand total of about 518 effective retaliatory missiles.

On top of this will come the Minuteman, which will supersede the others as the prime missile on land in 1963.

This is a mobile missile like the Polaris. It can be moved on freight cars. Some bridges and overpasses will have to be increased in height to move the Minuteman around on trains or trucks but, anyway, all or a large share of these will not be constantly in fixed positions where an enemy missile can find them.

WITH POLARIS missiles roaming the high seas and Minuteman missiles moving around this country and intermediate-range missiles moving around this country and intermediate - range missiles based on the territory of our allies and our manned airplanes carrying nuclear bombs, the deterrent power of the Western Alliance today and in the foreseeable future is so formidable that it justifies in every sense the momentous declaration of Gen. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who said to a congressional committee on Feb. 9:

"On the basis of all the information available to me and in view of the mission and locations of our retaliatory - weapons systems, I just do not believe that any nation possesses the ability today or in the foreseeable future to attack us or destroy us whithout receiving unacceptable damage in return."

That's the whole missile controversy in a nutshell and it explains the confidence about the outlook felt by President Eisenhower and the three military chiefs of our armed forces.

America doesn't like to do any "sabre-rattling" but, if it is forced on it by misguided politicians, plenty of "missile-rattling" can be done.

Two Men At Right Time

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

One thing we don't know about the present quiet relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union is whether it's the result of an accident of history—the personalities of two men at the right time.

President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev both came to power when relations between the United States and the Soviet Union, because of Korea, were at their lowest point since World War II.

President Truman and Joseph Stalin had been the leaders during a period after World War II in which relationships between the two nations steadily got worse.

Truman, who met Stalin only once at the end of the European war, left office in 1953 just a few weeks before the old dictator died. By then both men had become harsh antagonists.

Eisenhower, succeeding Truman, was more restrained. Khrushchev, moving up steadily after Stalin's death, sought to establish a new relationship with the West by denouncing Stalin.

Thus the air was cleared for a fresh start. Still, it probably never would have been possible except that the personalities of the two men had something in common.

Both talked peace and good will. Both have outgoing personalities, quick to laugh or grin. The bubbly Khrushchev is even more the outgoing type than Eisenhower.

It's hard to imagine anything like the present period of calm, and hope that things may get better, if the sullen, suspicious, introverted Stalin had been the Soviet leader facing Eisenhower these past seven years.

It is quite possible the outspoken Truman, who believed in the stern fist, wouldn't have gotten along with Khrushchev who can snarl and threaten when he thinks it's necessary.

No matter what the Soviets have said about American foreign policy and tactics since Eisenhower took office seven years ago they have been careful to avoid potshots at him.

Eisenhower doesn't take any needless digs at Khrushchev. If they had ever let personal hostility develop almost certainly there would have been no Khrushchev visit or a summit meeting arranged.

But Eisenhower is moving toward the end of his presidency, with less than a year to go. Khrushchev is no chicken any more. In a few years he'll be off the scene.

Then what happens?

It isn't pleasant to think what may happen if a Soviet leader with the sour antagonism and violence of Stalin or the hardnosed attitude of Molotov moves into Khrushchev's place.

By the same token a President who let temper get the best of him might turn Khrushchev or his successor into a bull.

Oudtshoorn, a small town in South Africa, again has asserted itself as the "ostrich capital" of the world — just as it was in the days before automobiles made the wearing of ostrich-plumed hats by women impractical. Almost as many ostriches are being raised today — 42,000 of them — as before 1914. Although ostrich plumes today are being used more for circuses than grand opera, some are being made into evening or boudoir capes, some for toy novelties and some for feather dusters.

An official balloon corps was organized in the U. S. Army in 1861 to observe results of battle by ground troops.

A Friendly Cold War

Herter Clarifies USSR 'Union' Stand

By Victor Riesel

I have just received a letter from the State Department. It is authorized by Secretary of State Christian Herter, though it is written by one of his top aides, Frederick Merrill, director of the East-West Contacts Staff. It makes news because it puts the U. S. on record for the first time with a public statement that our government does not believe there are legitimate trade unions in the Soviet Union.

Victor Riesel

The letter asserts that the U.S. thinks that the "so-called Soviet trade unions . . . are not independent of the Soviet state."

This missive was the reply to a query I put to the secretary of state after the recent signing of the famous cultural exchange pact.

THE INTERNATIONAL agreement included a clause which said that the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. would encourage "exchanges . . . of delegations representing organizations devoted to friendship and cultural ties, labor, trade union, youth and other non-governmental organizations in the Soviet Union and the U.S. . . ."

There were sharp protests across the U.S. Our unions are free. There was resentment against the State Department for apparently likening American unions to the Russian labor divisions of the Communist nations. The State Department letter to me explained that this had to be done.

"This reference to trade union exchanges was accepted by our negotiators to meet a negotiating problem, with the inclusion of reservations designed to preserve existing U.S. government policy in this field," Mr. Merrill wrote.

"I can assure you that the language of this paragraph (in the agreement) does not reflect any change in the U.S policy or any recognition of the bona fides of the so-called Soviet trade unions.

"The specific reference to trade unions does not mean that the government of the U.S. has found any reason to change its decision that Soviet labor organizations are not independent of the Soviet state.

"I hope that the foregoing will reassure you on this matter. The government is not committed to encourage any exchanges in the labor field in the absence of a specific subsequent agreement and we made this quite clear to the Soviet government at the time of the negotiations.

"In any event our government would not agree to changes in the labor field without the concurrence of the mainstream of the U.S. labor movement."

THERE CAN BE no doubt of the dramatic difference between the Soviet labor organizations and the American unions. There was a one-day strike, for example, by the Plumbers Union last Wednesday. Had a similar stoppage occurred in the Soviet Union there would have been some dead Russian labor leaders.

That plumbers' strike of ours was called at the Oak Ridge atomic energy installation. It shut down all construction work there.

The one-day walkout was in protest against a sprinkler company. The firm was installing the anti-fire water jets in the K plants where uranium is separated into fissionable and non-explosive material for bombs and other important defense equipment.

The strike also checked work on a new and mighty important reactor. The Plumbers Union picketed in protest against the AEC's use of the company. The corporation had failed to make payments to the union welfare fund some time ago. Thus it was placed on the Plumbers' non-union list.

THERE HAVE BEEN other such quickie strikes at vital installations. Recently the Iron Workers Union struck at Cape Canaveral.

They went out because of a ruling that an obsolete missile tower would be demolished. The Iron Workers wanted the tower to be "dismantled." Why? Because non-skilled, "common" laborers are used for demolition. Higher paid skilled workers are used in dismantling.

All the government wanted to do was to tear the thing down. But pickets kept at least 600 men out.

There was really no permanent injury to our defense program. But costs rolled up — and who can assess what final delay there is if you total many such walkouts.

It couldn't happen in the U.S.S.R. Here it is our way of life. That's the difference between free men and Soviet workers.

Legislative Hypocrisy

By Raymond Moley

The first bit of wisdom a novice learns in Washington is the ancient art of legislative buck-passing.

The Senate or the House will pass a bill known to be doomed in the other house. Or both houses will pass a bill to put the President "on the spot" and which after a veto cannot be passed.

The legislators thus serve their political interests. They do not vote their convictions and they betray their trust to the people who elected them.

One of the worst examples of this in recent years was the Senate's passing of a bill for aid to school construction and teachers' salaries.

Everyone in the Senate knew that the House would not accept such a bill and that, if it did, a presidential veto was certain.

In fact, a House committee has already prepared a bill for submission which greatly reduces the Senate figure for school construction. House leaders are inalterably opposed to the Senate plan to supplement teachers' salaries.

FORTY-FOUR SENATORS participated in this hypocrisy and 35 voted their convictions.

Both the school construction and the teachers' salary aspects of the bill can be proved to be wholly unnecessary. But since it will be a long time before the issue is resolved in the House and, if anything is passed, a long time before the President Would act, I shall refer here only to a few of the valid arguments against generalized federal aid for school construction.

Any ordinary mortal reading the debates on "classroom shortages" in connection with the bill passed by the Senate will end in a welter of confusion.

Ever since President Truman called for a "school facilities survey" in 1951 this numbers game has been going on with the most fantastic variations.

The Truman survey virtually asked school authorities in the states to put their needs as high as possible, and they certainly responded with energy. By the time the "survey" was available, the Eisenhower administration was in office and the confusion began.

Commissioner of Education Brownell said in October 1954 that the "shortage" was 370,000 classrooms. Sen. Lister Hill upped this three months later to 600,000.

President Eisenhower in February said "over 300,000." Then, after the utter unreliability of the "survey" was demonstrated, the embarrassed administration decided on its own survey and came up with lower figures.

THE ANNUAL REPORTS of "shortages" from the states show how unreliable they are. Alabama, Sen. Hill's state, in 1954 reported 17,750 rooms in use. In 1956 it reported only 13,240 available. Its report in 1959 showed 22,000 in use and a great reduction of the shortage.

Projections of future needs have proved equally absurd in the light of years.

In 1955 the secretary of the California Teachers' Association testified before a House committee that California would need "something over a billion dollars" in school building by 1960 and that the state could not afford that much.

But the records show that between 1955 and 1960 the state has spent $2,100,000,000 on public school construction.

This does not take into account the sums spent on private and parochial schools.

Upon this sort of guesswork the Senate has made the great gesture of an intent to spend $1,800,000,000 in two years. Such irresponsible voting of taxpayers' money deserves stronger words of condemnation than any family newspaper would print.

One of the reasons why certain usually sound Republican senators voted for the monstrous bill and why Republican leaders in the House feel that some bill for school construction must be passed is that statements by Secretary Flemming and reports from his U.S. Office of Education have indicated a difference between those reports and the President's new proposal.

They have been embarrassed on the floor by citations of these eminations by the proponents of school aid.

It would seem to be time for the President to get some of his official family into a White House classroom and establish some discipline.

Reds Turn To Worry

By David Lawrence

U. S. Has Vast Missile Strength Potential

Maybe the Soviets ought to be worried about the "gap" question. For it begins to look now as if the United States is not only the strongest military power in the world today but, if the Soviets do get their 300 missiles into the operational stage by the end of 1962, the United States will have by that time, too, more than 500 effective missiles equipped with nuclear bombs and able to reach all targets inside Russia.

David Lawrence

Since many of these American missiles would be fired from movable bases, it is not going to be possible for the Soviets to prevent the deterrent power of the United States and its allies from becoming effective even if they try a surprise attack.

These conclusions can be drawn from the impressive testimony, just made public, given last week before congressional committees by Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations.

The Soviets are reported to have planned to operate 150 intercontinental missiles and 150 intermediate missiles by the end of 1962.

The first group could supposedly destroy bases in this country and the others could be aimed at allied bases overseas.

ADM. BURKE says that it has been found difficult to get even one missile fired at a specific time and that to fire 150 or 200 simultaneously to arrive at all targets coincidentally is impracticable.

So the potential enemy has to worry about the retaliatory power that may be directed against it in the lag between firings of its own missiles.

First, there's the Polaris missile developed by the United States. No equivalent is possessed by the Soviets. The Polaris will be ready for use this autumn.

It can be fired now from submarines and later it could be fired from cruisers. It can be carried on fleets of fast-moving merchant ships.

One submarine armed with Polaris missiles, according to a statement by the secretary of defense last year, carries as much destructive power as all the conventional bombs dropped by both sides during World War II.

"We have tested this missile," says Adm. Burke. "We have fired this missile from various types of launchers from under water, so that we know what it will do. We have tested the tubes. We have tested the warheard. We have tested all the components.

"We anticipate no difficulty whatever. It is just a question of putting the systems together now, which will take a couple more months . . . . this missile—warhead — will be many times the size of the bomb dropped on Hiroshima."

The admiral revealed that there will be a total of 32 operational Polaris missiles by the end of this year and 80 at the end of next year and 128 by the end of 1962.

NOW, THESE POLARIS missiles are relatively cheap. They cost only $1½ million dollars apiece. They can be deployed far and wide—an arsenal that could be kept moving all the time.

But while all the Polaris missiles planned for submaries are to be operational by 1962—that is, about 128 in all — to this strength must be added the Atlas long-range missiles that the United States has already in operation and the Titan long-range missiles which are about a year away.

The present production plan calls for 270 of these long-range missiles by the end of 1962.

Then there are the Thor and Jupiter intermediate - range missiles —to be based in Western Europe. The first of these are already in place in Great Britain.

Soon there will be more squadrons in position in Italy and Turkey — all capable of reaching any vital target in th European area of the Soviet Union.

Adding the 128 Polaris missiles to these 390 land-based missiles makes a grand total of about 518 effective retaliatory missiles.

On top of this will come the Minuteman, which will supersede the others as the prime missile on land in 1963.

This is a mobile missile like the Polaris. It can be moved on freight cars. Some bridges and overpasses will have to be increased in height to move the Minuteman around on trains or trucks but, anyway, all or a large share of these will not be constantly in fixed positions where an enemy missile can find them.

WITH POLARIS missiles roaming the high seas and Minuteman missiles moving around this country and intermediate-range missiles moving around this country and intermediate - range missiles based on the territory of our allies and our manned airplanes carrying nuclear bombs, the deterrent power of the Western Alliance today and in the foreseeable future is so formidable that it justifies in every sense the momentous declaration of Gen. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who said to a congressional committee on Feb. 9:

"On the basis of all the information available to me and in view of the mission and locations of our retaliatory - weapons systems, I just do not believe that any nation possesses the ability today or in the foreseeable future to attack us or destroy us whithout receiving unacceptable damage in return."

That's the whole missile controversy in a nutshell and it explains the confidence about the outlook felt by President Eisenhower and the three military chiefs of our armed forces.

America doesn't like to do any "sabre-rattling" but, if it is forced on it by misguided politicians, plenty of "missile-rattling" can be done.

Two Men At Right Time

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

One thing we don't know about the present quiet relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union is whether it's the result of an accident of history—the personalities of two men at the right time.

President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev both came to power when relations between the United States and the Soviet Union, because of Korea, were at their lowest point since World War II.

President Truman and Joseph Stalin had been the leaders during a period after World War II in which relationships between the two nations steadily got worse.

Truman, who met Stalin only once at the end of the European war, left office in 1953 just a few weeks before the old dictator died. By then both men had become harsh antagonists.

Eisenhower, succeeding Truman, was more restrained. Khrushchev, moving up steadily after Stalin's death, sought to establish a new relationship with the West by denouncing Stalin.

Thus the air was cleared for a fresh start. Still, it probably never would have been possible except that the personalities of the two men had something in common.

Both talked peace and good will. Both have outgoing personalities, quick to laugh or grin. The bubbly Khrushchev is even more the outgoing type than Eisenhower.

It's hard to imagine anything like the present period of calm, and hope that things may get better, if the sullen, suspicious, introverted Stalin had been the Soviet leader facing Eisenhower these past seven years.

It is quite possible the outspoken Truman, who believed in the stern fist, wouldn't have gotten along with Khrushchev who can snarl and threaten when he thinks it's necessary.

No matter what the Soviets have said about American foreign policy and tactics since Eisenhower took office seven years ago they have been careful to avoid potshots at him.

Eisenhower doesn't take any needless digs at Khrushchev. If they had ever let personal hostility develop almost certainly there would have been no Khrushchev visit or a summit meeting arranged.

But Eisenhower is moving toward the end of his presidency, with less than a year to go. Khrushchev is no chicken any more. In a few years he'll be off the scene.

Then what happens?

It isn't pleasant to think what may happen if a Soviet leader with the sour antagonism and violence of Stalin or the hardnosed attitude of Molotov moves into Khrushchev's place.

By the same token a President who let temper get the best of him might turn Khrushchev or his successor into a bull.

Odd Facts

Oudtshoorn, a small town in South Africa, again has asserted itself as the "ostrich capital" of the world — just as it was in the days before automobiles made the wearing of ostrich-plumed hats by women impractical. Almost as many ostriches are being raised today — 42,000 of them — as before 1914. Although ostrich plumes today are being used more for circuses than grand opera, some are being made into evening or boudoir capes, some for toy novelties and some for feather dusters.

An official balloon corps was organized in the U. S. Army in 1861 to observe results of battle by ground troops.

Decorative Trims Help Custard-Filled Cake

One of the nicest things about a good cake is that, sure of the cake, you can turn your creative talents toward delicious, decorative frostings and trims. In fact, the cook with a favorite cake mix, a variety of fine flavoring extracts and a color kit on her pantry shelves need never fear a dessert crisis.

The pretty cake here, with its sunny yellow daisy on white frosting, is just such a blend; a lemon flake cake mix with a rich almond custard filling and seven minute frosting, also delicately flavored with the pure almond extract which is particularly harmonious with the cake's flavor. Tinted coconut and gum drops make the flower — so simple that even very junior cooks can take over.

Custard-Filled Lemon Cake

1 package lemon flake cake mix
1¼ cups water
2 eggs, unbeaten

Filling

1-3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
Dash of salt
1 cup milk
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon butter
¼ teaspoon almond extract
½ cup flaked coconut

Empty cake mix into bowl. Add water and eggs. Beat 3 minutes until smooth and creamy. Pour batter into two greased and floured 9-inch layer pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Cool layers.

Meanwhile combine sugar, flour and salt in saucepan. Add milk, bring to a boil, and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Pour a small amount over egg yolks, mixing well; then return to pan and boil 1 minute longer, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Add butter. Cool; then stir in extract and coconut. Spread between layers. Frost with a favorite frosting and decorate with tinted coconut.

Decorative Trims Help Custard-Filled Cake

One of the nicest things about a good cake is that, sure of the cake, you can turn your creative talents toward delicious, decorative frostings and trims. In fact, the cook with a favorite cake mix, a variety of fine flavoring extracts and a color kit on her pantry shelves need never fear a dessert crisis.

The pretty cake here, with its sunny yellow daisy on white frosting, is just such a blend; a lemon flake cake mix with a rich almond custard filling and seven minute frosting, also delicately flavored with the pure almond extract which is particularly harmonious with the cake's flavor. Tinted coconut and gum drops make the flower — so simple that even very junior cooks can take over.

Custard-Filled Lemon Cake

1 package lemon flake cake mix
1¼ cups water
2 eggs, unbeaten

Filling

1-3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
Dash of salt
1 cup milk
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon butter
¼ teaspoon almond extract
½ cup flaked coconut

Empty cake mix into bowl. Add water and eggs. Beat 3 minutes until smooth and creamy. Pour batter into two greased and floured 9-inch layer pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Cool layers.

Meanwhile combine sugar, flour and salt in saucepan. Add milk, bring to a boil, and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Pour a small amount over egg yolks, mixing well; then return to pan and boil 1 minute longer, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Add butter. Cool; then stir in extract and coconut. Spread between layers. Frost with a favorite frosting and decorate with tinted coconut.

County Health Board Trims Budget For '61

LISBON — A proposed 1961 Columbiana County Health Department budget of $43,550 — $750 less than the current budget — was approved by the Board of Health at a meeting Monday night at the Courthouse.

The appropriation schedule—$500 more than anticipated receipts—is to be presented to the County Budget Commisssion for approval and will also be reviewed by the Health Advisory Council at a meeting March 7.

The budget includes:

Health commissioner's salary, $13,500; nurse, $4,000; Clerk I, $3,750; clerk II, $3,150; sanitarian, $4,750; inspector, $4,600; medical supplies, $450; office supplies, $800; board members' expense, $400; travel, $2,608.33; miscellaneous, $1,053; workmens' compensation, $500; retirement, $2,872.13; equipment, $250, and restaurant inspection program, $866.67.

Estimated revenue includes local taxes, $25,000; federal aid, $3,750; state aid, $1,900; sanitation fees, $10,000, and restaurant fees, $2,400.

A breakdown of township taxes shows:

Butler, $991.12; Center, $1,258.68; Elkrun, $779.94; Fairfield, $2,855.05; Franklin, $481.21; Hanover, $1,061.04; Knox, $1,678.91; Liverpool, $1,284.43; Madison, $562.18; Middleton, $616.02; Perry, $1,253.38; Salem, $1,084.13; St. Clair, $1,449.43; Unity, $1,339; Washington, $392.49; Wayne, $176.69; West, $1,205.70, and Yellow Creek, $994.99.

The board authorized a retroactive pay raise from Jan. 1 for the following employes, with former salary in parenthesis:

Nurse, $3,750 ($3,300); clerk I, $3,600 ($3,300); clerk II, $3000 ($2,700); sanitarian $4,600 ;$4,500), and inspector $4,600 ($4,500).

The seventh annual Dr. Robert M. Dunlap Essay contest, sponsored by the board, will be held again this year.

All eighth grade school children in the health district, which includes exempted village schools, are eligible to participate. Board members will again provide the prize from their salaries.

The tentative subject is "The Health Department." Prizes will be $25 for first, $15, second, and $5, third.

The two best essays from each school will be forwarded to County School Supt. James L. McBride's office by April 1 and sent on to the judges, who will be selected later. Prizes will be presented at Youth Day at the annual Columbiana County Fair in August. The school with the first-prize winner will also receive a trophy.

Mrs. Roy Archibald of Minerva R. D. 2 will again handle the contest.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, commissioner, gave his report for the last month and Howard Cole, president, presided.

Aid

sage came earlier than usual this year. The shift represents an administration effort to get the program through Congress before it is caught in the pre-election jam just before summer adjournment. The figures had already come out in the President's budget message last month.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will lead a parade of administration leaders who will testify for the bill. His appearance is scheduled for Wednesday morning before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Eisenhower's foreign aid request, covering the year beginning July 1, included these three new features:

1. More economic and technical assistance for South Asia, including India and Pakistan.

2. An unspecified amount as the American contribution to a big fund the World Bank and other free countries are setting up to promote a settlement of the India-Pakistan quarrel over the waters of the Indus River basin.

3. A new special assistance fund of 20 million dollars to finance an education and training program for African areas south of the Sahara Desert.

In the military aid field, Eisenhower's two-billion-dollar proposal sum included 400 million dollars recommended by his advisers for added modern weapons deliveries to Atlantic pact Allies.

Despite Eisenhower's strong endorsement, foreign aid appears headed for rough treatment, especially in the House. Some key members of the House Appropriations Committee have served notice they are weary of approving foreign aid funds for 14 straight years.

Pleads Innocent

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Robert E. West Jr., a railroad brakeman, Monday pleaded innocent of first-degree murder in the shooting last Thursday of Charles J. Cahill Jr., 34, a Republic Steel Corp. transportation yardmaster. West was bound over to the Mahoning County grand jury without bond.

Indicted For Murder

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Theodore Mackey, 46, charged with shooting his estranged wife in front of several of their children last Jan. 12, has been indicted on a first-degree murder charge. The Preble County Grand Jury returned the indictment Monday.

Coroner Aide Post Filled

LISBON — Dr. James R. Milligan of Salem was appointed deputy Columbiana County coroner by county commissioners Monday.

Dr. Milligan, who will serve without pay, assumes the post left vacant when Dr. A. P. Falkenstein was killed in an auto accident in January.

Dr. Milligan was selected at the recommendation of Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem, coroner.

In other action, the commissioners authorized expenses of $175 for Mrs. Virginia Mast of Leetonia R. D., secretary of the Soldiers Relief Commission, to attend a national rehabilitation meeting Feb. 29-March 4 at Washington.

Russell Reichenbach, county dog warden, was granted permission to attend a meeting of the Eastern Ohio Dog Wardens' Association at Ashland Wednesday with expenses of $10.

The commissioners authorized purchase of equipment for offices in the Courthouse at a total cost of $2,632.25.

The Kennedy Office Supply of East Liverpool will furnish a $279.50 check protector for the Support Division of Juvenile Court and a secretary's chair for $39.50.

The Columbus Blank Book Co. received order for 50,000 title forms and 1,000 duplicate title forms for the clerk of courts office at a total cost of $1,945.

A docket for the Probate Court was purchased for the Johnson-Watson Co. of Dayton for $165.

The Carl Co. of Lisbon received an order for desk for $154.90 and a legal filing cabinet for $47.90.

Gift Chairman Named In Heart Council Plan

LISBON—The Columbiana County Heart Council has appointed Mrs. T. W. Liggett, 804 N. Market St., as memorial gift chairman in the plan to name one in each community to receive memorial contributions in the name of the Heart Fund.

The council said there has been a growing desire in recent years on the part of relatives or friends of persons claimed by heart disease to contribute to the program for combatting the disease.

The chairman will send an appropriate card to the bereaved family, giving the name of the donor but not the amount. An acknowledgement will also be sent to the contributor for tax exemption purposes.

Anyone wishing to make a memorial contribution may contact Mrs. Liggett.

Neff And Associate Are Sued For $12,708

BEAVER — A suit for $12,708 has been filed in Beaver County Court against Samuel G. Neff, former Democratic county boss, and George Mazzant by a Rochester firm for work done at a recreational spot the pair own.

Samuel Piccinini of the Rochester Coal Trucking Co. filed the suit for rental of a grader and bulldozer and a supply of diesel fuel.

Piccinini claimed Neff and Mazzant entered into an agreement Sept. 5, 1957, with the firm for grading and excavating at Huber's Beach near Ellwood City which the two purchased from the Huber Estate.

Soviet Chief Arrives For Burma Visit

RANGOON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in neutralist Burma today on the second stop of his four-nation Asian tour.

Top government officials headed by President U Win Maung and Premier Ne Win greeted the stocky Soviet leader as he descended from the giant Ilyushin turboprop airliner that brought him from India.

Maung welcomed Khrushchev "not as a stranger but as a friend who has come again for the purpose of strengthening the existing ties of friendship which you helped to forge during your first visit (in 1956)."

Khrushchev in reply expressed regret that his stay would be short but said he and the Burmese officials would discuss "some of the important problems of our time which deeply agitate the peoples of the Soviet Union and Burma."

"The most burning problem facing all nations and governments at present is the attainment of universal and stable peace," he added.

About 1,000 persons were at the airport to greet Khrushchev, and only small groups were along the route from the airport to the Presidential Palace, where the Soviet leader had lunch with Maung.

Following a 36-hour stay, Khrushchev moves on to Indonesia, then Afghanistan.

The Premier's departure from Calcutta ended a five-day Indian visit that many observers felt did not measure up to expectations.

A columnist for one of Calcutta's most influential newspapers, Amrita Bazar Patrika, noted the public turnout for Khrushchev was far less than the wildly cheering crowds which greeted President Eisenhower last December.

The major Khrushchev theme the last two days of his visit was that Western economic aid is designed to hold India in "imperialist, economic slavery."

Khrushchev insisted the Soviet Union renders aid only to build industries.

SALINEVILLE — A movie, "School Board In Action," will be screened at a meeting of the Ruritan Club Thursday night at 6:30 at the high school cafeteria.

Civil Service Clerk Named

P. K. Calhoon of Oakwood Ave., a veteran potter and for many years secretary of the IBOP Picnic Committee, was elected clerk of the Municipal Civil Service Commission at a reorganization meeting Monday night.

Calhoon succeeds Collin L. Neal, who announced his resignation as clerk Monday. Neal had served approximately two years. The clerk's post pays $300 a year.

At the same time, Donal I. Burcham was returned as chairman of the commission. The commission is comprised of Burcham and Clarence E. Reagle, Democrats, and Atty. Ben H. Berman, Republican.

The commission had one other applicant for the clerk's post—James Flasco of Idaho Ave., employe of a Midland dry cleaning establishment who has been active in the East Liverpool Democrat Club. Flasco was an unsuccessful candidate for Fourth Ward councilman in the 1959 election.

The motion to name Calhoon was made by Reagle and seconded by Burcham.

The action last night ended a long discussion over scheduling a meeting of the commission in order to organize for 1960.

The next regular meeting falls Feb. 29, but because Reagle is scheduled to work a conflicting shift that date at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. the session may be held on Feb. 25.

4-H News

Allen Knizat of Salem R. D. 2 was named president of the Columbiana County 4-H Tractor Club during election of officers at the reorganization meeting Monday night at the Gause & Ritchie Farm Supply near Guilford Lake.

Other officers named were Wayne Walton of Salem R. D. 2, vice president; William Skeels of Lisbon R. D. 4, secretary; Fred Hippely of Salem R. D. 3, news reporter, and Jack Farmer of Salem R. D. 3, sheriff.

Thirty members and parents were present. Charles Gause and Walter Coie, advisors, spoke on the club's organization. Project books were reviewed. Al Cook of Lisbon R. D., a representative of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, sponsor of tractor club projects, spoke briefly.

The next meeting will be Monday at 8 p. m. at the farm supply. Feb. 29 has been set as the date for closing membership in the club, according to Don Myers, county agriculture extension agent.

GOP Perks Up After Nixon's Detroit Visit

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's whirlwind visit to Detroit left Michigan Republicans with new hope today they would stage a comeback election battle for some long-sought major offices.

"A great shot in the arm," said GOP Chairman Lawrence Lindemer of Nixon's one-day speechmaking tour Monday of Detroit. "It was a big, big boost."

Next November, the state Republican organization will attempt to gain a U.S. Senate seat now held by Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) and win a governor's election — a political battle that has not even been close since Democrat G. Mennen Williams first was elected in 1948.

Nixon described Michigan as a pivotal state in the November election. He promised he would devote special attention to it to insure that it would be in the Republican column.

The vice president and his wife, Pat, spent a busy day in Detroit before returning to Washington Monday night.

He made three speeches, covering virtually every phase of the Eisenhower administration's domestic and foreign policies. More than 6,500 persons heard him.

'Good Samaritan' Story Rejected In Tavern Fight Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today rejected the defense put up by an East Liverpool man that he was playing the role of the "Good Samaritan" and attempting to break up a tavern brawl when he was taken into custody by police early Saturday morning on a fighting charge.

Judge Chertoff decreed a fine of $25 and costs for Carl Lee Baker of Logan St., declaring that the testimony indicated Baker was participating in the fight and not attempting to help the bartender break it up, as he claimed.

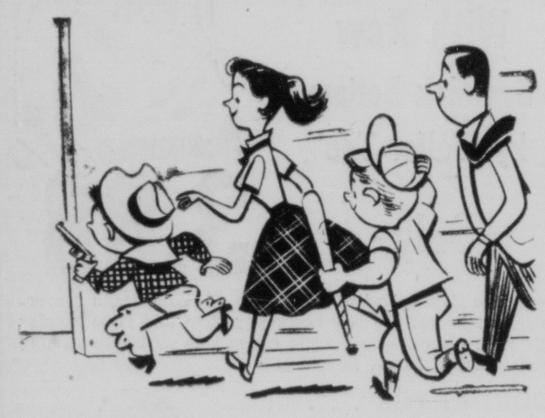

Baker was cited in the City Bar in Diamond Alley, along with Brady G. Mercer of Harrison St., Newell, and Donald J. Nally of Finley Rd., Chester. The two others were fined $25 and costs yesterday, but Baker's case was continued until today after he entered a denial.

Lt. Mike Winters testified today he arrested the trio after observing Mercer and Nally on the floor of the tavern fighting, with Baker standing over Mercer and punching him. Baker told the court he was attempting to help break up the fight.

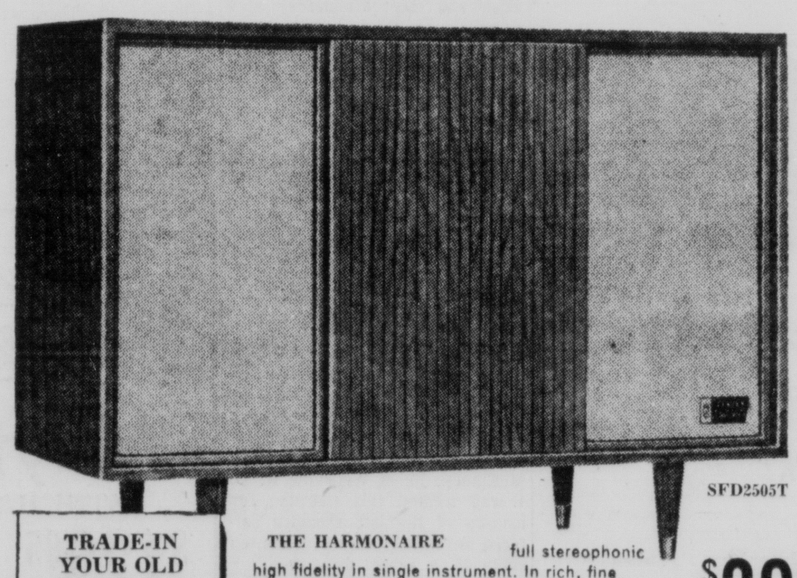

The judge commented he found parts of Baker's testimony were untrue. In addition, he pointed out, Lt. Winters testified Baker and some companions had been ejected from the Diamond Restaurant late Friday night for fighting.

County Health Board Trims Budget For '61

LISBON — A proposed 1961 Columbiana County Health Department budget of $43,550 — $750 less than the current budget — was approved by the Board of Health at a meeting Monday night at the Courthouse.

The appropriation schedule—$500 more than anticipated receipts—is to be presented to the County Budget Commisssion for approval and will also be reviewed by the Health Advisory Council at a meeting March 7.

The budget includes:

Health commissioner's salary, $13,500; nurse, $4,000; Clerk I, $3,750; clerk II, $3,150; sanitarian, $4,750; inspector, $4,600; medical supplies, $450; office supplies, $800; board members' expense, $400; travel, $2,608.33; miscellaneous, $1,053; workmens' compensation, $500; retirement, $2,872.13; equipment, $250, and restaurant inspection program, $866.67.

Estimated revenue includes local taxes, $25,000; federal aid, $3,750; state aid, $1,900; sanitation fees, $10,000, and restaurant fees, $2,400.

A breakdown of township taxes shows:

Butler, $991.12; Center, $1,258.68; Elkrun, $779.94; Fairfield, $2,855.05; Franklin, $481.21; Hanover, $1,061.04; Knox, $1,678.91; Liverpool, $1,284.43; Madison, $562.18; Middleton, $616.02; Perry, $1,253.38; Salem, $1,084.13; St. Clair, $1,449.43; Unity, $1,339; Washington, $392.49; Wayne, $176.69; West, $1,205.70, and Yellow Creek, $994.99.

The board authorized a retroactive pay raise from Jan. 1 for the following employes, with former salary in parenthesis:

Nurse, $3,750 ($3,300); clerk I, $3,600 ($3,300); clerk II, $3000 ($2,700); sanitarian $4,600 :$4,500), and inspector $4,600 ($4,500).

The seventh annual Dr. Robert M. Dunlap Essay contest, sponsored by the board, will be held again this year.

All eighth grade school children in the health district, which includes exempted village schools, are eligible to participate. Board members will again provide the prize from their salaries.

The tentative subject is "The Health Department." Prizes will be $25 for first, $15, second, and $5, third.

The two best essays from each school will be forwarded to County School Supt. James L. McBride's office by April 1 and sent on to the judges, who will be selected later. Prizes will be presented at Youth Day at the annual Columbiana County Fair in August. The school with the first-prize winner will also receive a trophy.

Mrs. Roy Archibald of Minerva R. D. 2 will again handle the contest.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, commissioner, gave his report for the last month and Howard Cole, president, presided.

Aid

sage came earlier than usual this year. The shift represents an administration effort to get the program through Congress before it is caught in the pre-election jam just before summer adjournment. The figures had already come out in the President's budget message last month.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will lead a parade of administration leaders who will testify for the bill. His appearance is scheduled for Wednesday morning before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Eisenhower's foreign aid request, covering the year beginning July 1, included these three new features:

1. More economic and technical assistance for South Asia, including India and Pakistan.

2. An unspecified amount as the American contribution to a big fund the World Bank and other free countries are setting up to promote a settlement of the India-Pakistan quarrel over the waters of the Indus River basin.

3. A new special assistance fund of 20 million dollars to finance an education and training program for African areas south of the Sahara Desert.

In the military aid field, Eisenhower's two-billion-dollar proposal sum included 400 million dollars recommended by his advisers for added modern weapons deliveries to Atlantic pact Allies.

Despite Eisenhower's strong endorsement, foreign aid appears headed for rough treatment, especially in the House. Some key members of the House Appropriations Committee have served notice they are weary of approving foreign aid funds for 14 straight years.

Pleads Innocent

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Robert E. West Jr., a railroad brakeman, Monday pleaded innocent of first-degree murder in the shooting last Thursday of Charles J. Cahill Jr., 34, a Republic Steel Corp. transportation yardmaster. West was bound over to the Mahoning County grand jury without bond.

Indicted For Murder

Coroner Aide Post Filled

LISBON — Dr. James R. Milligan of Salem was appointed deputy Columbiana County coroner by county commissioners Monday.

Dr. Milligan, who will serve without pay, assumes the post left vacant when Dr. A. P. Falkenstein was killed in an auto accident in January.

Dr. Milligan was selected at the recommendation of Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem, coroner.

In other action, the commissioners authorized expenses of $175 for Mrs. Virginia Mast of Leetonia R. D., secretary of the Soldiers Relief Commission, to attend a national rehabilitation meeting Feb. 29-March 4 at Washington.

Russell Reichenbach, county dog warden, was granted permission to attend a meeting of the Eastern Ohio Dog Wardens' Association at Ashland Wednesday with expenses of $10.

The commissioners authorized purchase of equipment for offices in the Courthouse at a total cost of $2,632.25.

The Kennedy Office Supply of East Liverpool will furnish a $279.50 check protector for the Support Division of Juvenile Court and a secretary's chair for $39.50.

The Columbus Blank Book Co. received order for 50,000 title forms and 1,000 duplicate title forms for the clerk of courts office at a total cost of $1,945.

A docket for the Probate Court was purchased for the Johnson-Watson Co. of Dayton for $165.

The Carl Co. of Lisbon received an order for desk for $154.90 and a legal filing cabinet for $47.90.

Gift Chairman Named In Heart Council Plan

LISBON—The Columbiana County Heart Council has appointed Mrs. T. W. Liggett, 804 N. Market St., as memorial gift chairman in the plan to name one in each community to receive memorial contributions in the name of the Heart Fund.

The council said there has been a growing desire in recent years on the part of relatives or friends of persons claimed by heart disease to contribute to the program for combatting the disease.

The chairman will send an appropriate card to the bereaved family, giving the name of the donor but not the amount. An acknowledgement will also be sent to the contributor for tax exemption purposes.

Anyone wishing to make a memorial contribution may contact Mrs. Liggett.

Neff And Associate Are Sued For $12,708

BEAVER — A suit for $12,708 has been filed in Beaver County Court against Samuel G. Neff, former Democratic county boss, and George Mazzant by a Rochester firm for work done at a recreational spot the pair own.

Samuel Piccinini of the Rochester Coal Trucking Co. filed the suit for rental of a grader and bulldozer and a supply of diesel fuel.

Piccinini claimed Neff and Mazzant entered into an agreement Sept. 5, 1957, with the firm for grading and excavating at Huber's Beach near Ellwood City which the two purchased from the Huber Estate.

Soviet Chief Arrives For Burma Visit

Top government officials headed by President U Win Maung and Premier Ne Win greeted the stocky Soviet leader as he descended from the giant Ilyushin turboprop airliner that brought him from india.

Maung welcomed Khrushchev "not as a stranger but as a friend who has come again for the purpose of strengthening the existing ties of friendship which you helped to forge during your first visit (in 1956)."

Khrushchev in reply expressed regret that his stay would be short but said he and the Burmese officials would discuss "some of the important problems of our time which deeply agitate the peoples of the Soviet Union and Burma."

"The most burning problem facing all nations and governments at present is the attainment of universal and stable peace," he added.

About 1,000 persons were at the airport to greet Khrushchev, and only small groups were along the route from the airport to the Presidential Palace, where the Soviet leader had lunch with Maung.

Following a 36-hour stay, Khrushchev moves on to Indonesia, then Afghanistan.

The Premier's departure from Calcutta ended a five-day Indian visit that many observers felt did not measure up to expectations.

A columnist for one of Calcutta's most influential newspapers, Amrita Bazar Patrika, noted the public turnout for Khrushchev was far less than the wildly cheering crowds which greeted President Eisenhower last December.

The major Khrushchev theme the last two days of his visit was that Western economic aid is designed to hold India in "imperialist, economic slavery."

Khrushchev insisted the Soviet Union renders aid only to build industries.

SALINEVILLE — A movie, "School Board In Action," will be screened at a meeting of the Ruritan Club Thursday night at 6:30 at the high school cafeteria.

Civil Service Clerk Named

P. K. Calhoon of Oakwood Ave., a veteran potter and for many years secretary of the IBOP Picnic Committee, was elected clerk of the Municipal Civil Service Commission at a reorganization meeting Monday night.

Calhoon succeeds Collin L. Neal, who announced his resignation as clerk Monday. Neal had served approximately two years. The clerk's post pays $300 a year.

At the same time, Donal I. Burcham was returned as chairman of the commission. The commission is comprised of Burcham and Clarence E. Reagle, Democrats, and Atty. Ben H. Berman, Republican.

The commission had one other applicant for the clerk's post—James Flasco of Idaho Ave., employe of a Midland dry cleaning establishment who has been active in the East Liverpool Democrat Club. Flasco was an unsuccessful candidate for Fourth Ward councilman in the 1959 election.

The motion to name Calhoon was made by Reagle and seconded by Burcham.

The action last night ended a long discussion over scheduling a meeting of the commission in order to organize for 1960.

The next regular meeting falls Feb. 29, but because Reagle is scheduled to work a conflicting shift that date at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. the session may be held on Feb. 25.

4-H News

Allen Knizat of Salem R. D. 2 was named president of the Columbiana County 4-H Tractor Club during election of officers at the reorganization meeting Monday night at the Gause & Ritchie Farm Supply near Guilford Lake.

Other officers named were Wayne Walton of Salem R. D. 2, vice president; William Skeels of Lisbon R. D. 4, secretary; Fred Hippely of Salem R. D. 3, news reporter, and Jack Farmer of Salem R. D. 3, sheriff.

Thirty members and parents were present. Charles Gause and Walter Coie, advisors, spoke on the club's organization. Project books were reviewed. Al Cook of Lisbon R. D., a representative of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, sponsor of tractor club projects, spoke briefly.

The next meeting will be Monday at 8 p. m. at the farm supply. Feb. 29 has been set as the date for closing membership in the club, according to Don Myers, county agriculture extension agent.

GOP Perks Up After Nixon's Detroit Visit

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's whirlwind visit to Detroit left Michigan Republicans with new hope today they would stage a comeback election battle for some long-sought major offices.

"A great shot in the arm," said GOP Chairman Lawrence Lindemer of Nixon's one-day speechmaking tour Monday of Detroit. "It was a big, big boost."

Next November, the state Republican organization will attempt to gain a U.S. Senate seat now held by Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) and win a governor's election — a political battle that has not even been close since Democrat G. Mennen Williams first was elected in 1948.

Nixon described Michigan as a pivotal state in the November election. He promised he would devote special attention to it to insure that it would be in the Republican column.

The vice president and his wife, Pat, spent a busy day in Detroit before returning to Washington Monday night.

He made three speeches, covering virtually every phase of the Eisenhower administration's domestic and foreign policies. More than 6,500 persons heard him.

'Good Samaritan' Story Rejected In Tavern Fight Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today rejected the defense put up by an East Liverpool man that he was playing the role of the "Good Samaritan" and attempting to break up a tavern brawl when he was taken into custody by police early Saturday morning on a fighting charge.

Judge Chertoff decreed a fine of $25 and costs for Carl Lee Baker of Logan St., declaring that the testimony indicated Baker was participating in the fight and not attempting to help the bartender break it up, as he claimed.

Baker was cited in the City Bar in Diamond Alley, along with Brady G. Mercer of Harrison St., Newell, and Donald J. Nally of Finley Rd., Chester. The two others were fined $25 and costs yesterday, but Baker's case was continued until today after he entered a denial.

Lt. Mike Winters testified today he arrested the trio after observing Mercer and Nally on the floor of the tavern fighting, with Baker standing over Mercer and punching him. Baker told the court he was attempting to help break up the fight.

The judge commented he found parts of Baker's testimony were untrue. In addition, he pointed out, Lt. Winters testified Baker and some companions had been ejected from the Diamond Restaurant late Friday night for fighting.

Prices Lower On Some Food

If you're looking for a ready-made food shopping list for February — one that guarantees good eating at low cost — you'll find it in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for next month, according to Ed Watkins of the Agricultural Extension Service.

It wasn't planned by the department, but one of the nicest things about the list is that it includes many foods with which you can prepare complete meals, he said.

Pork is featured on the February list, along with eggs, cabbage, carrots, sweet potatoes and dry beans. These foods alone provide the makings for many low-cost, delicious meals, such as bacon and eggs for breakfast, ham or ham salad sandwiches for lunch, or pork loin roast with sweet potatoes for dinner, to mention a few meal possibilities, Watkins said.

Broiler and fryer chickens also are on the February list of plentiful foods.

Oranges are so plentiful they're another featured item on the February list. And if you want a happy change, you can switch to grapefruit which is another February "plentiful."

Onions to flavor your cooking and raisins for use in desserts or salad also are on the list.

Peanuts and peanut products are represented — ideal food for between-meal snacks. Another excellent choice for snacks are apples, with a wide variety of shipped and local varieties available.

40 Attend Program

Police Chief Tells Jaycees Of Studies At FBI School

Police Chief Americo Radeschi outlined the studies at an FBI School he attended last fall and announced plans to start a local training program soon, in his talk Monday night before the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Forty attended the meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Radeschi said he studied records and administration as well as judo, defensive and disarming tactics and spent one week learning to fire rifles, tommyguns, shotguns and sidearms. "I personally fired 5,000 rounds," he said.

He said classes were held daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Instructors included professors, police chiefs and FBI agents. The agents furnished all the necessary materials and the only cost to the city was for lodging and meals.

Radeschi said the purpose of the academy, located at Washington, is to properly train police officers to be better instructors in their own departments and to work more closely with the FBI and neighboring police units.

He said he will begin training classes for members of his own department in the near future." I originally planned to begin in January but had to delay the program because some of the patrolmen are off ill," he said.

Radeschi was introduced by William Webber, program chairman. Ten new members were inducted during a ceremony conducted by George Hales, membership chairman. They are Doug Capehart, John Eiferd, Bernard Fineman, Eston Maple, Ralph Morgan, Dan Payne, Ted Robinson, Paul Seckman, Flody Suarez and Al Turbessi. Hales announced that the Steubenville Jaycees had refused a membership drive challenge.

Don Triller, city Heart Fund chairman, announced that 500 letters have been mailed various individuals asking for donations. The Jaycees sponsor the drive in East Liverpool.

Triller said Heart Sunday will be Feb. 28. Over 250 volunteers will conduct a house-to-house campaign in the afternoon. Triller asked for volunteers to help count the money at the YMCA.

Triller, who also is Junior Bowling League chairman, announced that shirts have been distributed to members of the teams, which are composed of high school youths.

Ed Adkins, president, reported on the Presidents' Council meeting for District 7 held Thursday night at Carrollton. B. J. Mangano, chairman, announced plans for a Speak-Up Jaycee contest to be held in March.

Russ Hall reported on arrangements for the District 7 meeting March 10 at the Elks Club. Howard Pearch, vice president, presided.

New project chairmen announced included Dick Emmerling, sunrise Easter service; Bill Sutherland, innerclub golf and steak fry; Delmar Manning, Teenage Road-E-O; John Duffy, post-prom party; Dick Martin, junior golf tournament, and Robert Hoover, inaugural ball.

Adkins announced the March All-State meeting will be held March 26-27 at Akron. Pearch reviewed proposed plans for the remainder of the meetings.

Bob Lewis will be program chairman for the March session. The date hasn't been set.

The Board of Directors will meet March 7.

Professor Cited In Obscene Literature Case Dies At 64

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—An assistant professor of English at the College of Wooster, who had been charged with possessing obscene pictures, died in Wooster Community Hospital today.

George W. Bradford, 64, a bachelor who was graduated from the college in 1921 and joined its faculty that year as an instructor in French, was admitted to the hospital about 2 p.m. Monday and died at 8:15 a.m. today.

He was in a coma and under an oxygen tent for his entire stay in the hospital, and because death occurred less than 24 hours after his admission, an autopsy is required. Dr. Lyman Adair, Wayne County coroner, said cause of death would not be listed until the autopsy.

Bradford had been free under $2,000 bond following a charge last Friday that he had possession of of obscene material. Prosecutor James K. Leedy said 200 pounds of material his office considered obscene was found in a steamer trunk at the home which Bradford shared with a sister, Mrs. Leota Meyers.

The material included nude photographs, photographic materials and books. Bradford said he had been interested for years in line drawings, paintings and photography and added:

"I hope there will be no misinterpretations about this."

The case was continued by Municipal Court Judge Howard D. King to permit Bradford to obtain an attorney.

Dr. Howard Lowry, president of the College of Wooster, said Friday Bradford was relieved of his college duties at Bradford's own and voluntary request. Lowry said at the time the administration would take no further action pending outcome of the case in the courts.

In addition to the sister here, Bradford is survived by a sister in Cleveland, Mrs. Margaret Meyers, and a brother, Hiram, of Oberlin.

Bradford obtained his master's degree at Western Reserve University in 1926 and did additional graduate study in 1926-28 at the University of Wisconsin. He had written a volume of poetry, "Wayside Lyrics," and was a contributor to poetry magazines.

Manslaughter Verdict Near

A verdict was expected today in the trial of a second degree manslaughter case stemming from a traffic accident in East Liverpool March 8, 1959.

Bernard John Icenhower, 41, of Canal Fulton R. D. 1, formerly of East Liverpool, is the defendant. He was driver of a car which struck a parked tractor and trailer on E. 3rd St., fatally injuring his passenger, Murl Oney, 37, who died the following day.

The state claims the defendant was driving while intoxicated and in a reckless manner. The defense countered that defendant veered to avoid another car and hit the illegally parked rig.

The jury was sworn in Monday afternoon after the driver was unable to appear in the forenoon due to snowy highways. Judge Raymond Buzzard seated the following panel:

Mable Neal, Grace E. Haney, Herbert Sell, Stella Paisley and Charles Dunlevy of East Liverpool; Richard Knepper of Wellsville, Hilda Blackburn, Irene Gbur and Anna O'Hara of Salem, Robert Muhleman, Mary Kampfer and Harry Pollock of Lisbon. George Bradfield of East Liverpool is alternate.

Crime Study Unit Receives $22,000 Grant

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia Crime and Delinquency Council has received a $22,000 grant to continue its studies of the state's correctional system, Chairman Charles M. Love announced today.

The grant came from the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation of Pittsburgh, established by the late oil millionaire, Michael Late Benedum, as a memorial to his son.

The West Virginia Crime and Delinquency Council was set up in 1958 under auspices of the National Probation and Parole Assn. It operated until this year on a grant from the Ford Foundation.

"This grant," said Love, "will enable the council to continue its studies of West Virginia's correctional system and prepare a legislative program for the next general session in 1961."

Love has called a meeting of the council for Feb. 24 in Charleston. Since its organization, the council has visited all of West Virginia's penal and correctional institutions.

Now Science Stops Useless* Coughing with a Tiny Tablet and a sip of water!

Controls nerves that control coughing due to colds and excessive smoking. Helps break up bronchial congestion—raises phlegm.

* What is useless coughing?
There are two kinds of coughs: 1. Productive—the occasional useful cough that clears the throat and bronchial tubes. DONDRIL does not interfere with the useful cough. 2. Non-Productive—the nagging cough that racks the body, uselessly, and serves no purpose. DONDRIL stops useless coughing.

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Special) A major breakthrough in cough control is now announced with the introduction to the public of a new anti-cough tablet. It's a tiny tablet...to be taken with a sip of water. Working through the bloodstream, this remarkable tablet stops useless coughing up to 6 full hours. Called DONDRIL Anti-Cough Tablets, this entirely new concept in cough control is now available without prescription.

The astonishing relief offered by DONDRIL is made possible by a combination of three great medicines...a unique antitussive, a medically-proven decongestant and an exclusive antihistamine. DONDRIL has twice the effectiveness of codeine, yet is non-narcotic. Get DONDRIL Anti-Cough Tablets. Money back if not satisfied.

Prices Lower On Some Food

If you're looking for a ready-made food shopping list for February — one that guarantees good eating at low cost — you'll find it in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for next month, according to Ed Watkins of the Agricultural Extension Service.

It wasn't planned by the department, but one of the nicest things about the list is that it includes many foods with which you can prepare complete meals, he said.

Pork is featured on the February list, along with eggs, cabbage, carrots, sweet potatoes and dry beans. These foods alone provide the makings for many low-cost, delicious meals, such as bacon and eggs for breakfast, ham or ham salad sandwiches for lunch, or pork loin roast with sweet potatoes for dinner, to mention a few meal possibilities, Watkins said.

Broiler and fryer chickens also are on the February list of plentiful foods.

Oranges are so plentiful they're another featured item on the February list. And if you want a happy change, you can switch to grapefruit which is another February "plentiful."

Onions to flavor your cooking and raisins for use in desserts or salad also are on the list.

Peanuts and peanut products are represented — ideal food for between-meal snacks. Another excellent choice for snacks are apples, with a wide variety of shipped and local varieties available.

40 Attend Program

Police Chief Tells Jaycees Of Studies At FBI School

Police Chief Americo Radeschi outlined the studies at an FBI School he attended last fall and announced plans to start a local training program soon, in his talk Monday night before the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Forty attended the meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Radeschi said he studied records and administration as well as judo, defensive and disarming tactics and spent one week learning to fire rifles, tommyguns, shotguns and sidearms. "I personally fired 5,000 rounds," he said.

He said classes were held daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Instructors included professors, police chiefs and FBI agents. The agents furnished all the necessary materials and the only cost to the city was for lodging and meals.

Radeschi said the purpose of the academy, located at Washington, is to properly train police officers to be better instructors in their own departments and to work more closely with the FBI and neighboring police units.

He said he will begin training classes for members of his own department in the near future." I originally planned to begin in January but had to delay the program because some of the patrolmen are off ill," he said.

Radeschi was introduced by William Webber, program chairman. Ten new members were inducted during a ceremony conducted by George Hales, membership chairman. They are Doug Capehart, John Eiferd, Bernard Fineman, Eston Maple, Ralph Morgan, Dan Payne, Ted Robinson, Paul Seckman, Flody Suarez and Al Turbessi. Hales announced that the Steubenville Jaycees had refused a membership drive challenge.

Don Triller, city Heart Fund chairman, announced that 500 letters have been mailed various individuals asking for donations. The Jaycees sponsor the drive in East Liverpool.

Triller said Heart Sunday will be Feb. 28. Over 250 volunteers will conduct a house-to-house campaign in the afternoon. Triller asked for volunteers to help count the money at the YMCA.

Triller, who also is Junior Bowling League chairman, announced that shirts have been distributed to members of the teams, which are composed of high school youths.

Ed Adkins, president, reported on the Presidents' Council meeting for District 7 held Thursday night at Carrollton. B. J. Mangano, chairman, announced plans for a Speak-Up Jaycee contest to be held in March.

Russ Hall reported on arrangements for the District 7 meeting March 10 at the Elks Club. Howard Pearch, vice president, presided.

New project chairmen announced included Dick Emmerling, sunrise Easter service; Bill Sutherland, innerclub golf and steak fry; Delmar Manning, Teenage Road-E-O; John Duffy, post-prom party; Dick Martin, junior golf tournament, and Robert Hoover, inaugural ball.

Adkins announced the March All-State meeting will be held March 26-27 at Akron. Pearch reviewed proposed plans for the remainder of the meetings.

Bob Lewis will be program chairman for the March session. The date hasn't been set.

The Board of Directors will meet March 7.

Professor Cited In Obscene Literature Case Dies At 64

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—An assistant professor of English at the College of Wooster, who had been charged with possessing obscene pictures, died in Wooster Community Hospital today.

George W. Bradford, 64, a bachelor who was graduated from the college in 1921 and joined its faculty that year as an instructor in French, was admitted to the hospital about 2 p.m. Monday and died at 8:15 a.m. today.

He was in a coma and under an oxygen tent for his entire stay in the hospital, and because death occurred less than 24 hours after his admission, an autopsy is required. Dr. Lyman Adair, Wayne County coroner, said cause of death would not be listed until the autopsy.

Bradford had been free under $2,000 bond following a charge last Friday that he had possession of of obscene material. Prosecutor James K. Leedy said 200 pounds of material his office considered obscene was found in a steamer trunk at the home which Bradford shared with a sister, Mrs. Leota Meyers.

The material included nude photographs, photographic materials and books. Bradford said he had been interested for years in line drawings, paintings and photography and added:

"I hope there will be no misinterpretations about this."

The case was continued by Municipal Court Judge Howard D. King to permit Bradford to obtain an attorney.

Dr. Howard Lowry, president of the College of Wooster, said Friday Bradford was relieved of his college duties at Bradford's own and voluntary request. Lowry said at the time the administration would take no further action pending outcome of the case in the courts.

In addition to the sister here, Bradford is survived by a sister in Cleveland, Mrs. Margaret Meyers, and a brother, Hiram, of Oberlin.

Bradford obtained his master's degree at Western Reserve University in 1926 and did additional graduate study in 1926-28 at the University of Wisconsin. He had written a volume of poetry, "Wayside Lyrics," and was a contributor to poetry magazines.

Manslaughter Verdict Near

A verdict was expected today in the trial of a second degree manslaughter case stemming from a traffic accident in East Liverpool March 8, 1959.

Bernard John Icenhower, 41, of Canal Fulton R. D. 1, formerly of East Liverpool, is the defendant. He was driver of a car which struck a parked tractor and trailer on E. 3rd St., fatally injuring his passenger, Murl Oney, 37, who died the following day.

The state claims the defendant was driving while intoxicated and in a reckless manner. The defense countered that defendant veered to avoid another car and hit the illegally parked rig.

The jury was sworn in Monday afternoon after the driver was unable to appear in the forenoon due to snowy highways. Judge Raymond Buzzard seated the following panel:

Mable Neal, Grace E. Haney, Herbert Sell, Stella Paisley and Charles Dunlevy of East Liverpool; Richard Knepper of Wellsville, Hilda Blackburn, Irene Gbur and Anna O'Hara of Salem, Robert Muhleman, Mary Kampfer and Harry Pollock of Lisbon. George Bradfield of East Liverpool is alternate.

Crime Study Unit Receives $22,000 Grant

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia Crime and Delinquency Council has received a $22,000 grant to continue its studies of the state's correctional system, Chairman Charles M. Love announced today.

The grant came from the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation of Pittsburgh, established by the late oil millionaire, Michael Late Benedum, as a memorial to his son.

The West Virginia Crime and Delinquency Council was set up in 1958 under auspices of the National Probation and Parole Assn. It operated until this year on a grant from the Ford Foundation.

"This grant," said Love, "will enable the council to continue its studies of West Virginia's correctional system and prepare a legislative program for the next general session in 1961."

Love has called a meeting of the council for Feb. 24 in Charleston. Since its organization, the council has visited all of West Virginia's penal and correctional institutions.

Blackout Lights Used For Chasing Poachers

PIERRE, S. D. (AP) — Blackout lights, familiar to combat soldiers of World War II and Korea, are finding a new purpose in South Dakota.

Game wardens are using them to increase the safety factor in chasing down persons poaching game by night. The state service began installing the blackout lights on patrol cars after two wardens were injured when their vehicles collided headon as they were attempting to trap a deer poacher.

Snow

heart of the downtown area, clearing away melted snow which had turned into thick layers of ice.

"We are trying to do as good a job as possible under existing conditions," the mayor told Council. "We don't have much equipment for this sort of job. We have no snow plows.

"But using a snow plow in the city streets is not comparable to using it in a rural area," the mayor continued. "In the rural areas, you do not have parked cars and sidewalks on both sides of the street. If we used a snow plow in most sections of the city, we would only be throwing the snow off the street onto parked cars or onto sidewalks."

"The administration, if it desired, could have hired a lot of expensive equipment and operators to remove the snow," the mayor continued. "We feel the city doesn't have the money for such an undertaking. In addition to the work of the city crews, we hope mother nature will help take care of the snow in a few days."

The mayor recalled he was a member of Council during the "Big Snow" of 1950, in which the city spent over $21,000 to hire equipment and operators for the cleanup.

"We are going to try to do it this time without unnecessary expense," Goodballet said. "If the people will bear with us a few days, we feel we will have the problem solved satisfactorily. "If we spent money now to hire equipment, we would not have funds to operate our departments next fall."

"The administration wishes to thank the public; they have been patient and co-operative," the mayor added.

Goodballet asked Council to consider purchase of additional snow removal equipment if funds can be made available. He said he realizes the city's financial condition will not permit large-scale purchases of such equipment, but asked Council to give the problem consideration if funds can be found.

The administration will not make it a practice to attempt to make an impression on the public by asking for purchase of equipment which it knows Council cannot finance, the mayor concluded.

Wellsville Pushes Removal Of Snow

The city started early Monday morning to remove the large piles of snow at the edge of the sidewalks.

Two high-lift diggers and two trucks were rented to augment city equipment. All the snow has been removed on both sides of Main from 3rd St. to 5th St. and from 5th to 6th St. on the north side.

Plans call for removal to 7th St. on both sides. The snow is being dumped in empty lots about town.

Children's Home Project Pushed

A remodeling program to aid in fire prevention is continuing at the Hancock County Children's Home at Pughtown, it was reported when the Board of Trustees met Monday night in New Cumberland.

Cyrus Spear of Weirton, executive secretary, said metal fire doors have been installed and dormitories painted in the home on State Route 2.

Fire escapes will be installed as soon as they arrive. The remodeling program — necessitated by recommendations of the state fire marshal — will cost $4,000.

William C. Graham of Chester, county commissioner from Grant District, presided in the absence of Dave N. Thomas of Weirton, president, who is vacationing in Florida.

Winter Fish House Development Goes Up

BRAINERD, Minn. (AP) — The winter fish house development on big Mille Lacs Lake near here keeps going up and up.

Game Warden Bill Morris of Brainerd took an aerial survey and said there was a 17 per cent expansion this season over last year. He counted 4,295 fish houses. Last year the count showed 3,760.

Student Elected

IRONDALE—William S. Banfield, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Banfield, has been elected chronicler for his fraternity, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, at Mt. Union College at Alliance. A sophomore sociology major, he is also a member of the Chapel Choir and the Current Business Forum and is an apprentice in the school's Players Drama Association.

Savory Snack Breads Aid In Entertainment

Snack breads with exciting new flavors are just the thing for entertaining.

These "little loaves" can benefit from the addition of a favorite sandwich spread, but they are tasty enough "as is" to make family and friends ask for more.

Savory Snack Breads

1 cup milk
3 tablespoons sugar
2½ teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons shortening
1 cup warm (not hot) water
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
6 cups sifted flour (about)
1½ teaspoons each of bleu cheese, garlic, exotic herbs and cheese garlic salad dressing mixes

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening and cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large bowl (warm, not hot, for active dry yeast) lukewarm for compressed). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Add 3 cups of the flour and beat until smooth.

Stir in remaining flour to make soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, adding more flour if necessary. Place in greased bowl; brush with shortening.

Cover and let rise in warm place (85 Deg.), free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide dough into quarters. Roll out each quarter into an 8-inch square. Brush lightly with melted margarine or butter. Sprinkle each square with 1½ teaspoons of salad dressing mix.

Roll up as for jelly roll. Seal edges firmly. Place on greased baking sheet with sealed edges down. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 400 Deg. F 25 to 30 minutes.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband works in an office. He is supposed to get Thursdays off. Very often his boss calls him about noon on Thursday and asks if he'd mind coming in "for a few hours" (without pay, I might add).

My husband says in a sweet voice, "I'd be glad to. No trouble at all. I wasn't doing anything anyway." All the while I can see that he's so burned up you could fry and egg on his head.

When he comes home he takes out his meanness on me and the kids. Last week he even kicked the cat. I've told him the next time the boss calls he should tell him right out that he has something planned and won't be able to come in. He says a man in business can't do such things.

I'm sick of having to put up with his ugly temper every time this happens. What can I do?—UPSET WIFE.

Dear Upset: Many people take out their hostilities on innocent bystanders who can't retaliate. Wives and children are favorite scapegoats.

Your husband would like to kick the boss but he's afraid the boss might kick him back (or out)—so he kicks the cat instead.

Tell him you're through being his whipping girl. Suggest he vent his anger on a punching bag or a golf ball. A fast trot around the block is an effective way to let off steam. There'd be fewer abused wives around if they'd put their indignation up where their mouth is.

No Package Deal

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in the letter from the woman who complained because the local press photographer made her the laughing stock of the town by catching her in unflattering poses with a stupid look on her face. You defended the photographers by saying they do their best and if the woman is so unhappy with the pictures to stay out of camera range.

I think this woman may have a valid complaint since witnessing what press and magazine photographers did to a friend of mine, Earl Long of Louisiana. They slaughtered him by printing pictures which made him look mentally deranged. A camera can be a lethal weapon in the hands of a skilled photographer and you know it. Mr. Long is as sane as you or I.—NEW ORLEANS READER.

Dear Reader: Speak for yourself and don't make any package statements for me, bub. I am not qualified to pass judgment on the mental condition of Mr. Long. The voters of Louisiana expressed themselves in the recent election.

See A Specialist

Dear Ann: I'm a boy 17 with the most terrible case of acne anybody ever saw. Several of the follows in our school have light cases but mine is really a mess.

My aunt who runs everything told my mother that it's just the stage I'm in and I'll outgrow it. She also told Mom that overdoctoring with skin eruptions usually makes them worse. Well I am so sick of myself that I'm ready to quit school and go into hiding.

You seem to be a friend to teenagers and you give them the straight goods even if it hurts. I'll consider you a friend for life if you help me.—HORRIBLE SIGHT.

Dear Sight: Is your aunt a doctor? If not tell her you'll get your medical opinions from someone who knows what he's talking about.

Acne usually responds to a change in diet, medication and lamp treatments. See a skin specialists at once.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Southern Local Lifts School Entrance Age

Blackout Lights Used For Chasing Poachers

PIERRE, S. D. (AP) — Blackout lights, familiar to combat soldiers of World War II and Korea, are finding a new purpose in South Dakota.

Game wardens are using them to increase the safety factor in chasing down persons poaching game by night. The state service began installing the blackout lights on patrol cars after two wardens were injured when their vehicles collided headon as they were attempting to trap a deer poacher.

The wedding will take place June 11 at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor, will officiate.

Snow

heart of the downtown area, clearing away melted snow which had turned into thick layers of ice.

"We are trying to do as good a job as possible under existing conditions," the mayor told Council. "We don't have much equipment for this sort of job. We have no snow plows.

"But using a snow plow in the city streets is not comparable to using it in a rural area," the mayor continued. "In the rural areas, you do not have parked cars and sidewalks on both sides of the street. If we used a snow plow in most sections of the city, we would only be throwing the snow off the street onto parked cars or onto sidewalks."

"The administration, if it desired, could have hired a lot of expensive equipment and operators to remove the snow," the mayor continued. "We feel the city doesn't have the money for such an undertaking. In addition to the work of the city crews, we hope mother nature will help take care of the snow in a few days."

The mayor recalled he was a member of Council during the "Big Snow" of 1950, in which the city spent over $21,000 to hire equipment and operators for the cleanup.

"We are going to try to do it this time without unnecessary expense," Goodballet said. "If the people will bear with us a few days, we feel we will have the problem solved satisfactorily. "If we spent money now to hire equipment, we would not have funds to operate our departments next fall."

"The administration wishes to thank the public; they have been patient and co-operative," the mayor added.

Goodballet asked Council to consider purchase of additional snow removal equipment if funds can be made available. He said he realizes the city's financial condition will not permit large-scale purchases of such equipment, but asked Council to give the problem consideration if funds can be found.

The administration will not make it a practice to attempt to make an impression on the public by asking for purchase of equipment which it knows Council cannot finance, the mayor concluded.

Wellsville Pushes Removal Of Snow

The city started early Monday morning to remove the large piles of snow at the edge of the sidewalks.

Two high-lift diggers and two trucks were rented to augment city equipment. All the snow has been removed on both sides of Main from 3rd St. to 5th St. and from 5th to 6th St. on the north side.

Plans call for removal to 7th St. on both sides. The snow is being dumped in empty lots about town.

Children's Home Project Pushed

A remodeling program to aid in fire prevention is continuing at the Hancock County Children's Home at Pughtown, it was reported when the Board of Trustees met Monday night in New Cumberland.

Cyrus Spear of Weirton, executive secretary, said metal fire doors have been installed and dormitories painted in the home on State Route 2.

Fire escapes will be installed as soon as they arrive. The remodeling program — necessitated by recommendations of the state fire marshal — will cost $4,000.

William C. Graham of Chester, county commissioner from Grant District, presided in the absence of Dave N. Thomas of Weirton, president, who is vacationing in Florida.

Savory Snack Breads Aid In Entertainment

Snack breads with exciting new flavors are just the thing for entertaining.

These "little loaves" can benefit from the addition of a favorite sandwich spread, but they are tasty enough "as is" to make family and friends ask for more.

Savory Snack Breads

1 cup milk
3 tablespoons sugar
2½ teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons shortening
1 cup warm (not hot) water
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
6 cups sifted flour (about)
1½ teaspoons each of bleu cheese, garlic, exotic herbs and cheese garlic salad dressing mixes

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening and cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large bowl (warm, not hot, for active dry yeast) lukewarm for compressed). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Add 3 cups of the flour and beat until smooth.

Stir in remaining flour to make soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, adding more flour if necessary. Place in greased bowl; brush with shortening.

Cover and let rise in warm place (85 Deg.), free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide dough into quarters. Roll out each quarter into an 8-inch square. Brush lightly with melted margarine or butter. Sprinkle each square with 1½ teaspoons of salad dressing mix.

Roll up as for jelly roll. Seal edges firmly. Place on greased baking sheet with sealed edges down. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 400 Deg. F 25 to 30 minutes.

Heart Attack Takes Widow

Mrs. Laura Gretchen Parker, 421 Indiana Ave., Chester, a notary public and widow of a former Chester mayor, died of a heart attack while visiting at Lisbon Monday.

Mrs. Parker, 78, had been spending a week with a daughter, Mrs. Charles Pike of Lisbon.

Mrs. Parker died at the Pike home at 4:30 p.m. after she was stricken in an auto.

Her husband, Robert L. Parker, Chester real estate operator and former mayor, died in 1925.

Born in Carroll County Sept. 5, 1881, she was a daughter of George and Mary Sell Gregg, and lived in Chester about 50 years.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church where she taught the Friendship Class for more than 25 years, Crescent Chapter of the Eastern Star, a past noble grand of the Rebekah Lodge and belonged to the Chester Women's Club and the Bethia Southwick Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Charles Bennett of Newell, and two grandsons.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the Arner Chester Chapel by the Rev. Paul J. Dippolito. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Albert Kittridge

Services will be held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Aloysius Catholic Church for Mrs. Mary Ann Kittridge, 51, wife of Albert E. Kittridge, 821 Chester Ave., who died suddenly Monday morning at home.

Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park. Friends may call tonight at the Dawson Funeral Home. The Altar and Rosary Society of the church will recite the rosary at the funeral home tonight at 8.

Domenick Mazzo

Services will be held Wednesday at 10:45 a. m. at the Wellsville Immaculate Conception Catholic Church for Domenick Metz Mazzo, 317 Broadway, who died Sunday afternoon at home following a long illness. He was 87.

Fr. John F. Lyons, pastor, will officate at the Mass. Burial will be in St. Elizabeth's Cemetery at Wellsville. Friends may call this afternoon and evening at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville.

Mrs. Mayme Green

EAST PALESTINE — Services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Oliver Funeral Home for Mrs. Mayme Green, 65, who died at 5 a. m. Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sally Chase, of Fremont.

The Rev. Robert Shoff of the Church of the Nazarene will officiate. Burial will be in Achor Cemetery near Negley. Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

She was a daughter of Lot and Anna Dyke Mankin and was born here Aug. 5, 1894. She moved to Fremont five years ago. She was married in 1915 to William Green, who died in 1955. A former employe of the W. S. George Pottery Co. she was a member of the Church of the Nazarene here.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Elnora Lamp of Sebring and Mrs. Norma Kelterburn of Steubenville; two sons, Russell, of Quarryville, Pa., and John W. Green of East Palestine; three sisters, Mrs. Sadie Gorby and Mrs. Grace Pierce, both of East Palestine, and Mrs. Fay Stinchcomb of Bloomfield; a brother, Earl Mankin of Sebring; four half-sisters, Mrs. James Arthur and Mrs. Elsie McClain, both of Darlington, Mrs. Mildred Miller of East Liverpool and Mrs. Glen Ullman of Mantua; three half-brothers, Hiram Kachner, Raymond Mankin of Columbiana and Kersey Mankin of California, and six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mrs. John Todd

SALEM — Mrs. Josephine E. Todd, wife of John J. A. Todd, died suddenly at 11 a. m. Monday after a two-week illness with a heart ailment. She was 74.

Mrs. Todd was born in Koleen, Ill., Dec. 11, 1885, the daughter of William and Ellen Ault.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Guy Peterson and Mrs. Ray Wallace, both of Lisbon; two sons, Harry Todd of Cleveland and Clifford Todd of Winter Park, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Bert Simpson of Spencer, Ind.; two brothers, Fred Ault of Newberry, Ind., and Charles Ault of Bloomfield, Ind., and 11 grandchildren, and 8 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 3:30 p. m. at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home by the Rev. Harold Winn of the First Friends Church. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Arthur Blower

Modern Machine Installed By Local Dry Cleaner

"So what? So they have a new drycleaning machine? Why all the hullabaloo?"

For the past six months we have been advertising the fact that we have a brand new machine. Do we sound like proud parents? We are.

Since a dry-cleaner has only his fast service, price, and quality of cleaning to sell his customers, this machine was particularly important to us.

NOW, we can turn out a garment—fully cleaned, spotted, pressed, and sacked — in less than two hours. When that inevitable emergency arises, why not request our two-hour service?

NOW, we can guarantee a cleaner, brighter garment than in the past 25 years. With the fast cleaning process it also gives us more time for spotting and inspection.

NOW, we can give you this faster, cleaner service at the SAME price. If you have had to have cleaning done in another city, you would have noticed that your $1.25 that you pay for a suit here, skyrocketed to $1.50 and sometimes as high as $2.00. We have not raised our basic prices since 1953.

We are proud of our machine because it makes you, as customers, more satisfied with your cleaning.

In the above paragraphs, we have mentioned spotting several times. Spotting is one of the most important processes in drycleaning. It would aid your drycleaner if you would inform him whether that spot on your best tie is mustard, grease, or just plain gravy.

Call your drycleaner for professional advice before you try to guess how to remove a stain yourself. By the way, we have a graduate of the National Institute of Drycleaning on hand at all times to answer your questions. Ask for Mr. Wetzel.

Individual Baked Alaskas Are Tasty Dessert

The place — the White House!

The host — Thomas Jefferson!

And the dessert — a stunning sensation from that day forward —was Baked Alaska—an amazing confection which the author of the Declaration of Independence had discovered in France and brought home with him.

Quite properly, Baked Alaska belonged in America—for the method of combining cold ice cream with brown hot meringue had been invented by an American in the first place, one Benjamin Thompson, a chemist whose work was done in Europe.

He was first to experiment with placing ice cream in a hot oven, insulating very hard ice cream with meringue, or with a paper thin coating of pastry first. The idea so appealed to Jefferson that he brought home the recipe — as he also brought to America the first recipe for making ice cream.

Individual Baked Alaskas

Two 2 oz. packages meringue mix.
8x12" white or yellow cak elayer
½ gallon package ice cream
Cherry sauce

Prepare meringue mix according to package directions.

Cut cake in eight 4x2" pieces. Place on cookie sheet or heat proof platter. Cut slices of ice cream and place on cake. Quickly spread meringue, covering well the entire surface of ice cream and cake. Bake in very hot oven, 450 deg., about 3 min. or until meringue is delicately browned. Serve immediately with Cherry Sauce.

Cherry Sauce

¼ cup sugar
1 tbsp. cornstarch
Few grains salt
¾ cup canned cherry juice
1¼ cups drained canned sweetened sour cherries
2 tsp. butter

Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt. Stir in cherry juice gradually. Cook until thickened and clear, stirring constantly. Add cherries and butter. Serve warm or cold.

Snowstorms From Plains Are Spreading

By The Associated Press

Wet weather, with snow and rain, spread across the lower Mississippi Valley and lower Ohio Valley today as cleanup operations continued in snow-stricken areas in the East and South.

A snowstorm which swept across sections of the southern Plains spread into Arkansas and hit areas in southern Illinois, parts of Kentucky and Tennessee. The storm, which left a covering of nine inches on parts of Oklahoma, was expected to dump from two to four inches in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Southeast Kentucky was hard hit by the weekend snowstorm which raked wide areas in the South and East. Mountain areas were blanketed with heavy snow and most schools in eastern Kentucky remained closed.

The weekend storm death toll in Kentucky mounted to five Monday when the bodies of an elderly brother and sister were found in a cabin near Glasgow. Doctors said both probably froze to death.

Belated reports across the storm belt, hit by gale-force winds, snow and sleet, showed at least 54 deaths attributed to the weekend stormy weather, which was winter's worst in many areas. Pennsylvania reported the most deaths, 15, including a 7-year boy whose sled crashed into a stone house in Philadelphia. An estimated 100 children were injured in sledding accidents in Pennsylvania in two days.

Temperatures were higher than 24 hours earlier in most parts of the country. The 30s were the rule in interior sections and the 40s and 50s along the West Coast and in Florida. Sub-zero marks in Michigan were replaced by temperatures in the 20s.

Chessman's Fight Shifts To High Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman's fight for life shifted today to Washington, D.C., and the U.S. Supreme Court.

With Chessman scheduled to die in the San Quentin gas chamber at 10 a.m. Friday, Sacramento attorney Rosalie Asher was in the nation's capital seeking a Supreme Court justice to ask for a writ of review and permission to file an original writ of habeas corpus. Both would carry requests for a stay of execution, said Chessman's other attorney, George T. Davis. The high court is in recess until March 1.

The 38-year-old convict-author, convicted in Los Angeles in 1948 of robbery and kidnap charges involving forcing two women into unnatural sex acts, has had seven stays of execution in his 11½ year-old battle waged from death row.

He lost another appeal Monday when a three-man panel of the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals refused him a stay of execution and upheld its chief justice's earlier ruling refusing him a certificate of probable cause for appeal.

Farmers Incorporating To Solve Problems

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Many farmers are incorporating, says N. G. P. Krausz, University of Illinois agricultural law professor, because it offers many solutions to farmers' problems.

It offers aid in inheritance problems. It could aid in meeting huge capital needs for increased farm mechanization. A farmer would be liable for debts of the business only to the extent of his investment. The corporation would not be responsible for his debts.

Farm corporation stock may be sold, willed, given away or allowed to go to heirs by laws of descent without breaking up the business. It would require adequate records and tend to promote efficiency.

Ordinances Eliminate 'Extraneous Matter'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The suburban village of Mackenzie, 20 miles from the nearest streetcar line, is revising its ordinances to eliminate one regulating streetcars.

How did the ordinance happen to get on the books?

U.S. Auditor Summoned In Payola Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — House payola probers today called record distributors, a government auditor and a musically inclined deputy sheriff for questioning about radio-TV disc jockey programs.

As hearings resumed Monday, the testimony about payments led Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the investigating House subcommittee to appeal for federal action to "protect the American people from this rotten stuff." He called it "commercial bribery" to get records on the air.

Cecil Steen, a Boston distributor testified he paid $100 a week to have a disc featured as the "Gold Platter" on Boston radio station WMEX. Steen also said he had handed out more than $2,000 to disc jockeys in the last few years.

Two WMEX record spinners said they had been the beneficiaries of payments from record suppliers. Arnie (Woo Woo) Ginsburg acknowledged receiving $4,400 in less than three years while spinning tunes on WMEX and WBOS in Boston. Mel Miller, another deejay who also serves as program director for WMEX, said he accepted gifts totaling $425.

Each insisted he was not swayed by the gratuities in picking out records for the shows.

On tap for questioning today were Harry Carter, president and treasurer of Music Suppliers, Inc., and other officials of the distributing firm, as well as auditor Donald R. Keelan and Deputy Sheriff Ray Lewis of Manchester, N.H.

Keelan is on loan to the subcommittee from the government's General Accounting Office. Lewis was additionally identified as manager of the "Downbeats", a singing group.

Carter and Music Suppliers came into the proceedings Monday when subcommittee counsel Robert W. Lishman mentioned the company as a benefactor of Ginsburg and Miller.

Mass Effort To Check Polio Starts In Miami

Dr. Harold Cox, who developed the cherry-flavored potion to supplant innoculations, praised the program's public opening in the Greater Miami area.

"Although one million people have taken the vaccine already," he said, "saving the life of one American will make more of an impression than saving the lives of a million Russians. That is why we think the Dade County program is so important." A similar type vaccine is being used in the Soviet Union.

'Save Our Sub' Drive Opened In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "Operation S.O.S. (Save Our Sub)" has been launched by the Milwaukee County Allied Veterans Council to rescue the submarine Tautog from the threatened relegation to the scrap heap.

The Tautog, a heroine of World War II Navy encounters, has been tied up in the Milwaukee harbor in recent years. Veterans groups want to save the sub as a shrine.

Mass Effort To Check Polio Starts In Miami

Dr. Harold Cox, who developed the cherry-flavored potion to supplant innoculations, praised the program's public opening in the Greater Miami area.

"Although one million people have taken the vaccine already," he said, "saving the life of one American will make more of an impression than saving the lives of a million Russians. That is why we think the Dade County program is so important." A similar type vaccine is being used in the Soviet Union.

Youth's Best Friend Is Robot That He Built

UNION, N. J. . — Alan Moskowitz' best friend has a heart of tin. He's a robot the 12-year-old boy built himself.

The mechanical pal has eyes that light up, a bell-and-buzzer brain, a loudspeaker mouth and doorknob ears. Alan, anhonor student, spent a year making the robot and claims it can do everything but walk.

Follows Instructions

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Norman Gainey, 3, follows instructions to the letter. A nurse at a doctor's office told him to keep a thermometer under his arm. When he got home and his mother removed his clothing she found the thermometer still snug under his arm.

Farmers Incorporating To Solve Problems

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Many farmers are incorporating, says N. G. P. Krausz, University of Illinois agricultural law professor, because it offers many solutions to farmers' problems.

It offers aid in inheritance problems. It could aid in meeting huge capital needs for increased farm mechanization. A farmer would be liable for debts of the business only to the extent of his investment. The corporation would not be responsible for his debts.

Farm corporation stock may be sold, willed, given away or allowed to go to heirs by laws of descent without breaking up the business. It would require adequate records and tend to promote efficiency.

Ordinances Eliminate 'Extraneous Matter'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The suburban village of Mackenzie, 20 miles from the nearest streetcar line, is revising its ordinances to eliminate one regulating streetcars.

How did the ordinance happen to get on the books?

The Stars Haven't Forgotten Radio

Th downgraded status of network radio would appear to be a myth when one sees where the stars are going. More and more, they're going into radio. And stars, you know, don't go down with sinking ships!

Marie Torre

It is a matter of record that "poor, dead" radio boasts in this year 1960 as luminous an array of name performers as one will find in the lush money-green fields of television.

On Feb. 29, Bing Crosby and Rosemary Clooney join voices for a five-dy-a-week morning series on CBS. Doris Day and Sam Levenson are negotiating for a radio series. Arthur Godfrey's radio activities at CBS far outnumber his television activities, and he's fully sponsored, thank you.

Groucho Marx still is sowing comedy seeds on radio, as are also Art Linkletter, Andy Griffith, Amos 'n' Andy, Burns and Allen and, as of recently, Garry Moore.

"WHAT IS IT about radio that lures stars who could put their time to more profitable use?" we asked Garry Moore.

"Good question," he said. "I can't speak for the others, but for myself, there are two reasons.

"One, for a 10-minute period each weekday morning, I have a chance to do something I can't do on television any more—talk off the top of my head. I do this with Durward Kirby.

"My second reason for taking on a radio show has to do with what you might call sentiment or loyalty. In 1935 I approached the radio people with hat in hand and asked for a job. For 15 years, until 1950, radio was good to me.

"Subconsciously, perhaps, I feel that by doing this radio show, I'm doing my bit for the medium, and especially for CBS Radio. Lord knows I have my differences with CBS, but I believe in the network. I believe in radio."

Interestingly, Moore and his colleagues in radio speak of their efforts as a labor of love, which it must be since neither the income potential nor the audience impact can be compared to television. And when they speak of love. This is labor!

JACKIE GLEASON has accepted an invitation from "The Kate Smith Show" for an early spring date, and it will be no ordinary show. To keep Conductor Gleason happy, the orchestra will be increased from 25 to 60. . . .

ABC's forthcoming presentation of "The Citadel" (Friday) is shaping up as television's "Ben Hur." The cast numbers 72 with 28 speaking roles! . . .

Motion pictures used to be blamed for spreading a misleading "image of America" abroad. But now the culprit is television! The heavy export of Westerns, private eyes and inane situation comedies, say TV authorities, is giving foreign viewers a faulty image of America. . . .

Roy Campanella has achieved TV success. His "Campy's Corner," currently shown on WPIX in New York, is being taped for national syndication by Heritage Productions.

THE NEWS ABOUT endorsement of "The Untouchables" by women's groups, normally the loudest detractors of TV violence, prompts reader J. L. Tooher of Schenectady, N.Y., to offer a second thought:

"There is no mystery in this apparent contradiction," goes the letter. "The ordinary bloodletter employes second-rate actors woodenly delivering their ridiculous lines. Violence is thrown in to cover the utter banality.

"In 'The Untouchables,' however, there is a grim reality about the plot and the characters which is frightening at times. Above all, perhaps, the fine portrayal of Elliot Ness' grim dedication produces stark, compelling drama and to this the violence is secondary."

Widow Asks $100,000 In Death Of Husband

LISBON — Mrs. Betty Womer of near Wilkes-Barre, Pa., filed suit for $100,000 in Common Pleas Court Monday in the death of her husband and naming three natural gas firms as defendants.

Her husband, Albert R. Womer, 32, was killed in an explosion and fire after excavating equipment broke a buried gas line Feb. 13, 1958, just off Miller Rd. some 2 miles north.

He was employed by the H Galloway Construction Co. of Washington, Pa., in a project for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. of Lisbon and the Ohio Valley Gas Co. of Columbus, the defendants.

She claims the utilities failed to supply the contractor with the location of the existing line. She asks the sum as administratrix of the estate on behalf of herself and their three children. She resides at Noxen, Pa.

Mayor Plans To Name New Dog Warden Soon

Council enacted legislation Monday night that indirectly provide a truck for a new part-time dog warden and Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said he expects to fill the $100'a-month post shortly.

Council gave the administration authority to purchase a half-ton pickup truck for the incinerator department, providing $2,500 to cover the cost. The new vehicle will replace a pickup which the incinerator department will relinquish for the warden's use.

Earlier, Council authorized the mayor to hire a warden. A full-time dog control officer was laid off about a year ago as an economy move. At that time, the warden's truck was turned over to the incinerator department, which passed on one of its trucks to the street department.

Violence Marks Racial Unrest At Lunch Counter In South

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP)—The first outbreak of violence has been reported as the demonstrations against lunch counter segregation spread in the South.

Two weeks after the first demonstrations protesting segregated eating facilities began at nearby Greensboro, a short fist fight broke out here Monday between whites and Negroes in a milling crowd of 75 in front of a F. W. Woolworth Co. store. Police quickly subdued the participants.

Earlier, at a suburban shopping center, white boys taunted and threw snowballs at Negroes who sought to occupy seats at the lunch counter of another Woolworth store.

The Rev. Elton Cox, an official of the High Point chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, told newsmen Negroes would not face such embarrassment again without fighting back.

Sitdown demonstrations were reported in the Portsmouth-Newport News, Va., area Monday. Lunch counters in several North Carolina cities remained closed after demonstrations last week.

Forty-three protesting Negro students were arrested in Raleigh and charged with trespassing.

Bishop George W. Baber, president of the Council of Bishops, African Methodist Church, said in Philadelphia in front of the Liberty Bell at Independence Hall, "People want action, and loud-mouthed pronouncements no longer will suffice." He predicted Negro resistance would spread.

Two New Films Now Available At Carnegie Library

While the district digs out of the heavy snow, welcome escape can be obtained through the Carnegie Public Library's new 16-mm. movies. Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said two spectacular films during February are a color feature from the great continent of Australia about underwater life of the Pacific. The title is "Coral Wonderland." A second and most perceptive movie which would fit into the mission study field for 1960 is a 17-minute study on "Union of South Africa." This movie depicts the life of the native gold miner and the sharecropper in the Boer regions of the dark continent.

Five additional 11-minute travelogues are on tap in February: "Arab Village," "Geography of the Southern States," "The Pacific Provinces of Canada," "The Suez" and "Life In the Desert."

Those who work with young people will find a pair of films which offer instruction on social attitudes: "How Friendly are You?" and "Understanding Others." The latter is a plea to young people to accept their fellowman without respect to their wealth or talents.

History films are especially popular with men's groups in lodges. A 30-minute feature on "Sir Francis Drake" and a 25-minute chronicle of the hardships of "The Oregon Trail" have both been well received by local groups.

Science subjects include "Cancer," "The Pendulum," "Reflection" and "A Trip to the Moon." The latter is an imaginary rocket journey filmed in color showing "craters, seas and valleys."

Chimney Fire Causes $25 Damage To Home

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

The Stars Haven't Forgotten Radio

Th downgraded status of network radio would appear to be a myth when one sees where the stars are going. More and more, they're going into radio. And stars, you know, don't go down with sinking ships!

Marie Torre

It is a matter of record that "poor, dead" radio boasts in this year 1960 as luminous an array of name performers as one will find in the lush money-green fields of television.

On Feb. 29, Bing Crosby and Rosemary Clooney join voices for a five-dy-a-week morning series on CBS. Doris Day and Sam Levenson are negotiating for a radio series. Arthur Godfrey's radio activities at CBS far outnumber his television activities, and he's fully sponsored, thank you.

Groucho Marx still is sowing comedy seeds on radio, as are also Art Linkletter, Andy Griffith, Amos 'n' Andy, Burns and Allen and, as of recently, Garry Moore.

"WHAT IS IT about radio that lures stars who could put their time to more profitable use?" we asked Garry Moore.

"Good question," he said. "I can't speak for the others, but for myself, there are two reasons.

"One, for a 10-minute period each weekday morning, I have a chance to do something I can't do on television any more—talk off the top of my head. I do this with Durward Kirby.

"My second reason for taking on a radio show has to do with what you might call sentiment or loyalty. In 1935 I approached the radio people with hat in hand and asked for a job. For 15 years, until 1950, radio was good to me.

"Subconsciously, perhaps, I feel that by doing this radio show, I'm doing my bit for the medium, and especially for CBS Radio. Lord knows I have my differences with CBS, but I believe in the network. I believe in radio."

Interestingly, Moore and his colleagues in radio speak of their efforts as a labor of love, which it must be since neither the income potential nor the audience impact can be compared to television. And when they speak of love. This is labor!

JACKIE GLEASON has accepted an invitation from "The Kate Smith Show" for an early spring date, and it will be no ordinary show. To keep Conductor Gleason happy, the orchestra will be increased from 25 to 60. . . .

ABC's forthcoming presentation of "The Citadel" (Friday) is shaping up as television's "Ben Hur." The cast numbers 72 with 28 speaking roles! . . .

Motion pictures used to be blamed for spreading a misleading "image of America" abroad. But now the culprit is television! The heavy export of Westerns, private eyes and inane situation comedies, say TV authorities, is giving foreign viewers a faulty image of America. . . .

Roy Campanella has achieved TV success. His "Campy's Corner," currently shown on WPIX in New York, is being taped for national syndication by Heritage Productions.

THE NEWS ABOUT endorsement of "The Untouchables" by women's groups, normally the loudest detractors of TV violence, prompts reader J. L. Tooher of Schenectady, N.Y., to offer a second thought:

"There is no mystery in this apparent contradiction," goes the letter. "The ordinary bloodletter employes second-rate actors woodenly delivering their ridiculous lines. Violence is thrown in to cover the utter banality.

"In 'The Untouchables,' however, there is a grim reality about the plot and the characters which is frightening at times. Above all, perhaps, the fine portrayal of Elliot Ness' grim dedication produces stark, compelling drama and to this the violence is secondary."

Widow Asks $100,000 In Death Of Husband

LISBON — Mrs. Betty Womer of near Wilkes-Barre, Pa., filed suit for $100,000 in Common Pleas Court Monday in the death of her husband and naming three natural gas firms as defendants.

Her husband, Albert R. Womer, 32, was killed in an explosion and fire after excavating equipment broke a buried gas line Feb. 13, 1958, just off Miller Rd. some 2 miles north.

He was employed by the H Galloway Construction Co. of Washington, Pa., in a project for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. of Lisbon and the Ohio Valley Gas Co. of Columbus, the defendants.

She claims the utilities failed to supply the contractor with the location of the existing line. She asks the sum as administratrix of the estate on behalf of herself and their three children. She resides at Noxen, Pa.

Mayor Plans To Name New Dog Warden Soon

Council enacted legislation Monday night that indirectly provide a truck for a new part-time dog warden and Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said he expects to fill the $100'a-month post shortly.

Council gave the administration authority to purchase a half-ton pickup truck for the incinerator department, providing $2,500 to cover the cost. The new vehicle will replace a pickup which the incinerator department will relinquish for the warden's use.

Earlier, Council authorized the mayor to hire a warden. A full-time dog control officer was laid off about a year ago as an economy move. At that time, the warden's truck was turned over to the incinerator department, which passed on one of its trucks to the street department.

License Suspensions Given To 5 Motorists

LISBON — Fifteen-day license suspensions were given 5 drivers in traffic hearings at the Courthouse last week.

Violence Marks Racial Unrest At Lunch Counter In South

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP)—The first outbreak of violence has been reported as the demonstrations against lunch counter segregation spread in the South.

Two weeks after the first demonstrations protesting segregated eating facilities began at nearby Greensboro, a short fist fight broke out here Monday between whites and Negroes in a milling crowd of 75 in front of a F. W. Woolworth Co. store. Police quickly subdued the participants.

Earlier, at a suburban shopping center, white boys taunted and threw snowballs at Negroes who sought to occupy seats at the lunch counter of another Woolworth store.

The Rev. Elton Cox, an official of the High Point chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, told newsmen Negroes would not face such embarrassment again without fighting back.

Sitdown demonstrations were reported in the Portsmouth-Newport News, Va., area Monday. Lunch counters in several North Carolina cities remained closed after demonstrations last week.

Forty-three protesting Negro students were arrested in Raleigh and charged with trespassing.

Bishop George W. Baber, president of the Council of Bishops, African Methodist Church, said in Philadelphia in front of the Liberty Bell at Independence Hall, "People want action, and loudmouthed pronouncements no longer will suffice." He predicted Negro resistance would spread.

Two New Films Now Available At Carnegie Library

While the district digs out of the heavy snow, welcome escape can be obtained through the Carnegie Public Library's new 16-mm. movies. Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said two spectacular films during February are a color feature from the great continent of Australia about underwater life of the Pacific. The title is "Coral Wonderland." A second and most perceptive movie which would fit into the mission study field for 1960 is a 17-minute study on "Union of South Africa." This movie depicts the life of the native gold miner and the sharecropper in the Boer regions of the dark continent.

Five additional 11-minute travelogues are on tap in February: "Arab Village," "Geography of the Southern States," "The Pacific Provinces of Canada," "The Suez" and "Life In the Desert."

Those who work with young people will find a pair of films which offer instruction on social attitudes: "How Friendly are You?" and "Understanding Others." The latter is a plea to young people to accept their fellowman without respect to their wealth or talents.

History films are especially popular with men's groups in lodges. A 30-minute feature on "Sir Francis Drake" and a 25-minute chronicle of the hardships of "The Oregon Trail" have both been well received by local groups.

Science subjects include "Cancer," "The Pendulum," "Reflection" and "A Trip to the Moon." The latter is an imaginary rocket journey filmed in color showing "craters, seas and valleys."

Chimney Fire Causes $25 Damage To Home

About $25 damage resulted from a chimney fire at the home of David Lynch of 1st St. Ext., Chester, Monday night about 6, firemen reported.

A coal stove became overheated, according to firemen, who confined the blaze to the area of the flue stop by using chemicals. About 15 men answered the alarm called in by Mrs. Jesse Selmon of 1st St.

Spears Given 5 Years On Auto Theft Charge

PHOENIX, Airz. (AP) — Robert Vernon Spears, the heavily insured Dallas naturopath found alive two months after his reported death in the crash of an airliner, Monday was sentenced to the maximum of five years in federal prison for interstate auto theft.

Spears, 65, was picked up in Phoenix Jan. 20 by FBI agents and questioned several days in connection with the mysterious crash of a National Airlines plane Nov. 16 in the Gulf of Mexico.

U.S. Dist. Judge Dave Ling handed Spears the maximum sentence on the federal charge of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

Chester, Newell Rematch Features 10-Game Card Tonight

Important Tilt Slated Tonight For South Side

Chester visits Newell in a rematch to top a 10-game card on the district basketball front tonight.

The Panthers with a 5-11 record will be seeking revenge for an earlier 48-43 loss pinned on them by Newell at Chester last month.

District Cage Card

TONIGHT

Pittsburgh S. Catholic at Midland
Chester at Newell
South Side at Snowden Twp.
Salineville at Fairfield-Waterford
Goshen Union at United
Follansbee St. Anthony at New Cumberland
Leetonia at Poland
Lisbon at East Palestine
Columbiana at Sebring
Akron East at Salem

Friday

Martins Ferry at East Liverpool
Wellsville at Toronto
Midland at Hopewell
W. Alexander at South Side
Dover St. Joseph at United
West Liberty at New Cumberland
Beaver Local at Springfield Local
Leetonia at Lisbon
Sebring at East Palestine
Newell at Jefferson Union

Saturday

East Liverpool at Dover
Northwest at Wellsville
Kirtland at Chester

Meanwhile, the Vikings will place a 5-12 record on the line on their home floor.

Although schools were closed in Hancock County today because of the recent snow, the Newell-Chester game will be played tonight. Reserve teams will meet at 7 p.m. with the varsity game getting underway about 8:15.

An important Section 15 battle finds South Side at Snowden Township. Coach Dave Nichol's Rams will be shooting for their 11th straight victory and 15th of the season.

If New Brighton wins its Section 8 game tonight the Lions will be tied with Midland for first place in the standings, showing identical 9-1 marks.

In other action, Salineville completes its season by facing Fairfield-Waterford in a make-up game at Fairfield.

United shoots for its 11th victory in 17 games by playing host to Goshen Union.

Follansbee St. Anythony visits New Cumberland where the Raiders are looking for their 7th victory.

Salem will try to regain its winning form after being upset by Akron St. Vincent last Friday when the Quakers entertain Akron East tonight.

In Tri-County action, Leetonia visits Poland, Lisbon goes to East Palestine and Columbiana travels to Sebring.

Ten more games are on tap for Friday while the week's district card winds up with three contests on Saturday.

Buckeyes Can Clinch Big 10

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, after its stunning 109-81 triumph at Illinois Monday night, may stow away the Big Ten basketball title this week.

Coach Fred Taylor's Buckeyes could clinch the title Saturday by defeating Michigan State if Indiana should fall at Iowa. Indiana (6-3) remained in the running with an 86-69 triumph over Michigan (0-9).

Minnesota (7-4) nipped Purdue (5-5), 71-69 to take third place. Wisconsin finally won its first conference game after eight defeats. A 63-58 decision over eighth-place Iowa (4-6).

Except for the early and late minutes of play, Ohio State was a team of perfection against Illinois.

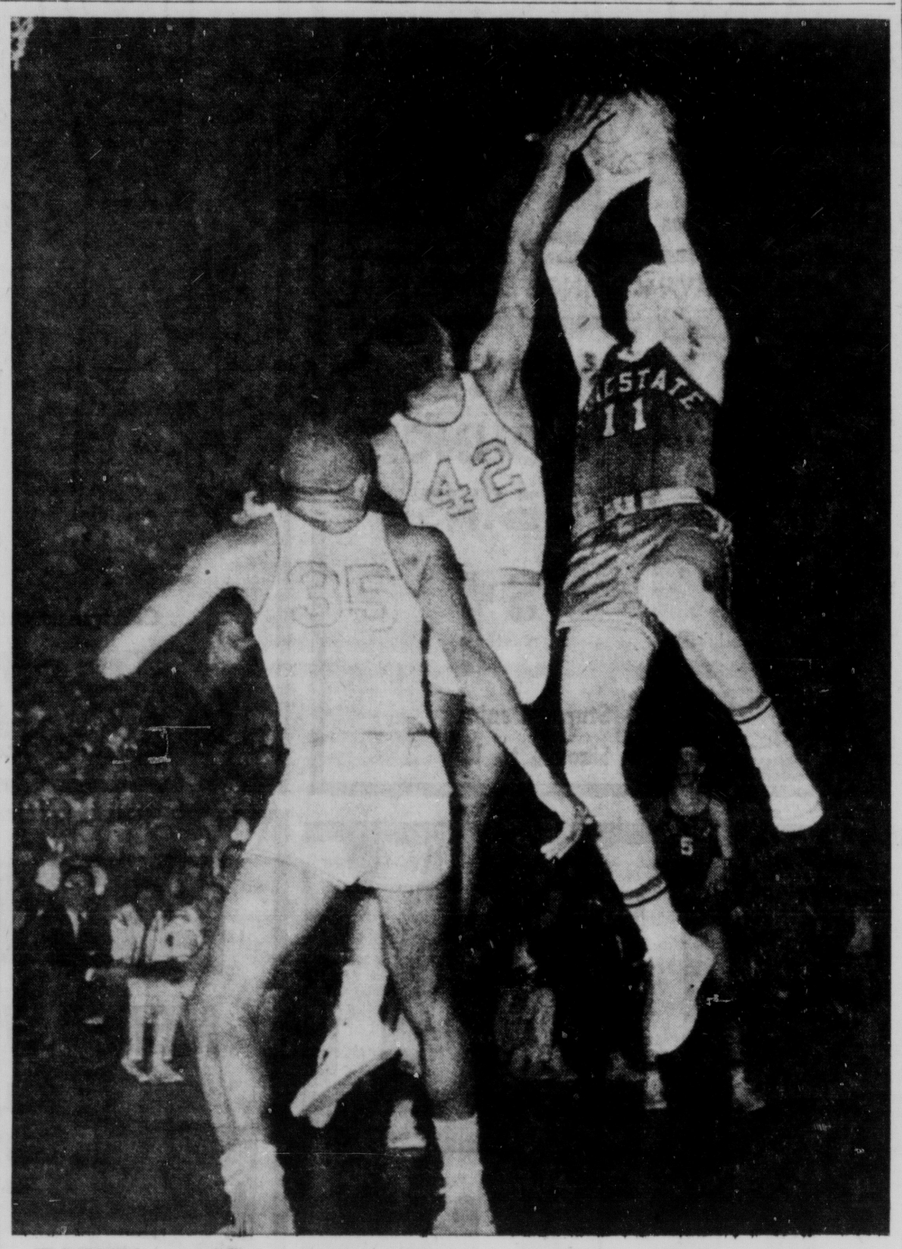

Humming the strings with .592 game field goal accuracy (to Illinois' .406), the Ohioans rambled to a 44-19 lead before the Illini trimmed it to 48-33 at the half. Then the Bucks ran wild with 61 points in the last 20 minutes.

Sophomores Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek led Ohio State's assault. Lucas' 31 points gives him 516 in 19 games for a 27.1 season average.

Purchase Completed Of Cleveland Tracks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Edward J. De Bartolo of Youngstown completed the purchase of Thistledown and Cranwood racing franchises Monday. The five - million - dollar purchase had been sanctioned by the Ohio Racing Commission.

De Bartolo is the new president of Thistledown and his brother-in-law, Frank Mastriani, will serve as president of Cranwood.

IT DIDN'T happen often, but this time an Illinois defender deflected a shot by Ohio State's sharpshooting Jerry Lucas (11). With 31 points, Lucas led Ohio State to a 109-81 victory over Illinois Monday night. (UPI Telephoto)

Three Sophomores Pace Ohio State To 109-81 Win

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Triggered by a deadeye trio of sophomores, Ohio State's Buckeyes are powering their way toward what could be the first unbeaten season in Big Ten college basketball in 17 years.

The hunch is there could be a national championship at the end of the drive.

Fourth-rated nationally, Ohio State fired to its 10th straight Big Ten victory, its 11th straight success and an over-all 18-2 record Monday night with a 109-81 rout of formidable Illinois (13-5). It was the first time an Ohio State team had managed to beat the Illini a Illinois since 1945 and again it was the three sophomores — 6-8 Jerry Lucas, 6-5 John Havlicek, and 6-2 Mel Nowell — who carried the brunt of the attack.

Lucas scored 31 points, Havlicek 29 and Nowell 17, accounting for 77 of the total that helped the Bucks retain their pace as the top scoring major college team.

With a 10-0 record to 6-3 for runner-up Indiana, Ohio State has all but wrapped up its first conference championship since 1950 and the subsequent berth in the post-season NCAA tournament.

Colorado and Kansas State, in a pair of squeakers, remained tied for the Big Eight Conference lead, Auburn stayed on Georgia Tech's heels in the torrid Southeastern Conference race, and Ohio U. whipped Toledo 71-67 to take undisputed first place in the Mid-American loop in other key Monday games.

St. John's of New York, expected to be added to the National Invitation Tournament field today, ran its winning streak to nine for a 15-5 record by pasting CCNY 93-67, and Xavier of Ohio (16-6), with an outside tournament chance, cuffed Marquette 79-75 in important non-conference play.

Colorado nipped Missouri 63-62 for a 7-2 Big Eight record matching Kansas State, which edged Iowa State 72-70 on Wally Frank's basket with 25 seconds left. Kansas stayed in Big Eight contention, rolling to a 6-3 record as Wayne Hightower's free-throw after the final buzzer gave the Jayhawks' a 54-53 victory over Oklahoma.

Auburn edged Tulane in overtime 53-51 for a 9-2 SEC record to 9-1 for idle Georgia Tech, while Mississippi State downed Florida 81-75, LSU spilled Alabama 66-53, and Mississippi nipped Georgia 65-63 in overtime in other SEC games.

Five Area Teams Draw For Struthers Tourney

Lisbon will be seen in the opener on Feb. 25 against Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, the No. 2 seeded team, at 6:15.

In the second game, Columbiana meets Struthers at 7:30 and the finale at 8:45 pits East Palestine against United.

On Feb. 26 at 6:15, Hubbard, seeded No. 2 in the tourney, goes against Canfield and Beaver Local faces Poland at 7:30. The 8:45 contest shows Brookfield meeting Youngstown Ursuline.

The other three schools which make up the 15-team tournament include Liberty, Boardman and Cardinal Mooney who drew byes in the first round.

Salem, which will go into tournament action at the South High Fieldhouse in Youngstown, drew a bye in the opening round and will meet the winner of the Levittsburg-Champion game on March 4.

The schedule for the Struthers tournament follows:

Feb. 25

6:15—Lisbon vs. Youngstown Woodrow Wilson
7:30—Columbiana vs. Struthers
8:45—East Palestine vs. United

Feb. 26

6:15—Hubbard vs. Canfield
7:30—Beaver Local vs. Poland
8:45—Brookfield vs. Youngstown Ursuline.

Cleveland Ace Tied For AHL Point Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland's Fred Glover climaxed a tremendous surge in the American Hockey League scoring race by tying Floyd Smith of Springfield for first place—each with 70 points—AHL statistics showed today.

Four weeks ago, Glover was eighth in scoring with 44 points while Smith was No. 1 with 58. In the interim, Glover has tallied nine times and assisted on 17 others. This is the first time in 14 weeks that the Springfield star has not had undisputed possession of the AHL's top scoring spot.

Smith has scored 25 times and assisted on 45 others, the latter tops in the AHL. Glover leads all scorers with 29 goals and has 41 assists.

Paris has a population of 2,850,000.

Stanton Local Jumps To 9th Place; Salem Slips To 7th In Ohio Poll

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The toll was terrific in Ohio high school basketball last week as Class AA top 10 members took a beating from lower-rated foes.

The big one was the 60-59 defeat pinned on third - ranked Salem, runner-up for the 1959 state title, by Akron St. Vincent which had won only two of 15 previous starts. Salem's other loss also was a one-pointer, 42-41 to Youngstown East.

Sixth - ranked Lakewood was tumbled 62-57 by Lorain, seventh-place Toledo Scott was victimized 83-78 by Toledo Woodward, and tenth-ranked Portsmouth was a 66-55 victim of Hamilton Garfield.

Dayton Roosevelt's unbeaten Teddies rolled to their 17th straight to retain the Class AA poll lead by a 113-point margin over defending state king Cleveland East Tech, with 48 sports editors voting in the weekly Associated Press poll.

East Tech, after losing its opener, ran its victory string to 15 by 60-57 over Cathedral Latin. The Scarabs, winners of 66 of their last 67, go after their third straight city title—and their seventh in the last eight years—against St. Ignatius (16-1). A crowd of 13,000 is expected at the Friday night classic.

The defeats had plenty of effect —some good, some bad—on the top 10 ratings. Canton Timken (17-0) moved up to third, close on East Tech's heels, as Salem skidded to seventh. Lakewood, despite the Lorain loss, moved up a notch to fifth. Toledo Woodward made its first appearance in the select list, despite a 81-73 loss to Cleveland Glenville Saturday night.

A big oddity is that Toledo Scott, beaten by Woodward Friday, lost all its first-place votes to the conquerors but wound up in an eighth-place tie with Woodward.

Newark, although a winner last week, dropped from the top 10 and Youngstown East climbed from among the also-rans into tenth. Xenia Central (15-0) made the big leap from ninth to fourth as the Greene County boys picked up support from everywhere.

Northwestern of Wayne County, the 1958 state champ, retained its top spot in the Class A rankings, with Salem Local of Urbana clinging to second. New Boston jumped from sixth to third as Van Del dropped to seventh from the show spot. Only change in the top 10 among the smaller schools came as Stanton Local (14-4) moved into a last-place tie with unbeaten Granville. New Bremen (17-1) dropped out.

From here and there: Springfield, which started fast, is now 11-5 after beating Mansfield and losing to Troy over the weekend. Unrated Urbana won twice to make it 16-0. New Boston wound up its at-home campaign by beating Class AA Waverly 59-34—its 36th straight on the home boards dating back to 1956.

York Twp., the Sandusky County League winner, lost to Risingsun after 11 in a row. Two York regulars, center Mike Harward and forward Ottis Frasure, were hurt in a Feb. 7 auto accident, the former suffering a broken leg, and they're out for the season.

Jim Wickert, Old Fort's 6-1 senior guard, came back for 13 points in the win over Bettsville as he played for the first time since a Jan. 17 emergency appendectomy.

Kenny Cunningham, East Liverpool junior, set a school record with 39 against Toronto Friday, and came right back for 29 against Marietta Saturday.

Cardington, undefeated in football, lost two titles last weekend. Friday the Morrow County crown went glimmering as Iberia topped Cardington 58-56, and the next night Mount Gilead's 70-42 verdict cost Cardington the Mid-Ohio League toga.

Ed DiGregorio's Youngstown East club clinched a tie for the city title by beating South, with All-Ohio football end Jim Snowden scoring 21 points and grabbing 25 rebounds. East has a 10 - game streak going.

Hoeft To Get Another Try With Orioles

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writen5d

DETROIT (AP)—It's refreshing to Billy Hoeft not to hear talk that he is all washed up.

"Now maybe I can concentrate just on being a pitcher, and not have to worry about rumors that I've lost my fast ball," said the big left-hander who'll be pitching for the Baltimore Orioles this season.

Perhaps the worst thing that ever happened to playful Billy was landing a major league job with the Detroit Tigers before he reached his 20th birthday.

In most of the seven-plus seasons Hoeft spent in a Detroit uniform, he never quite lived up to his advance billing. His best season was 16-7 in 1955 when he had a 2.99 earned run average. The Tigers sent him to Boston last May. The trade route eventually got him into Baltimore, under the expert guidance of Paul Richards.

The Baltimore manager has worked near-miracles with dozens of castoffs.

Richards changed Hoeft's whole delivery. He made Hoeft stop dropping his arm way behind his back and shortened his windup.

"I was bringing my arm way around and back, and then whipping the ball," said Hoeft. "Richards said I wasn't getting enough body into the delivery. I noticed a difference right away."

Despite a 2-5 record last season, Hoeft has been told that he is being counted on for a regular job with the Orioles.

"That's a shot in the arm for me," said Hoeft, "just knowing that Richards is counting on me. I'm convinced I'm ready for a comeback."

Pony League Meeting Set Wednesday Night

A meeting for managers and officers of the East Liverpool Pony League will be held Wednesday at 7:30 at the Travelers Hotel. Jim Walker, president, will preside.

Keylor To Quit Ohio Valley Athletic Post

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A Veteran Administrator of high schoool athletics, W. W. Keylor, w resign the end of March as secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference.

Keylor, former Wheeling high school principal, is expected to tender his resignation March 29, when the conference holds its spring dinner at nearby Martins Ferry, Ohio.

Keylor assumed the secretary's post four years ago. He plans to make his home with his sister and brother-in-law near Mount Vernon, Ohio, in April.

Injury List Reaches 14 As Winter Olympics Near

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Controversy flared on two fronts and the injury list spiraled to 14 today with the Winter Olympic Games fast approaching their Thursday opening.

Most seriously hurt was Italian downhill ski racer Battista Pordon, 20. In a fall into Squaw Creek, he suffered a broken leg, broken arm, broken collarbone, lacerations of the head and contusions of the left kidney that caused internal bleeding.

One of the disputes centered on hockey, the other on selection of the German Alpine downhill skiing team.

In Colorado Springs, Colo., Rudolph Eklowe, Swedish delegate to the International Ice Hockey Federation, declared hockey would not be played if organizers don't accept an 11-day schedule.

While the controversy boiled, Czechoslovakian Coach Eduard Farda charged hockey playing conditions were "atrocious."

There were hints that if conditions didn't improve, the Czechs might withdraw from the nine-team field.

Kerbert Kunze of West Germany nominated Eberhard Riedel of East Germany and three West Germans.

Ohio U. Defeats Toledo To Take Over M-A Lead

By The Associated Press

While Ohio State virtually clinched the Big Ten basketball championship, Ohio University took over undisputed possession of first place in the Mid-American Conference in Monday night's leading Ohio cage action.

The Buckeyes of OSU trounced Illinois 109-81 and Ohio U's Bobcats chalked up their 11th straight victory, 71-67 over arch-rival Toledo.

In other games, Xavier, its eye on an NIT bid, upped its record to 16-6 with a 79-75 victory over Marquette; Tennessee State whipped Youngstown for the second time this season, 94-71; Abie Mast sank 34 points to lead Bluffton to an 86-73 win over Goshen (Ind.), and Vincennes (Ind. swamped Wilberforce 104-82.

Ohio U., with a 9-1 Mid-American record (its only loss was to Toledo), avenged that defeat by breaking the Rockets' eight-game winning skein. Toledo now has an 8-2 conference mark, and each team has only two loop games left to play.

The 12th-ranked Rockets held as much as a nine-point lead in the first half, but the Bobcats (ranked 18th) came back to tie it 37-all at intermission.

In the second half, Ohio U. broke away to eight - point leads three times, but Toledo tied the score four times. The Bobcats went ahead for keeps at 66-65 on a foul shot.

Xavier's Musketeers had a hot first half as they continued their late season drive for a postseason tourney spo. They led 44-26 at halftime and refused to surrender the lead to Marquette's late comeback. The Musketeers have now rolled over such formidable foes as Portland, Louisville, Western Kentucky, Detroit and Marquette in succession in their surge—most of it accomplished since ineligibility cost them their captain and two other players.

Horvath Has 6-Point Hockey Scoring Edge

MONTREAL (AP) — Boston's Bronco Horvath has cranked up his point-making talents in the National Hockey League, getting six last week, and has moved to a six-point advantage over Montreal's Jean Beliveau.

Horvath has scored 37 goals, tops in the league, and added 35 assists for 72 points according to NHL statistics released today. Beliveau, out with injuries, has 66 points with 32 goals and 34 assists.

Jordan Plans Title Defense Against Paret

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World welterweight champion Don Jordan will defend his title against Cuba's Benny (Kid) Paret next spring in Las Vegas, Nev., his handlers announced Monday night.

The announcement by Co-Manager Jackie McCoy came only a few hours in advance of today's deadline set by the National Boxing Assn. The NBA had decreed that Jordan would have to sign for a title bout or lose its recognition.

McCoy said the fight — to be staged either May 20 or 27 — would be nationally televised.

The word from McCoy on the signing came shortly after Jordan appeared in a court and paid a $157.50 fine at suburban Huntington Park for being intoxicated in an auto.

The 25 - year - old boxer, who pleaded guilty to the charge, was arrested Saturday night after his car struck two parked autos.

Arresting officers said Jordan was abusive and they had to clamp handcuffs on him before taking him to jail.

In addition to its deadline, the NBA had also told Jordan his title defense would have to take place by April 15. But a time extension later was granted.

Paret, who has a 30-6-2 record, is one of four top-ranked contenders.

Important Tilt Slated Tonight For South Side

Chester visits Newell in a rematch to top a 10-game card on the district basketball front tonight.

The Panthers with a 5-11 record will be seeking revenge for an earlier 48-43 loss pinned on them by Newell at Chester last month.

District Cage Card

TONIGHT

Pittsburgh S. Catholic at Midland
Chester at Newell
South Side at Snowden Twp.
Salineville at Fairfield-Waterford
Goshen Union at United
Follansbee St. Anthony at New Cumberland
Leetonia at Poland
Lisbon at East Palestine
Columbiana at Sebring
Akron East at Salem

Friday

Martins Ferry at East Liverpool
Wellsville at Toronto
Midland at Hopewell
W. Alexander at South Side
Dover St. Joseph at United
West Liberty at New Cumberland
Beaver Local at Springfield Local
Leetonia at Lisbon
Sebring at East Palestine
Newell at Jefferson Union

Saturday

East Liverpool at Dover
Northwest at Wellsville
Kirtland at Chester

Meanwhile, the Vikings will place a 5-12 record on the line on their home floor.

Although schools were closed in Hancock County today because of the recent snow, the Newell-Chester game will be played tonight. Reserve teams will meet at 7 p.m. with the varsity game getting underway about 8:15.

An important Section 15 battle finds South Side at Snowden Township. Coach Dave Nichol's Rams will be shooting for their 11th straight victory and 15th of the season.

If New Brighton wins its Section 8 game tonight the Lions will be tied with Midland for first place in the standings, showing identical 9-1 marks.

In other action, Salineville completes its season by facing Fairfield-Waterford in a make-up game at Fairfield.

United shoots for its 11th victory in 17 games by playing host to Goshen Union.

Follansbee St. Anthony visits New Cumberland where the Raiders are looking for their 7th victory.

Salem will try to regain its winning form after being upset by Akron St. Vincent last Friday when the Quakers entertain Akron East tonight.

In Tri-County action, Leetonia visits Poland, Lisbon goes to East Palestine and Columbiana travels to Sebring.

Ten more games are on tap for Friday while the week's district card winds up with three contests on Saturday.

Buckeyes Can Clinch Big 10

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, after its stunning 109-81 triumph at Illinois Monday night, may stow away the Big Ten basketball title this week.

Coach Fred Taylor's Buckeyes could clinch the title Saturday by defeating Michigan State if Indiana should fall at Iowa. Indiana (6-3) remained in the running with an 86-69 triumph over Michigan (0-9).

Minnesota (7-4) nipped Purdue (5-5), 71-69 to take third place. Wisconsin finally won its first conference game after eight defeats. A 63-58 decision over eighth-place Iowa (4-6).

Except for the early and late minutes of play, Ohio State was a team of perfection against Illinois.

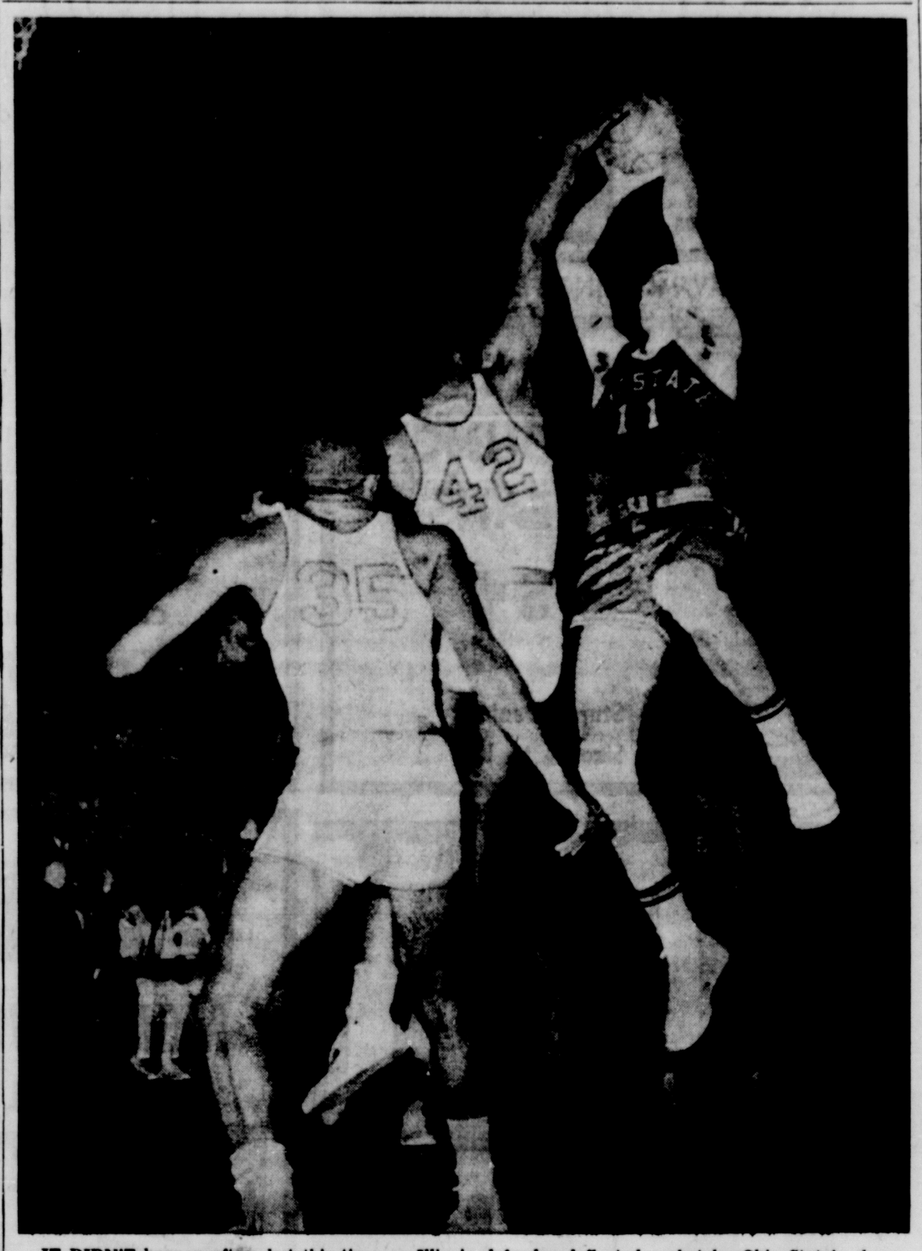

Humming the strings with .592 game field goal accuracy (to Illinois' .406), the Ohioans rambled to a 44-19 lead before the Illini trimmed it to 48-33 at the half. Then the Bucks ran wild with 61 points in the last 20 minutes.

Purchase Completed Of Cleveland Tracks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Edward J. De Bartolo of Youngstown completed the purchase of Thistledown and Cranwood racing franchises Monday. The five - million - dollar purchase had been sanctioned by the Ohio Racing Commission.

De Bartolo is the new president of Thistledown and his brother-in-law, Frank Mastriani, will serve as president of Cranwood.

IT DIDN'T happen often, but this time an Illinois defender deflected a shot by Ohio State's sharpshooting Jerry Lucas (11). With 31 points, Lucas led Ohio State to a 109-81 victory over Illinois Monday night. (UPI Telephoto)

Three Sophomores Pace Ohio State To 109-81 Win

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Triggered by a deadeye trio of sophomores, Ohio State's Buckeyes are powering their way toward what could be the first unbeaten season in Big Ten college basketball in 17 years.

The hunch is there could be a national championship at the end of the drive.

Fourth-rated nationally, Ohio State fired to its 10th straight Big Ten victory, its 11th straight success and an over-all 18-2 record Monday night with a 109-81 rout of formidable Illinois (13-5). It was the first time an Ohio State team had managed to beat the Illini a Illinois since 1945 and again it was the three sophomores — 6-8 Jerry Lucas, 6-5 John Havlicek, and 6-2 Mel Nowell — who carried the brunt of the attack.

Lucas scored 31 points, Havlicek 29 and Nowell 17, accounting for 77 of the total that helped the Bucks retain their pace as the top scoring major college team.

With a 10-0 record to 6-3 for runner-up Indiana, Ohio State has all but wrapped up its first conference championship since 1950 and the subsequent berth in the post-season NCAA tournament.

Colorado and Kansas State, in a pair of squeakers, remained tied for the Big Eight Conference lead, Auburn stayed on Georgia Tech's heels in the torrid Southeastern Conference race, and Ohio U. whipped Toledo 71-67 to take undisputed first place in the Mid-American loop in other key Monday games.

St. John's of New York, expected to be added to the National Invitation Tournament field today, ran its winning streak to nine for a 15-5 record by pasting CCNY 93-67, and Xavier of Ohio (16-6), with an outside tournament chance, cuffed Marquette 79-75 in important non-conference play.

Colorado nipped Missouri 63-62 for a 7-2 Big Eight record matching Kansas State, which edged Iowa State 72-70 on Wally Frank's basket with 25 seconds left. Kansas stayed in Big Eight contention, rolling to a 6-3 record as Wayne Hightower's free-throw after the final buzzer gave the Jayhawks' a 54-53 victory over Oklahoma.

Auburn edged Tulane in overtime 53-51 for a 9-2 SEC record to 9-1 for idle Georgia Tech, while Mississippi State downed Florida 81-75, LSU spilled Alabama 66-53, and Mississippi nipped Georgia 65-63 in overtime in other SEC games.

Five Area Teams Draw For Struthers Tourney

In the second game, Columbiana meets Struthers at 7:30 and the finale at 8:45 pits East Palestine against United.

On Feb. 26 at 6:15, Hubbard, seeded No. 2 in the tourney, goes against Canfield and Beaver Local faces Poland at 7:30. The 8:45 contest shows Brookfield meeting Youngstown Ursuline.

The other three schools which make up the 15-team tournament include Liberty, Boardman and Cardinal Mooney who drew byes in the first round.

Feb. 25

6:15—Lisbon vs. Youngstown Woodrow Wilson
7:30—Columbiana vs. Struthers
8:45—East Palestine vs. United

Feb. 26

6:15—Hubbard vs. Canfield
7:30—Beaver Local vs. Poland

Cleveland Ace Tied For AHL Point Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland's Fred Glover climaxed a tremendous surge in the American Hockey League scoring race by tying Floyd Smith of Springfield for first place—each with 70 points—AHL statistics showed today.

Four weeks ago, Glover was eighth in scoring with 44 points while Smith was No. 1 with 58. In the interim, Glover has tallied nine times and assisted on 17 others. This is the first time in 14 weeks that the Springfield star has not had undisputed possession of the AHL's top scoring spot.

Smith has scored 25 times and assisted on 45 others, the latter tops in the AHL. Glover leads all scorers with 29 goals and has 41 assists.

Stanton Local Jumps To 9th Place; Salem Slips To 7th In Ohio Poll

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The toll was terrific in Ohio high school basketball last week as Class AA top 10 members took a beating from lower-rated foes.

The big one was the 60-59 defeat pinned on third - ranked Salem, runner-up for the 1959 state title, by Akron St. Vincent which had won only two of 15 previous starts. Salem's other loss also was a one-pointer, 42-41 to Youngstown East.

Sixth - ranked Lakewood was tumbled 62-57 by Lorain, seventh-place Toledo Scott was victimized 83-78 by Toledo Woodward, and tenth-ranked Portsmouth was a 66-55 victim of Hamilton Garfield.

Dayton Roosevelt's unbeaten Teddies rolled to their 17th straight to retain the Class AA poll lead by a 113-point margin over defending state king Cleveland East Tech, with 48 sports editors voting in the weekly Associated Press poll.

East Tech, after losing its opener, ran its victory string to 15 by 60-57 over Cathedral Latin. The Scarabs, winners of 66 of their last 67, go after their third straight city title—and their seventh in the last eight years—against St. Ignatius (16-1). A crowd of 13,000 is expected at the Friday night classic.

The defeats had plenty of effect—some good, some bad—on the top 10 ratings. Canton Timken (17-0) moved up to third, close on East Tech's heels, as Salem skidded to seventh. Lakewood, despite the Lorain loss, moved up a notch to fifth. Toledo Woodward made its first appearance in the select list, despite a 81-73 loss to Cleveland Glenville Saturday night.

A big oddity is that Toledo Scott, beaten by Woodward Friday, lost all its first-place votes to the conquerors but wound up in an eighth-place tie with Woodward.

Newark, although a winner last week, dropped from the top 10 and Youngstown East climbed from among the also-rans into tenth. Xenia Central (15-0) made the big leap from ninth to fourth as the Greene County boys picked up support from everywhere.

Northwestern of Wayne County, the 1958 state champ, retained its top spot in the Class A rankings, with Salem Local of Urbana clinging to second. New Boston jumped from sixth to third as Van Del dropped to seventh from the show spot. Only change in the top 10 among the smaller schools came as Stanton Local (14-4) moved into a last-place tie with unbeaten Granville. New Bremen (17-1) dropped out.

From here and there: Springfield, which started fast, is now 11-5 after beating Mansfield and losing to Troy over the weekend. Unrated Urbana won twice to make it 16-0. New Boston wound up its at-home campaign by beating Class AA Waverly 59-34—its 36th straight on the home boards dating back to 1956.

York Twp., the Sandusky County League winner, lost to Risingsun after 11 in a row. Two York regulars, center Mike Harward and forward Ottis Frasure, were hurt in a Feb. 7 auto accident, the former suffering a broken leg, and they're out for the season.

Jim Wickert, Old Fort's 6-1 senior guard, came back for 13 points in the win over Bettsville as he played for the first time since a Jan. 17 emergency appendectomy.

Kenny Cunningham, East Liverpool junior, set a school record with 39 against Toronto Friday, and came right back for 29 against Marietta Saturday.

Cardington, undefeated in football, lost two titles last weekend. Friday the Morrow County crown went glimmering as Iberia topped Cardington 58-56, and the next night Mount Gilead's 70-42 verdict cost Cardington the Mid-Ohio League toga.

Ed DiGregorio's Youngstown East club clinched a tie for the city title by beating South, with All-Ohio football end Jim Snowden scoring 21 points and grabbing 25 rebounds. East has a 10 - game streak going.

Hoeft To Get Another Try With Orioles

DETROIT (AP)—It's refreshing to Billy Hoeft not to hear talk that he is all washed up.

"Now maybe I can concentrate just on being a pitcher, and not have to worry about rumors that I've lost my fast ball," said the big left-hander who'll be pitching for the Baltimore Orioles this season.

Perhaps the worst thing that ever happened to playful Billy was landing a major league job with the Detroit Tigers before he reached his 20th birthday.

In most of the seven-plus seasons Hoeft spent in a Detroit uniform, he never quite lived up to his advance billing. His best season was 16-7 in 1955 when he had a 2.99 earned run average. The Tigers sent him to Boston last May. The trade route eventually got him into Baltimore, under the expert guidance of Paul Richards.

Richards changed Hoeft's whole delivery. He made Hoeft stop dropping his arm way behind his back and shortened his windup.

"I was bringing my arm way around and back, and then whipping the ball," said Hoeft. "Richards said I wasn't getting enough body into the delivery. I noticed a difference right away."

Despite a 2-5 record last season, Hoeft has been told that he is being counted on for a regular job with the Orioles.

"That's a shot in the arm for me," said Hoeft, "just knowing that Richards is counting on me. I'm convinced I'm ready for a comeback."

Pony League Meeting Set Wednesday Night

A meeting for managers and officers of the East Liverpool Pony League will be held Wednesday at 7:30 at the Travelers Hotel. Jim Walker, president, will preside.

Keylor To Quit Ohio Valley Athletic Post

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A Veteran Administrator of high schoool athletics, W. W. Keylor, w resign the end of March as secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference.

Keylor, former Wheeling high school principal, is expected to tender his resignation March 29, when the conference holds its spring dinner at nearby Martins Ferry, Ohio.

Keylor assumed the secretary's post four years ago. He plans to make his home with his sister and brother-in-law near Mount Vernon, Ohio, in April.

Frank (Bots) Nekola, former Holy Cross southpaw pitcher, scouts for the Boston Red Sox.

Injury List Reaches 14 As Winter Olympics Near

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Controversy flared on two fronts and the injury list spiraled to 14 today with the Winter Olympic Games fast approaching their Thursday opening.

Most seriously hurt was Italian downhill ski racer Battista Pordon, 20. In a fall into Squaw Creek, he suffered a broken leg, broken arm, broken collarbone, lacerations of the head and contusions of the left kidney that caused internal bleeding.

In Colorado Springs, Colo., Rudolph Eklowe, Swedish delegate to the International Ice Hockey Federation, declared hockey would not be played if organizers don't accept an 11-day schedule.

While the controversy boiled, Czechoslovakian Coach Eduard Farda charged hockey playing conditions were "atrocious."

There were hints that if conditions didn't improve, the Czechs might withdraw from the nine-team field.

Kerbert Kunze of West Germany nominated Eberhard Riedel of East Germany and three West Germans.

Ohio U. Defeats Toledo To Take Over M-A Lead

By The Associated Press

While Ohio State virtually clinched the Big Ten basketball championship, Ohio University took over undisputed possession of first place in the Mid-American Conference in Monday night's leading Ohio cage action.

The Buckeyes of OSU trounced Illinois 109-81 and Ohio U's Bobcats chalked up their 11th straight victory, 71-67 over arch-rival Toledo.

In other games, Xavier, its eye on an NIT bid, upped its record to 16-6 with a 79-75 victory over Marquette; Tennessee State whipped Youngstown for the second time this season, 94-71; Abie Mast sank 34 points to lead Bluffton to an 86-73 win over Goshen (Ind.), and Vincennes (Ind. swamped Wilberforce 104-82.

Ohio U., with a 9-1 Mid-American record (its only loss was to Toledo), avenged that defeat by breaking the Rockets' eight-game winning skein. Toledo now has an 8-2 conference mark, and each team has only two loop games left to play.

The 12th-ranked Rockets held as much as a nine-point lead in the first half, but the Bobcats (ranked 18th) came back to tie it 37-all at intermission.

In the second half, Ohio U. broke away to eight - point leads three times, but Toledo tied the score four times. The Bobcats went ahead for keeps at 66-65 on a foul shot.

Xavier's Musketeers had a hot first half as they continued their late season drive for a postseason tourney spo. They led 44-26 at halftime and refused to surrender the lead to Marquette's late comeback. The Musketeers have now rolled over such formidable foes as Portland, Louisville, Western Kentucky, Detroit and Marquette in succession in their surge—most of it accomplished since ineligibility cost them their captain and two other players.

Horvath Has 6-Point Hockey Scoring Edge

MONTREAL (AP) — Boston's Bronco Horvath has cranked up his point-making talents in the National Hockey League, getting six last week, and has moved to a six-point advantage over Montreal's Jean Beliveau.

Horvath has scored 37 goals, tops in the league, and added 35 assists for 72 points according to NHL statistics released today. Beliveau, out with injuries, has 66 points with 32 goals and 34 assists.

Jordan Plans Title Defense Against Paret

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World welterweight champion Don Jordan will defend his title against Cuba's Benny (Kid) Paret next spring in Las Vegas, Nev., his handlers announced Monday night.

The announcement by Co-Manager Jackie McCoy came only a few hours in advance of today's deadline set by the National Boxing Assn. The NBA had decreed that Jordan would have to sign for a title bout or lose its recognition.

McCoy said the fight — to be staged either May 20 or 27 — would be nationally televised.

The word from McCoy on the signing came shortly after Jordan appeared in a court and paid a $157.50 fine at suburban Huntington Park for being intoxicated in an auto.

The 25 - year - old boxer, who pleaded guilty to the charge, was arrested Saturday night after his car struck two parked autos.

Arresting officers said Jordan was abusive and they had to clamp handcuffs on him before taking him to jail.

In addition to its deadline, the NBA had also told Jordan his title defense would have to take place by April 15. But a time extension later was granted.

Paret, who has a 30-6-2 record, is one of four top-ranked contenders.

Fleck Takes Rich Phoenix Open Tourney

By BOB WOOD

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Jack Fleck, who for five years was called professional golf's forgotten flash-in-the-pan, was back in the winner's circle today after a victory in an 18-hole playoff for top money in the $22,500 Phoenix Open.

Fleck, of Los Angeles, came from behind twice Monday to beat Bill Collins, Crystal River, Fla., by three strokes.

Fleck covered the 6,585-yard Phoenix Country Club course in a 3-under-par 68. Collins shot even par.

Back in June 19, 1955, at the Olympic Club course in San Francisco, Fleck rose from professional golf obscurity to national prominence by winning the U. S. Open in a dramatic playoff with Ben Hogan. After that, Fleck dropped into obscurity again.

But Fleck, who played in only a few tournaments during the next four years, returned to the touring trail this season.

He collected $3,150 Monday plus a share of receipts from a gallery of 2,500. That was Fleck's first victory since the 1955 open, and the forgotten man was stirring old golf memories.

Collins pocketed $2,100 plus his share of the receipts.

The turning point in the playoff came on the par four 14th hole. The golfers were all even.

Collins drove into the trees. His recovery shot smashed into a trap. He blasted out over the green. He chipped back, the ball again sailing over the green and into the same trap. He finally got out of the trap, and sank his putt for a double bogey 6. Fleck was down in four.

Fleck said, "At no point did I think I had the match won. It's wonderful to get back into the winner's circle. It's been a long time."

JACK FLECK of Los Angeles blasts out of the sand trap at the seventh green, with the ball landing two feet from the cup. He sank the putt for a birdie on the par 5 hole and went on to win the $27,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament playoff with a 68, three strokes better than runnerup Bill Collins of Crystal River, Fla. Indians Sell Baxes To San Diego Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Baxes, utility infielder who batted .239 last season and wanted a $4,000 raise for the coming campaign, was sold by the Cleveland Indians Monday to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

Baxes won several games for the Indians in 1959, hitting 15 home runs. He didn't figure in plans for 1960, however, said General Manager Frank Lane.

"He's a liability defensively because of his weak arm and he strikes out too often to be a good pinch hitter," Lane said.

Baxes, 31, played in 77 games in 1959, at third base and second base.

2 Troublesome Cases Slated As Olympic Group Ends Talks

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 56th session of the International Olympic Committee concludes today with the troublesome cases of two divided nations, China and Korea, apparently due for disposition at the next meeting in Rome.

Avery Brundage, president of the IOC, said the IOC agreed last year that "any controversial matters" would not be acted upon until a full membership of the IOC is present.

The big item from Monday's meeting was a resolution urging freedom of the press for the entire world in Olympic Games "without any discrimination against any country or any person on grounds of race, religion or politics."

The resolution developed from a refusal by the U.S. State Department to permit certain East German journalists into the country for the Winter Games starting Thursday at Squaw Valley.

Concerning East German complaints that officials were denied visas, Brundage explained that their quota in ratio to the number of athletes already had been filled in accordance with IOC regulations. The extra applicants were excluded.

It appeared certain that a four-man team from Nationalist China — Formosa — would not be allowed to compete at Squaw Valley.

Their status at present rests with the International Ski Federation, not the IOC. Brundage said he knows of no meeing planning by the Ski Federation.

Cincy Retains No. 1 Position In Cage Poll

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Bearcats, who have been rated the nation's top college basketball team since the start of the season, may have to wait until March 9 to prove it for the mythical national championship.

That's the date of the projected title playoff for the Missouri Valley Conference title and an NCAA tournament berth. At present, both Cincy, and second - ranked Bradley, are tied for first place and there doesn't seem to be anyone in the Mo Valley capable of displacing them.

Sportswriters and broadcasters voting in the Associated Press' poll gave Cincy 79 first place votes after the 'Cats used a tremendous 11-point surge in the final five minutes last Friday night to get by St. Louis, 61-58. Bradley received only 21, after beating Drake 68-63 Saturday night, and Houston earlier in the week.

But the Braves received plenty of second and third place votes to amass 1,415 points compared to Cincy's 1,661.

NBA Lifts Archie Moore's Light Heavyweight Crown

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)-The National Boxing Assn. has lifted old Archie Moore's light heavyweight title and is casting glances at the crown worn by welterweight Don Jordan.

Moore, at his home in San Diego, Calif., was so upset on hearing of the NBA action Monday that he went to bed and, on the advice of his doctor, took sedatives.

He snapped back bitterly at the announcement by NBA President Anthony Maceroni's announcement the title is being vacated because Moore failed to defend it within the prescribed six months.

"It took an undertaker (Maceroni's occupation) to take the title away from me," he said. "That's something a challenger was never able to do."

It is for the same reason-inactivity-that the NBA is keping close track of welterweight champion Jordan. He was warned he must sign for a title defense against one of the top four challengers by Feb. 15- Monday - or his title would be taken away.

Maceroni said Monday night he has not heard, officially, of any Jordan defense, but the Los Angeles fighter could have signed and the NBA not yet have been notified.

On the light heavy crown, worn by Moore since Dec. 17, 1952, Maceronia said details on a successor will be worked out in a meeting in New York March 5. Any plans definitely will include Harold Johnson, the No. 1 challenger, Maceroni said.

The NBA Executive Council passed a resolution Dec. 12 that Moore must defend against Johnson not later than Feb. 12 or the title would be declared vacant. Moore and Kearns showed no inclination to honor the order, Maceroni said.

Moore, whose age is variously listed as 46 and 43 in record books, is still considered the champion in California and New York, which do not belong to the NBA. Massachusetts, another non-NBA state, is scheduled to take action on Moore's status Friday.

Collins pocketed $2,100 plus his share of the receipts.

The two tied at 273 — 11 strokes under par — in the tourney's regulation 72-holes.

The turning point in the playoff came on the par four 14th hole. The golfers were all even.

Collins drove into the trees. His recovery shot smashed into a trap. He blasted out over the green. He chipped back, the ball again sailing over the green and into the same trap. He finally got out of the trap, and sank his putt for a double bogey 6. Fleck was down in four.

To put the match on ice, Fleck sank a 6-foot birdie putt on No. 15 and ran home a 40-foot putt for another birdie on No. 16.

Fleck said, "At no point did I think I had the match won. It's wonderful to get back into the winner's circle. It's been a long time."

JACK FLECK of Los Angeles blasts out of the sand trap at the seventh green, with the ball landing two feet from the cup. He sank the putt for a birdie on the par 5 hole and went on to win the $27,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament playoff with a 68, three strokes better than runnerup Bill Collins of Crystal River, Fla. Indians Sell Baxes To San Diego Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Baxes, utility infielder who batted .239 last season and wanted a $4,000 raise for the coming campaign, was sold by the Cleveland Indians Monday to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

Baxes won several games for the Indians in 1959, hitting 15 home runs. He didn't figure in plans for 1960, however, said General Manager Frank Lane.

"He's a liability defensively because of his weak arm and he strikes out too often to be a good pinch hitter," Lane said.

Baxes, 31, played in 77 games in 1959, at third base and second base.

With the disposal of Baxes and the signing Monday of catcher John Romano, Lane now has only two unsigned players—Rocky Colavito and Gary Bell.

Cincy Retains No. 1 Position In Cage Poll

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Bearcats, who have been rated the nation's top college basketball team since the start of the season, may have to wait until March 9 to prove it for the mythical national championship.

That's the date of the projected title playoff for the Missouri Valley Conference title and an NCAA tournament berth. At present, both Cincy, and second - ranked Bradley, are tied for first place and there doesn't seem to be anyone in the Mo Valley capable of displacing them.

Sportswriters and broadcasters voting in the Associated Press' poll gave Cincy 79 first place votes after the 'Cats used a tremendous 11-point surge in the final five minutes last Friday night to get by St. Louis, 61-58. Bradley received only 21, after beating Drake 68-63 Saturday night, and Houston earlier in the week.

But the Braves received plenty of second and third place votes to amass 1,415 points compared to Cincy's 1,661.

The first 10 teams with points on a 10-9-8 etc basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1.	Cincinnati (79)	1,661
2.	Bradley (21)	1,415
3.	California (36)	1,356

NBA Lifts Archie Moore's Light Heavyweight Crown

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)-The National Boxing Assn. has lifted old Archie Moore's light heavyweight title and is casting glances at the crown worn by welterweight Don Jordan.

Moore, at his home in San Diego, Calif., was so upset on hearing of the NBA action Monday that he went to bed and, on the advice of his doctor, took sedatives.

He snapped back bitterly at the announcement by NBA President Anthony Maceroni's announcement the title is being vacated because Moore failed to defend it within the prescribed six months.

"It took an undertaker (Maceroni's occupation) to take the title away from me," he said. "That's something a challenger was never able to do."

It is for the same reason-inactivity-that the NBA is keping close track of welterweight champion Jordan. He was warned he must sign for a title defense against one of the top four challengers by Feb. 15- Monday - or his title would be taken away.

Maceroni said Monday night he has not heard, officially, of any Jordan defense, but the Los Angeles fighter could have signed and the NBA not yet have been notified.

On the light heavy crown, worn by Moore since Dec. 17, 1952, Maceronia said details on a successor will be worked out in a meeting in New York March 5. Any plans definitely will include Harold Johnson, the No. 1 challenger, Maceroni said.

Moore and his manager, Jack Kearns, were "given ample warning and sufficient time," to arrange for a defense, Maceroni said.

"It is evident that Moore's plans are for a third chance at the heavyweight title, rather than a defense of his 175-pound crown," he added.

The NBA Executive Council passed a resolution Dec. 12 that Moore must defend against Johnson not later than Feb. 12 or the title would be declared vacant. Moore and Kearns showed no inclination to honor the order, Maceroni said.

Moore, whose age is variously listed as 46 and 43 in record books, is still considered the champion in California and New York, which do not belong to the NBA. Massachusetts, another non-NBA state, is scheduled to take action on Moore's status Friday.

Even Record At 5-5

Potter Matmen Win, 38-5

East Liverpool swept 10 of 11 matches and evened its season record at 5-5 after a 38-5 victory at New Philadelphia Monday night.

The Potters won the first 9 matches before Al Tate, New Philadelphia's 177-pounder, pinned Eugene Wolfe for New Philly's only victory.

Don Danzo, 106-pounder, started the Potters on their way by picking up a forfeit. John Goemple decisioned Flaherty in the 115 - pound battle and Frank Danzo followed with a 10-6 victory over Parris in the 123-pound match.

Don Seibert gained a lopsided 15-4 win over Bichsel in the 130-pound bout and Joe Hager, East Liverpool's 136-pounder, pinned Johnston in 4:18.

Larry McCullough (141) picked up a 4-2 win over Richards and Glenn Mays won a forfeit in the 148-pound match.

Bruce (Big Mama) Reynolds scored an 8-3 win over Mason in the heavyweight match.

106 — D. Danzo (EL) won by forfeit.

115 — Goemple (EL) decisioned Flaherty (NP) 4-2.

123 — F. Danzo (EL) decisioned Parris (NP) 10-6.

Heavyweight — Reynolds (EL) decisioned Mason (NP) 8-3.

2 Troublesome Cases Slated As Olympic Group Ends Talks

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 56th session of the International Olympic Committee concludes today with the troublesome cases of two divided nations, China and Korea, apparently due for disposition at the next meeting in Rome.

Avery Brundage, president of the IOC, said the IOC agreed last year that "any controversial matters" would not be acted upon until a full membership of the IOC is present.

The big item from Monday's meeting was a resolution urging freedom of the press for the entire world in Olympic Games "without any discrimination against any country or any person on grounds of race, religion or politics."

The resolution developed from a refusal by the U.S. State Department to permit certain East German journalists into the country for the Winter Games starting Thursday at Squaw Valley.

Brundage said the matter is one for the State Department to resolve.

Concerning East German complaints that officials were denied visas, Brundage explained that their quota in ratio to the number of athletes already had been filled in accordance with IOC regulations. The extra applicants were excluded.

It appeared certain that a four-man team from Nationalist China — Formosa — would not be allowed to compete at Squaw Valley.

Their status at present rests with the International Ski Federation, not the IOC. Brundage said he knows of no meeing planning by the Ski Federation.

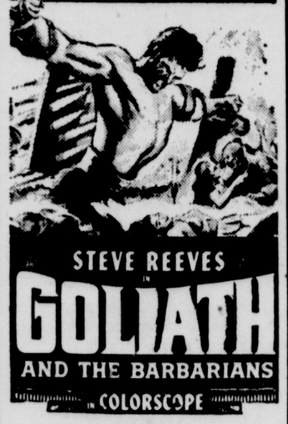

4 More Redlegs Sign

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four more Cincinnati Reds have signed contracts for 1960—pitchers Orlando Pena and Mike Cuellar, outfielder Joe Gaines and first baseman Roeglio Alvarez. With 33 players now in the fold, six remain to be signed.

Rules For Parents To Help Child Learn

By Garry Meyers

Parents can help the child, especially of the elementary grades, with the school learning in the following ways: 1. Provide a happy, companionable family atmosphere. 2. Build up in the child a wholesome regard for his teachers and school. 3. Help him feel that you consider learning at school a very important, serious business. 4. Cultivate in him self-reliance, beginning long before he enters school and continuing while in school. 5. See that he conforms to reasonable family regulations. 6. Require him to do certain regular chores and see that he does them well and promptly without fail. 7. Practice him at being home after dark on nights before school. Strictly regulate TV and radio, ruling them out during study period.

8. AS SOON as he has home work, see that he goes at it promptly and diligently early in the evening and at a regular place in the home where he will have the fewest possible distractions.

Have him assemble his materials at the beginning of his study period. No admission of his pals, except in a few instances when they might effectively join him in his study.

9. If he has no homework, see that he reads from wholesome books or magazines for half an hour or more during his regular homework period. Help him find reading materials of interest to him.

Often encourage, sometimes require, him to tell you in a few words the gist of what he has read. Important that he shall have daily home practice at mental work.

10. If his teacher sends home a few number combinations like 8 and 6 are 14, 9 from 13 leaves 4, 7 times 4 are 28, see that he learns them by heart.

Urge him not to attack more than four or five an evening, but to practice each combination, often enough and carefully enough, so that he masters it by heart without making a single error. Set as the slogan for all such memorizing, "Slow, easy, accurate."

11. IF HE has a list of words he must learn to spell, induce him to study one word at a time until he has mastered its spelling, before attacking another word. You help him best as you cause him to go slowly and carefully. Never let him try a word until he's sure he can spell it right.

12. If he does written work, induce, even require, him to do over work that was slovenly done.

13. Often read his assignments with him and help him turn each paragraph into a sentence or so of his own words.

14. When you help him with his lessons, manage yourself so well that your voice never rises or has the slightest suggestion of irritation.

15. If he must assemble information from books, magazines or newspapers, be on the lookout for such materials and help him assemble them.

16. Always be an honest, eager learner with him and prove your interest in all he learns at school by listening raptly when he tells of such at home.

My bulletins, "Helping Child With Lessons at Home" and "Parents and the Child's Homework," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Exercise Helps Reducer Reach Size 16

"You have given me a wonderful Christmas present. My figure!" That cheering message came in a second report from a successful reducer. This overweight was activated to slim down by this blunt statement, 'If you have nothing fit to wear, chances are you're getting fat'.

By Ida Jean Kain

Unable to fit into any of the clothes in her wardrobe, our overweight stepped reluctantly on the dusty scales. The pointer zoomed to 178 pounds. Her story first appeared in mid-November and here is the happy conclusion.

"It's a year since I started and I'm now in shape. I had tried time and again to diet, but in a few days I was back in the old fattening groove.

SO THIS TIME I didn't actually diet, but cut serving sizes, restricted sweets, and cut out all TV snacks. Also I exercise every day with a half-hour program.

"As you may recall I had a model to follow — the model reducer in your column who slimmed down from 176 to 153 and streamlined her measurements with calisthenics.

"You asked me to write again and tell you of my progress. Here goes: My weight was 178, it's now 156. The bust measurement has gone from 40 to 38 inches; the waist from 31 to 28 inches and the hips from 44 to 40 inches.

"My sister came 300 miles to visit me and thought I looked grand. I now clip your columns to send to her. She stopped at Columbus and told my other sister, so now they are both streamlining. They have asked if you would reprint the exercise routine which accomplished sheer magic.

"I never say I am dieting when I am invited out. Also, if a holiday or a visit gets me off the track, the next day I'm back on. By the way, the column in which you told us to eat normally on holidays was a wonderful idea. With right thinking, one can cut calories without feeling deprived.

"I WEAR MY size 16's with ease, and took a tuck in my 18's. Before I reduced I was crowding out of my 18's. My doctor says I look fine and not to lose over 5 more pounds. I'm 5' 7", heavy frame.

"Before I reduced, my 8-year-old boy said one day, 'Mom, you're a little fat.' Now he says I look nice. My scales are no longer dusty — I use them daily."

Thank you for sharing your victory with us. We all rejoice with you. Tomorrow we'll include the special exercise program requested.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Ideal Weight Chart For Women," and "Take Your Measure," to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Jack Paar TV Show Goes On Without Paar

NEW YORK (AP) — The Jack Paar television show went on the air Monday night — without Paar but with some quips by author Alexander King that brought a few gasps from the audience.

Paar and his wife, Miriam, left their Bronxville, N.Y., home Monday for a vacation. The comedian had said he was going to South America or Mexico. His agent would say only that Paar was headed toward "a warm climate."

The comedian walked off his show Thursday night. He protested the censorship of a joke by the National Broadcasting Co. from his taped show of the previcus night.

Paar said then he would not return to the show, but he has cooled off a little since and said he hopes he doesn't have to return to the show. He remains under contract to NBC.

King, who appeared often with Paar on the program, talked at length about censorship. NBC allowed the entire program on the air as taped, including King's comments.

The author said he would not appear on the show again without Paar.

Plans Speeded Up On New Highway

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Highways Department is moving as fast as possible on plans for construction of the Erie - Pittsburgh - West Virginia Freeway, says Highways Secretary Park H. Martin.

He outlined progress of the north-south highway in a letter Monday to Robert S. Bates, Meadville, chairman of the Erie-Pittsburgh-West Virginia Freeway Assn.

Martin said location surveys for a section of the freeway between Meadville and Erie will be completed as soon as a location is determined for a spur between the city of Erie and the Erie Throughway.

He said the Highways Department expects to submit plans on the spur to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads about the middle of March.

2 IN MEMORIAM

Time speeds by so quickly that it seems but a day, Since you laid down your burden and softly went away. The parting was hard, but you had to go, For the Saviour called in a voice, so low, But you'll wait for us in that land so fair, And we know there will be no parting there. (Peggy Wilson) Sadly missed by his wife Ethel, his sons and daughters, and all who loved him.

IN loving memory of BILL, beloved son of William L. and Helen A. Slanaker, who died one year ago today: We loved him ah, no tongue can tell, How much we loved him and how well. God loved him, too, and thought it best To take him home with Him to rest. Sadly missed by his parents, brother and sister.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Rules For Parents To Help Child Learn

Parents can help the child, especially of the elementary grades, with the school learning in the following ways: 1. Provide a happy, companionable family atmosphere. 2. Build up in the child a wholesome regard for his teachers and school. 3. Help him feel that you consider learning at school a very important, serious business. 4. Cultivate in him self-reliance, beginning long before he enters school and continuing while in school. 5. See that he conforms to reasonable family regulations. 6. Require him to do certain regular chores and see that he does them well and promptly without fail. 7. Practice him at being home after dark on nights before school. Strictly regulate TV and radio, ruling them out during study period.

By Garry Meyers

8. AS SOON as he has home work, see that he goes at it promptly and diligently early in the evening and at a regular place in the home where he will have the fewest possible distractions.

Have him assemble his materials at the beginning of his study period. No admission of his pals, except in a few instances when they might effectively join him in his study.

9. If he has no homework, see that he reads from wholesome books or magazines for half an hour or more during his regular homework period. Help him find reading materials of interest to him.

Often encourage, sometimes require, him to tell you in a few words the gist of what he has read. Important that he shall have daily home practice at mental work.

10. If his teacher sends home a few number combinations like 8 and 6 are 14, 9 from 13 leaves 4, 7 times 4 are 28, see that he learns them by heart.

Urge him not to attack more than four or five an evening, but to practice each combination, often enough and carefully enough, so that he masters it by heart without making a single error. Set as the slogan for all such memorizing, "Slow, easy, accurate."

11. IF HE has a list of words he must learn to spell, induce him to study one word at a time until he has mastered its spelling, before attacking another word. You help him best as you cause him to go slowly and carefully. Never let him try a word until he's sure he can spell it right.

12. If he does written work, induce, even require, him to do over work that was slovenly done.

13. Often read his assignments with him and help him turn each paragraph into a sentence or so of his own words.

14. When you help him with his lessons, manage yourself so well that your voice never rises or has the slightest suggestion of irritation.

15. If he must assemble information from books, magazines or newspapers, be on the lookout for such materials and help him assemble them.

16. Always be an honest, eager learner with him and prove your interest in all he learns at school by listening raptly when he tells of such at home.

My bulletins, "Helping Child With Lessons at Home" and "Parents and the Child's Homework," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

Exercise Helps Reducer Reach Size 16

"You have given me a wonderful Christmas present. My figure!" That cheering message came in a second report from a successful reducer. This overweight was activated to slim down by this blunt statement, 'If you have nothing fit to wear, chances are you're getting fat'.

By Ida Jean Kain

Unable to fit into any of the clothes in her wardrobe, our overweight stepped reluctantly on the dusty scales. The pointer zoomed to 178 pounds. Her story first appeared in mid-November and here is the happy conclusion.

"It's a year since I started and I'm now in shape. I had tried time and again to diet, but in a few days I was back in the old fattening groove.

SO THIS TIME I didn't actually diet, but cut serving sizes, restricted sweets, and cut out all TV snacks. Also I exercise every day with a half-hour program.

"As you may recall I had a model to follow — the model reducer in your column who slimmed down from 176 to 153 and streamlined her measurements with calisthenics.

"You asked me to write again and tell you of my progress. Here goes: My weight was 178, it's now 156. The bust measurement has gone from 40 to 38 inches; the waist from 31 to 28 inches and the hips from 44 to 40 inches.

"My sister came 300 miles to visit me and thought I looked grand. I now clip your columns to send to her. She stopped at Columbus and told my other sister, so now they are both streamlining. They have asked if you would reprint the exercise routine which accomplished sheer magic.

"I never say I am dieting when I am invited out. Also, if a holiday or a visit gets me off the track, the next day I'm back on. By the way, the column in which you told us to eat normally on holidays was a wonderful idea. With right thinking, one can cut calories without feeling deprived.

"I WEAR MY size 16's with ease, and took a tuck in my 18's. Before I reduced I was crowding out of my 18's. My doctor says I look fine and not to lose over 5 more pounds. I'm 5' 7", heavy frame.

"Before I reduced, my 8-year-old boy said one day, 'Mom, you're a little fat.' Now he says I look nice. My scales are no longer dusty — I use them daily."

Thank you for sharing your victory with us. We all rejoice with you. Tomorrow we'll include the special exercise program requested.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Ideal Weight Chart For Women," and "Take Your Measure," to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Jack Paar TV Show Goes On Without Paar

NEW YORK (AP) — The Jack Paar television show went on the air Monday night — without Paar but with some quips by author Alexander King that brought a few gasps from the audience.

Paar and his wife, Miriam, left their Bronxville, N.Y., home Monday for a vacation. The comedian had said he was going to South America or Mexico. His agent would say only that Paar was headed toward "a warm climate."

The comedian walked off his show Thursday night. He protested the censorship of a joke by the National Broadcasting Co. from his taped show of the previcus night.

Paar said then he would not return to the show, but he has cooled off a little since and said he hopes he doesn't have to return to the show. He remains under contract to NBC.

King, who appeared often with Paar on the program, talked at length about censorship. NBC allowed the entire program on the air as taped, including King's comments.

The author said he would not appear on the show again without Paar.

Crucible Aide Named

Plans Speeded Up On New Highway

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Highways Department is moving as fast as possible on plans for construction of the Erie - Pittsburgh - West Virginia Freeway, says Highways Secretary Park H. Martin.

He outlined progress of the north-south highway in a letter Monday to Robert S. Bates, Meadville, chairman of the Erie-Pittsburgh-West Virginia Freeway Assn.

Martin said location surveys for a section of the freeway between Meadville and Erie will be completed as soon as a location is determined for a spur between the city of Erie and the Erie Throughway.

He said the Highways Department expects to submit plans on the spur to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads about the middle of March.

Liquor Store Hit Again

CLEVELAND (AP)—In the 10th burglary of a state liquor store here this year, the front window of a state liquor store at 5609 Woodland Ave. was smashed early today. Three men were seen carrying cases of liquor away.

Heart Attack Fatal

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Lake County authorities said Mrs. Audrey E. Meldon, 47, died of a heart attack suffered while shoveling snow at her Kirtland Twp. home Monday.

Time speeds by so quickly that it seems but a day, Since you laid down your burden and softly went away. The parting was hard, but you had to go, For the Saviour called in a voice, so low, But you'll wait for us in that land so fair, And we know there will be no parting there. (Peggy Wilson) Sadly missed by his wife Ethel, his sons and daughters, and all who loved him.

IN loving memory of BILL, beloved son of William L. and Helen A. Slanaker, who died one year ago today: We loved him ah, no tongue can tell, How much we loved him and how well. God loved him, too, and thought it best To take him home with Him to rest. Sadly missed by his parents, brother and sister.

On The Eisenhower Trail

Brazil's Key Cities Wait Ike's Visit

Americans regard as good neighbors the four countries President Eisenhower will visit in South America, but many Americans' knowledge of these neighbors is limited. To provide a pretour insight into the life of these countries, The Associated Press assigned Ben Bassett, the AP's foreign news editor, to visit all four and write about them. Today's story is about Brazil. Ensuing stories will focus on Argentina, Chile and Uruguay.

By BEN BASSETT

Here below the equator the seasons reverse those in the United States.

This Portuguese-speaking land is first on the tour of four South American nations that Eisenhower starts next week. This is virtually a self-sufficient country, almost as big as the United States but with one-third the population.

Eisenhower will parade into both the main cities, Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, each with a population of about three million. He will be the first U.S. president to visit Brasilia, the nation's new capital.

With only a few thousand persons now, Brasilia is expected some day to surpass half a million. President Juscelino Kubitschek got its construction started in 1956. For many years Brazilians had been planning a new capital away from crowded and often steaming Rio de Janeiro. Kubitschek finally put it over.

Brasilia is a planned city without intersections. It has been cut out of scrubland 600 miles northwest of Rio. Its plateau location gives it an annual temperature range of 35-75.

Two dozen impressive buildings, many of 10 stories, are nearing completion. Other government buildings are to come, along with the stores and movie houses a city must have. The whole arrangement, with buildings that are architecturally akin, wide malls and planned garden areas, gives a feeling of openness and orderliness.

One of the striking buildings already completed is Kubitschek's two - story presidential palace, where Eisenhower spends next Tuesday night. The glass and whitish marble of its walls, set off by reflecting pools and modernistic statuary, are a vast change from the gingerbread-strung palaces that dominate many capitals.

Next day he will fly to Rio, where a million citizens—the Cariocas—likely will cheer him.

It is a cosmopolitan city offering wide contrasts. Squatter settlements, called favelas, dot some of its mountains. Nearby, in skyscrapers, much of the business of Brazil is done. It is a city with touches of Lisbon and Hong Kong, and perhaps a dash of New Orleans.

On his third day in Brazil Eisenhower will fly to Sao Paulo for another "Vive Ike" reception. From the airport he can see a skyline that would make any U.S. Chamber of Commerce drool. This industrial center is in the midst of a building boom. Office buildings and scores of new apartment buildings, of around 15 stories, are going up. The climate is more moderate than Rio's, and the people's energy and drive lead some visitors to call Sao Paulo the Chicago of Brazil.

The white collar worker in Brazil makes about $65 a month. A lot of people meet their bills by working two jobs. For the things in the stores are tempting, and today an ad invites you to fly away on a vacation abroad.

In the years to come many Brazilians may fly now, pay later. That is, unless today's inflationary conditions bring the government to a point where it must impose some of the austerity that neighboring Argentina has put into effect.

Even if that happens, the optimistic Brazilians will make the most of it. Somebody will write a samba.

Newell Pastor To Be Seated

A committee of the Wheeling Presbytery will install the Rev. Charles W. Haddock, new pastor, at services Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Newell.

The program will include the invocation and the Lord's Prayer by the Rev. William L. Claghorn of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Chester, Scripture reading and prayer by the Rev. John J. Bates of the First Presbyterian Church of Follansbee and the sermon by the Rev. G. Ousley Brown of the Cove Presbyterian Church of Weirton.

The charge to the minister and prayer will be given by the Rev. J. Davis Billingworth of the Vance Memorial Presbyterian Church of Wheeling. The charge to the congregation will be by the Rev. William H. Flurkey of the Fairview Presbyterian Church of Pughtown.

Rev. Haddock will give the benediction. Special music will include the prelude, "The Bells of Aberdovey" (Stewart), and the anthem, "Peace I Leave with You" (MacFarland).

A welcome and reception for Rev. Haddock and his family will follow in the social rooms. He preached his first sermon Feb. 7 in the church, succeeding the Rev. Ray Brugler, who took a charge in Ohio over a year ago.

VFW Post To Hold Anniversary Fete

Wellsville Tommy Mackall Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5647 will observe its 14th anniversary with open house Saturday.

Card parties and a dance will be held Saturday night beginning at 10. George Hamilton's orchestra will play.

All past commanders will be honored at a meeting at 8 when the post's progress over the years will be reviewed. Plans for future events will be discussed.

Ten-year pins will be presented those who are eligible and have not received them in the past. Anyone entitled to a pin should contact, Nick Puch, post adjutant.

Emmett Daniels, commander, said 25 paid-up members are needed to reach the 100 per cent figure of last year. He urged all members pay their dues before Feb. 27 so they can be reported at the district conference.

The post now has six life memberships. "Life Membership Month" is being observed by the post and anyone interested may contact the post or its officers.

Gas Fumes Fatal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes from an improperly vented gas heater caused the death here Monday of Charles E. Morris, 62, of Pedro in Lawrence County. The victim died at the home of his son, Charles, 26, whom he had been visiting. The son's wife told authorities that neither she, her husband nor their three small children had noticed any ill effects from the gas.

Miller's 'Stooge,' He Says

Pensioner Cites Deception In Delegate Candidate Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 63-year-old Cleveland pensioner says Ray T. Miller Sr., Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman, "deceived" him into signing up as a delegate candidate to the Democratic national convention.

The pensioner, Harry A. Petrash, said he learned that Miller was using him as a "stooge" and asked that his name be withdrawn, and it apparently was.

Petrash said in a sworn affidavit released by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle that Miller promised him a political job in exchange for allowing his name to be used as a delegate candidate.

Miller said he had talked with Petrash, but he termed "ridiculous" the account of their conversation given by Petrash.

He denied any attempt had been made to get Petrash to run for delegate to the convention or that any offer had been made of a job.

A Miller slate of delegate candidates is nominally pledged to Albert S. Porter, Cuyahoga County engineer, as favorite son for president. The Miller slate is opposed to a slate pledged to Gov. DiSalle for favorite son. Both slates are backing Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) for president.

Although it wasn't in the affidavit, DiSalle said Petrash told him by phone that he also had been offered an all-expense-paid trip to the Democratic national convention.

The governor also mentioned that he had heard rumors of all-expense - paid convention trips being offered to two other district delegate candidates who are running in the May 3 primary election. Last week DiSalle indicated that the two were on the Miller slate.

Petrash's assertion that he was being used as a "stooge" by Miller apparently stems from the fact that one of the DiSalle slate candidates is also named Petrash. The latter is State Sen. Julius J. Petrash, a candidate in Cleveland's 21st Congressional District.

DiSalle said the two Petrashes are not related.

Miller, in fact, has three persons on his slate of delegates with identical last names to those of DiSalle-pledged candidates. Miller has never commented publicly on whether this was just coincidence or done for a purpose.

The "deception" that Petrash talks about in his affidavit apparently refers to what he says was his lack of understanding what he was signing when he put his name on "at least 50" petitions in Miller's office.

Petrash's name does not appear on the Miller slate of delegates filed with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, indicating Petrash's name finally was withdrawn from the slate.

Tom Terrell, deputy clerk of the Board of Elections, said he remembered Petrash being in the office but "I don't remember anything about jobs being mentioned."

Council President Jack P. Russell said he was present when Petrash was there, but "I'm amazed. I never heard of any such thing. Nothing of the kind ever took place in my presence."

PTA Will Sponsor Lessons On Golf

Andy Petrick, golf pro at the Country Club, will be instructor for the 3-hour series of classes from 7 to 10 p. m. in the Lincoln School.

Classes open next Monday night and will continue the next three consecutive Mondays. The remaining five classes will be held on the next successive Thursday nights.

Only 22 will be registered for the series of instructional courses, with a fee of $10.

Registrations are being accepted by Mrs. H. F. Banfield and Mrs. Ray Diddle, ways and means co-chairmen.

Registrations can be made any day this week by calling Mrs. Banfield at FU 5-9669 or Mrs. Diddle at FU 5-5353.

Ohio Airman Killed

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—A Keesler Air Force Base airman was killed Monday when the car in which he was riding crashed into a tree. The victim was Airman 2.C. Leonard Bittner, 21, of Akron, Ohio.

Lions Of Year Award Slated At Club Dinner

Presentation of the "Lion of the Year" award will highlight the Charter Night dinner of the Lions Club Wednesday at the Country Club.

Some 75 are expected to attend the affair starting at 6:30.

The award, voted on secretly by members, will be presented by Charles Heasley, who received the honor in 1958.

Stephen Smith of Canton, deputy governor, will install new members and Charles Schuster, international counselor, also from Canton, will speak on the club's emblem and present service awards.

Leo C. Lawrence will be the toastmaster. Entertainment will be furnished by the Colonials Quartet.

Officials At Midland At Washington Parley

Attending are Burgess Eli G. Corak, Steve Germusa, Council president, Councilmen Joe D'Alesio and Raymond Presutti and Leslie B. Roach and Rudolph Presutti, both municipal Authority members.

Midland's tentative budget adopted at Council meeting Thursday will be available for public inspection for 10 days, starting Friday, in the office of Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary.

Seeks Reserve Centers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has asked the Senate Appropriations Committee to permit it to construct five Army Reserve centers, including one at Marion, Ohio, which would cost an estimated $168,000. Approval of the Senate and House appropriations committees is all that is needed to divert the money from other projects the Defense Department does not consider feasible at this time.

Boy Held Responsible In Midland Auto Death

Bruno Porto Jr., 18, of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 was held responsible by a Beaver County Coroner's jury Saturday in the three-car accident Jan. 30, west of Midland in which an East Liverpool man and his 13-year old cousin from Burgettstown died.

According to the office of District Atty. Richard P. Steward, no charges have been filed against Porto, who is not being held under bond.
